|       |   | (2) | A customer should be treated as having other methods for pursuing a claim for the purposes of $\blacksquare$ CMCOB 4.3.1R(1) if, for example:  |
|       |   |     | (a) the claim is for personal injury and the customer has legal expenses cover under a contract of insurance relating to their car or home and that cover includes legal advice, assistance and representation; or   |
|       |   |     | (b) the customer is entitled to legal advice, assistance and representation by virtue of their membership of a trade union.   |
|       |   | (3) | Where the customer does have other methods for pursuing a claim , the firm should explore whether the customer has investigated whether they might pursue the claim through those methods (for  | instance, by using any advice, assistance and representation available under a contract of insurance or through their trade union membership).

- (4) Where a customer is unable to confirm whether they have other methods for pursuing the claim or is unaware of whether they have suitable cover in place, the firm should advise the customer to check whether they have such cover in place and inform the customer that it is possible to pursue a claim through such alternative arrangements if they are in place.
- (5) Firms are reminded that DISP 1.2.1R(4) requires firms to provide information to eligible complainants, in a clear, comprehensible and easily accessible way, about the Financial Ombudsman Service (including the Financial Ombudsman Service's website address):
  - (a) on the firm's website, where one exists; and
  - (b) if applicable, in the general conditions of the firm's contract with the eligible complainant.
- (1) The firm may need to take additional steps under CMCOB 4.3.1R(3) to ensure that the customer understands the agreement where the customer is one whom the firm understands or reasonably suspects to be vulnerable.
- (2) Customers who have mental health difficulties or mental capacity limitations may fall into the category of particularly vulnerable customers.
