1.2.1 R ...

(3) ...; and

(4) COB does not apply to an authorised professional firm with respect to its non-mainstream regulated activities, except for:

(a) ...

(b) ...

(c) ...; and

(d) the IMD minimum implementation provisions and COB 4.3.19R to 4.3.25R as if they also applied to a firm carrying out the activities in COB 4.3.19R (1)(a)-(c) with or on behalf of private customers, unless:

(i) the designated professional body of the firm has made rules which implement some or all of the provisions of articles 12 and 13 of the IMD;

(ii) those rules have been approved by the FSA under section 332(5) of the Act; and

(iii) the firm is subject to the rules in the form in which they were approved;

in which case they are disapplied to the extent that articles 12 and 13 of the IMD are implemented by the rules of the designated professional body.

1.2.1B G The effect of COB 1.2.1R(4)(d) is that if the relevant designated professional body of an authorised professional firm does not make rules implementing articles 12 and 13 of the IMD applicable to authorised professional firms, those firms will need to comply with:
the IMD minimum implementation provisions; and

(b) COB 4.3.19R to COB 4.3.25R as if they also applied to a firm carrying out the activities in COB 4.3.19R (1)(a)-(c) with or on behalf of private customers.

1.3.3 G (1) The application of many provisions in COB depends on the classification of the client with whom a firm is conducting business. A client must fall within one of three classifications: private customer, intermediate customer or market counterparty. In COB, the term "customer" refers to private customers and intermediate customers, but not market counterparties. The term "client" covers customers and market counterparties. Where relevant, each of the provisions of COB makes clear whether it applies to activities carried on with or for private customers, intermediate customers or both.

1.3.5 G Firms are reminded that the definition of inter-professional business does not include:

(1) ...
(3) ...; or
(4) ...; or
(5) regulated activities relating to life policies.

IMD passported activities

1.4.12R R (1) Notwithstanding COB 1.4.2R, the IMD minimum implementation provisions apply, on the basis outlined in (4), to the passported activities carried on by a UK firm under the IMD from a branch elsewhere in the EEA unless the Host State regulator imposes measures which implement articles 12 and 13 of the IMD for those activities.

(2) Notwithstanding COB 1.4.2R, the provisions in COB which implement articles 12 and 13 of the IMD (including COB 4.3.3R (1)(i) and (ii) (provision of initial disclosure document and fees and commission statement)) do not apply to a UK firm providing cross-border services in another EEA State under the IMD or the Consolidated Life Directive, except that the IMD minimum implementation provisions apply, on the basis outlined in (4), to a UK firm providing cross-border services in another EEA State under the IMD if the Host State regulator does not impose measures which implement the articles for those activities.

(3) In addition to the situation in COB 1.4.3R, the IMD minimum implementation provisions apply to an incoming EEA firm providing cross-border services in the United Kingdom under the IMD unless the firm’s Home State regulator imposes measures which implement the articles for these activities.

(4) The IMD minimum implementation provisions apply to an activity pursuant to this rule as follows:

(a) as outlined in the IMD minimum implementation provisions; and

as if COB 4.3.19R to 4.3.25R also applied to a firm carrying out the activities in COB 4.3.19R (1)(a)-(e) with or on behalf of private customers.

1.4.13 G (1) The IMD minimum implementation provisions are the minimum provisions required for the implementation of articles 12 and 13 of the IMD.

(2) The effect of COB 1.4.12R is to apply these minimum provisions to firms in respect of their insurance mediation activities passported under the IMD if other EEA States have not implemented articles 12 and 13 of the IMD for those activities.

(3) Firms are reminded that insurers have passporting rights under the Consolidated Life Directive but not under the IMD.

Restriction in connection with the sale of packaged products

2.2.5 E (1) A firm should not enter, and should take reasonable steps to ensure that no person acting on its behalf enters, into any of the following arrangements with an independent intermediary another firm in relation to the sale of a packaged product if any commission is required to be disclosed to a customer.

(d) an arrangement to pay commission other than to the firm responsible for the sale, unless:

(i) the firm responsible for the sale has passed on its right to receive the commission to the recipient; or

(ii) another firm has given advice on investments to the same customer after the sale; or

(iii) the firm is a provider firm, the recipient is an independent intermediary and the commission is paid following the sale of a packaged product by the provider firm in response to a direct offer financial promotion communicated by that firm to a customer of the independent intermediary recipient firm.

