9A.2 Assessing suitability: the obligations

9A.2.1 When providing investment advice or portfolio management a firm must:

(1) obtain the necessary information regarding the client’s:
   (a) knowledge and experience in the investment field relevant to the specific type of financial instrument, insurance-based investment product or service;
   (b) financial situation including his ability to bear losses; and
   (c) investment objectives including his risk tolerance, so as to comply with (2);

(2) only recommend investment services, financial instruments and insurance-based investment products, as applicable, or take decisions to trade, which are suitable for the client and, in particular, in accordance with the client’s risk tolerance and ability to bear losses.

[Note: first paragraph of article 25(2) of MiFID, first paragraph of article 30(1) of the IDD]

9A.2.2 Firms should undertake a suitability assessment not only when making a personal recommendation to buy a financial instrument or an insurance-based investment product but for all decisions whether to trade, including making any personal recommendations about whether or not to buy, hold or sell an investment.

[Note: recital 87 to the MiFID Org Regulation]

9A.2.3 Where a firm providing a portfolio management service makes a recommendation or request, or provides advice, to a client to the effect that the client should give or alter a mandate to the firm that defines the limits of the firm’s discretion, that recommendation, request or advice should be considered a recommendation for the purposes of COBS 9A.2.1R. A firm should therefore undertake a suitability assessment in relation to any such recommendation, request or advice.

[Note: recital 89 to the MiFID Org Regulation]

9A.2.3A When proposing an insurance-based investment product a firm must ensure it is consistent with the client’s insurance demands and needs.

Investments subject to restrictions on retail distribution: MiFID business and insurance-based investment products

9A.2.22 G

(1) Firms should note that restrictions and specific requirements apply to the retail distribution of certain investments:

(a) non-mainstream pooled investments are subject to a restriction on financial promotions (see section 238 of the Act and ■ COBS 4.12);

(b) non-readily realisable securities are subject to a restriction on direct offer financial promotions (see ■ COBS 4.7);

(c) mutual society shares are subject to specific requirements in relation to dealing and arranging activities (see ■ COBS 22.2);

(d) contingent convertible instruments and CoCo funds are subject to a restriction on sales and on promotions (see ■ COBS 22.3);

(e) speculative illiquid securities are subject to a restriction on financial promotions (see ■ COBS 4.14).

(2) A firm should be satisfied that an exemption is available before recommending an investment subject to a restriction on distribution to a retail client, noting in particular that a personal recommendation to invest will generally incorporate a financial promotion.
(3) In addition to assessing whether the promotion is permitted, a firm giving advice on an investment subject to a restriction on distribution should comply with their obligations in COBS 9A and ensure any personal recommendation is suitable for its client.

(4) In considering its obligations under COBS 9A, a firm purchasing an investment subject to a restriction on distribution on behalf of a retail client as part of a discretionary management agreement should exercise particular care to ensure the transaction is suitable and in the client's best interests, having regard to the FCA's view that such investments pose particular risks of inappropriate distribution.

(5) A restriction on promotion does not affect a transaction where there has been no prior communication with the client in connection with the investment by the firm or a person connected to the firm. Nonetheless, if promotion of an investment to a retail client would not have been permitted, then the discretionary manager's decision to purchase it on behalf of the retail client should be supported by detailed and robust justification of his assessment of suitability.

Automated or semi-automated systems: MiFID business

54(1) Where investment advice or portfolio management services are provided in whole or in part through an automated or semi-automated system, the responsibility to undertake the suitability assessment shall lie with the investment firm providing the service and shall not be reduced by the use of an electronic system in making the personal recommendation or decision to trade.

Automated or semi-automated systems: insurance-based investment products

12The insurance intermediary's or insurance undertaking's responsibility to perform the suitability assessment in accordance with COBS 9A.2.1R and COBS 9A.2.16R shall not be reduced due to the fact that advice on insurance-based investment products is provided in whole or in part through an automated or semi-automated system.