(1A) COB 2.2.5 E (1) does not apply to arrangements between firms that are in the same immediate group. In this situation COB 5.7.5R will apply.

Financial assistance and product providers

2.2.5A E (1) This evidential provision applies in relation to a holding in, or the provision of credit to, a firm which holds itself out as giving advice on investments to private customers on packaged products except where the relevant transaction is between persons who are in the same immediate group.

(2) A product provider should not take any step which would result in it:

(a) having a direct or indirect holding in a firm in (1) of its capital or voting power; or

(b) providing credit to a firm in (1) (other than commission due from the firm to the product provider in accordance with an indemnity commission clawback arrangement).

(3) A firm in (1) should not take any step which would result in a product provider having a holding as in (2)(a) or providing credit as in (2)(b), unless all the conditions in (4) are satisfied.

(4) The conditions referred to in (3) are that:

(a) the holding is acquired, or credit is provided, on commercial terms; that is terms objectively comparable to those on which an independent person unconnected to a product provider would, taking into account all relevant circumstances, be willing to acquire the holding or provide credit;

(b) the firm (or, if applicable, each of the firms) taking the step has reliable written evidence that (a) is satisfied;

(c) there are no arrangements, in connection with the holding or credit, relating to the channelling of business from the firm in (1) to the product provider; and

(d) the product provider is not able, and none of its associates is able, because of the holding or credit, to exercise any influence over the advice on investments in relation to packaged products given by the firm.

(5) In this evidential provision, in applying (2) and (3) any holding of, or credit provided by, a product provider’s associate is to be regarded as held by, or provided by, that product provider.

(6) In this evidential provision, in applying (3) references to a "product provider" are to be taken as including an unauthorised equivalent of a product provider; that is, an unauthorised insurance undertaking or an unauthorised operator of a regulated collective investment scheme or of an investment trust savings scheme.

(7) Contravention of (2) or (3) may be relied upon as tending to establish contravention of COB 2.2.3R.

Packaged products: guidance on indirect benefits

2.2.6 G (-2) To comply with COB 2.2.3R, neither a product provider nor any of its associates should give, and a firm should not receive from such persons, any indirect benefit, if the benefit is likely to conflict to a material extent with any duty owed by the receiving firm when giving advice on investments to private customers on packaged products. Such conflicts may arise, for example, where the gift might induce material bias as regards:

(a) the choice of product provider whose products are recommended; or

(b) the type of product which is recommended.

(-1) The guidance in COB 2.2.7 G is not relevant to indirect benefits which may be given by a product provider or its associate to its own representatives.

(1) The FSA will not regard a firm as being in contravention of COB 2.2.3R if it gives or receives gifts, hospitality and promotional competition prizes of a reasonable value, any of the following indirect benefits, providing they do not conflict with the duties that the recipient owes to his customers.

(a) gifts, hospitality and promotional competition prizes of a reasonable value;

(b) business leads channelled toward a particular independent intermediary provided that the independent intermediary is an associate and complies with the requirements of COB 5.3.95R (Requirement for suitability: independent intermediary);

(c) assistance in conducting the Review of past business in pension transfers and opt outs.

(2) A product provider may assist an independent intermediary another firm to promote its packaged products so that the quality of their service to customers is enhanced. Such assistance should not be of a kind or value that is likely to impair an independent intermediary’s ability to act independently, pay due regard to the interests of its customers, and to give advice on, and recommend, packaged products available from the market as a whole recipient firm’s whole range or ranges of packaged products. The independent intermediary recipient firm should be mindful of the requirements of COB 5.3.95R (Requirement for suitability: independent intermediaries generally).

(4) COB 2.2.6G does not apply to indirect benefits provided by a firm to another firm that is in the same immediate group. In this situation COB 5.7.5R will apply.

party and may pay toward the cost of the seminar, if:

(a) its participation is for a genuine business purpose;

Technical services and information

6 A provider firm product provider or its associate may supply a 'freephone' link to which it is connected only if it is available to independent intermediaries other firms generally.

7 A provider firm product provider or its associate may supply an independent intermediary another firm with any of the following:

(a) quotations and projections relating to its packaged products and, in relation to specific investment transactions (or for the purpose of any scheme for review of past business), advice on the completion of forms or other documents;

(b) access to data processing facilities, or access to data, that is related to the product provider's firm's business;

(c) access to third party electronic dealing or quotation systems that are related to the provider firm's product provider's business; and

(d) software that gives information about the product provider's firm's packaged products or which is appropriate to its business (for example, for use in a scheme for review of past business or for producing projections or technical product information).

7A A product provider may pay cash amounts or give other assistance to a firm not in the same immediate group for the development of software or other computer facilities necessary to operate software supplied by the product provider, but only to the extent that by doing so it will generate equivalent cost savings to itself or consumers.

8 A provider firm product provider or its associate may supply a broker fund adviser (and its customer) with a periodic statement relating to the relevant broker fund if the broker fund adviser is unable to supply the periodic statement.

9 A provider firm product provider or its associate may supply an independent intermediary another firm with information about sources of mortgage finance.

10 A provider firm product provider or its associate may supply an independent intermediary another firm with generic technical information in writing, not necessarily related to the product provider's firm's business, when this information:

| (a) | is made available generally to independent intermediaries other firms which give or might give advice on the product provider's packaged products; or |
| (b) (i) | is of a specialist nature and is made available to a particular class of independent intermediary firm (that is, one that promotes itself as an expert in the same specialist area); and |
| (i) | states clearly and prominently that it is produced by the product provider or (if different) supplying firm. |

Training

11 A provider firm product provider or its associate may provide an independent intermediary another firm with training facilities of any kind (for example, lectures, venue, written material and software) only if these are made available generally to all independent intermediaries other firms which give or might give advice on the product provider's packaged products.

Travel and accommodation expenses

12 A provider firm product provider or its associate may reimburse an independent intermediary another firm's reasonable travel and accommodation expenses when the independent intermediary other firm:

| (a) | participates in market research conducted by or for the product provider firm; |
| (b) | attends an annual national event of a UK trade association, hosted or co-hosted by the product provider firm; |
| (c) | participates in the product provider's firm's training facilities (see 11); |
| (d) | visits the product provider's firm's UK office in order to: |
| (i) | receive information about the product provider's firm's administrative systems; or |
| (ii) | attend a meeting with the product provider firm and an existing or prospective customer of the independent intermediary receiving firm. |

(2) Financial promotions may be communicated, for example, by means of:

...

(e) written correspondence, telephone calls and face to face discussions including by advisers representatives;

3.2.8 G ...

(2) Firms are reminded that if in the course of making a financial promotion of any kind an adviser (independent or tied) a representative gives specific advice on investments to a private customer about the suitability of a product for that individual, the adviser representative in giving the advice advice on investments is subject to the rules, as appropriate, on advising and selling in COB 5.

3.8.19 R (1) A firm must not communicate or approve a specific non-real time financial promotion containing or offering advice on investments on packaged products unless the promotion discloses information to show whether the scope of the advice on investments which is given or offered is or will be based upon a selection of products from:

(a) the whole market (or from the whole of a named sector of the market); or

(b) a limited number of product providers; or

(c) a single product provider.

(2) A firm must not communicate or approve a specific non-real time financial promotion offering packaged products produced by a person, A:

(a) that holds out any person other than A as the packaged product's producer; or
(b) that does or says anything which might reasonably lead a private customer to be mistaken as to the identity of the product's producer; or

(c) in which the prominence of A's brand is less than that of other brands included in the promotion.

4.3 Disclosing information about services, fees and commission - packaged products

Application

4.3.1 R COB 4.3 applies:

(1) to a firm when carrying on with or for private customers any of the following in relation to packaged products:

(a) advising on investments; or
(b) dealing as agent; or
(c) arranging;

(2) to a firm, other than an insurer, that carries on in relation to a life policy any of the activities in (1) with or for an intermediate customer or a market counter-party.
Disclosure to private customers on first making contact

4.3.3 R  (1) (a) A firm must take reasonable steps to ensure that its representatives on first making contact with a private customer with a view to:

(i) advising on investments on packaged products; or
(ii) dealing as agent in packaged products; or
(iii) arranging;

provide the customer, in a durable medium, with information concerning:

(b) (i) the firm and the scope of and nature of its services (an initial disclosure document); and
(ii) where (a) applies, the firm’s arrangements for charging and receiving fees and commission (a fees and commission statement);

in both cases being information which the firm reasonably considers will be, or is likely to be, appropriate for the customer having regard to the type of service which the firm may provide or business which the firm may conduct.

(2) A firm must also provide a private customer with an initial disclosure document if, in relation to the amendment of a life policy for that private customer, it:

(a) advises on investments on packaged products; or
(b) deals as agent in packaged products; or
(c) arranges.

(3) (a) The requirements in (1) and (2) do not apply:

(i) to the extent that the appropriate information has already been given to the customer on a previous occasion and that information is still likely to be accurate and appropriate for the customer; or

(ii) if COB 4.3.16R (initial contact by telephone) applies; or

(iii) to a firm when it carries out an execution only transaction in non-life packaged products; or

(iv) to an insurer for those customers in respect of which it is not advising on investments.
A firm that reasonably expects it will not be advising on investments in respect of products falling within any of the product groups set out in Note 14 to COB 4 Annex 6R does not have to comply with the requirements in (1)(b)(ii) but if it does advise on investments on these products the rules will apply to the firm in respect of the fees and commission statement as if it was required by (1)(b)(ii) to provide the statement.

The requirements in (1) and (2) will apply to:

(a) a firm that is acting as a discretionary investment manager for private customers; or

(b) a firm which is effecting execution-only transactions in packaged products for private customers; only if the firm is carrying on an insurance mediation activity in relation to life policies for those private customers, in which case the requirements in (1) and (2) will only apply to the extent of requiring the firm to provide those private customers with an initial disclosure document.

A firm which acts for a private customer under a non-discretionary management agreement need not comply with the requirements in (1) above to provide an initial disclosure document or a fees and commission statement if the following are satisfied:

(a) the firm is remunerated by the customer by the payment of a fee; and

(b) the agreement provides that the firm may recommend securities as well as packaged products for inclusion in the customer's portfolio and that in respect of packaged products the firm will make selections from the whole market;

but such a firm must, if it is carrying on an insurance mediation activity for a private customer in relation to life policies, comply with the requirements in (1) as to the provision of an initial disclosure document to the private customer.

A firm which is required in accordance with this rule to provide an initial disclosure document to a private customer may instead provide the customer with a combined initial disclosure document if it has reasonable grounds to be satisfied that the services which it is likely to provide to the customer will, in addition to packaged products, relate to one or more of the following:

(a) regulated mortgage contracts;

(b) regulated lifetime mortgage contracts;

(c) non-investment insurance contracts.

The information contained in the initial disclosure document may be provided orally if a firm has not made a personal recommendation to a private customer, and:

(a) the customer requests it; or

(b) immediate cover is necessary;

but in both cases the firm must provide the initial disclosure document immediately after the conclusion of the contract, in a durable medium.
4.3.4 For certain types of life policies, such as annuities, it is customary for a customer to contact various firms for quotations which he can then compare. In these circumstances, it is not necessary for the firm to give an initial disclosure document (COB 4.3.3R(1)(i)) at the time that the quotation is provided, if the quotation cannot be accepted (and a contract cannot be formed) without the firm obtaining further information from the customer.

Provision of fees and commission statement on request

4.3.5 A firm must take reasonable steps to ensure that it provides a private customer with an appropriate fees and commission statement whenever requested to do so.

Firms which charge fees

4.3.6 (1) A firm must before starting to act for a private customer on the basis of a fee charging arrangement:

(a) secure the customer's agreement to the particular rate or amount which the firm will charge for its services; and

(b) provide the customer with a record in a durable medium of the particular fee charging arrangement which will apply unless the firm starts to act for the private customer during a telephone call, in which case this record must be forwarded to the customer on conclusion of the call.

(2) A firm which charges a private customer a fee must do so on the basis that it will, in respect of any commission which it receives in respect of transactions in packaged products for that customer (and to which the particular fee charging arrangement relates), ensure the value of that commission is transferred to the customer by one or more of the following:

(a) reducing the amount of its fee;

(b) arranging for the amount invested by the customer to be increased; or

(c) refunding the amount of the commission to the customer;

except that this does not prohibit such a firm from agreeing with the customer (in writing) that it will retain an amount or rate of trail or renewal commission up to an amount each year specified in the agreement and so small, relative to the overall amount of fees paid by the customer, that it would be manifestly disproportionate for the firm to be required to account to the customer in one of the ways outlined in (a) to (c).

Ongoing disclosure

4.3.7 (1) A firm which has started to provide a private customer with services in relation to packaged products following the provision of a fees and commission statement must not (at least until the completion of those services):

(a) increase the rate or amount of the fees it is charging the customer; or

(b) subject to (4), arrange to retain any commission which exceeds the maximum amount or rate disclosed in the statement;

without first providing a further appropriate statement and obtaining the customer's prior consent to the proposed alteration in a durable medium.
(2) A firm which in accordance with (1) secures a private customer's agreement to retain an increased rate or amount of commission must ensure that, if it subsequently provides the customer with a suitability letter, it includes an explanation of why it was necessary for the firm to recommend a packaged product in respect of which the firm will retain such higher commission or fees.

(3) If a firm decides to provide a private customer with advice on investments on a type of packaged product (which falls within a product group specified in Note 14 to COB 4, Annex 6R) in relation to which the fees and commission statement previously given to the customer does not contain the information required in Note 14 to COB 4, Annex 6R, it must issue a new and appropriate statement to that customer.

(4) (a) Notwithstanding (1)(b) a firm is not required to provide a further fees and commission statement for the purposes of (1) if:

(i) the maximum amounts or rates disclosed in the statement already provided to the customer only apply to policies of the example term or age of policyholder given in the fees and commission statement or to policies with shorter terms; and

(ii) the firm arranges a policy for a term longer than the example term in the statement (or longer than the term deemed for the example age given) and the increase in the commission which the firm arranges to retain over the maximum disclosed in the statement is not more than an amount that is directly proportional to the increase in the duration of the term of the policy (or to the term deemed from the age of policyholder).

(b) If requested by a customer, a firm must explain the basis of the higher maximum commission or fees charged in accordance with (4)(a)(ii).

4.3.8 G

(1) COB 4.3.7R (4) is intended to allow firms to arrange policies for a longer term than that given as the example in the fees and commission statement without requiring any further disclosure but only if the commissions the firm arranges to retain are directly proportional to the maximum commissions disclosed in the statement having regard to the duration of the policy. For example, if the statement disclosed a maximum commission of 10% on a 10 year policy, then on a 20 year policy the maximum commission the firm could arrange to retain is 20% without further disclosure.

(2) The maximum commissions that apply to policies of a particular term also apply as the relevant maxima for policies with a shorter duration. The rule is of no application in circumstances where a firm arranges to retain commission exceeding the maximum disclosed in the fees and commission statement if the policy arranged has a term shorter than the example given in the statement.

(3) Long-term care and whole of life policies, for which the example given in the fees and commission statement refers to the age of the policyholder, are deemed to have a term equal to the difference between the age of the policyholder (at the time that the policy is taken out) and the age of 85.
4.3.9 R (1) An initial disclosure document must contain the keyfacts logo, headings and text in the order shown in COB 4, Annex 4R and in accordance with the Notes.

(2) A combined initial disclosure document must contain the keyfacts logo, headings and text in the order shown in COB 4, Annex 5R and in accordance with the Notes.

(3) If a private customer so requests, a firm should be able to provide an explanation of the basis on which it has chosen to market the particular packaged products within the range from which advice on investments will be given to that customer including an explanation of why the firm has selected particular product providers.

(4) Information given in the initial disclosure information about compensation arrangements made by an investment firm must:
   (a) (if it relates to the activities of an establishment in the United Kingdom) be in English; or
   (b) (if it relates to the activities of a branch in another EEA State) be in an official language of that EEA State.

(5) Information given in the initial disclosure information about the insurance mediation activities of a firm must be in English, unless the customer requests it to be, and the firm agrees to it being, in another language.

4.3.10 G Firms can obtain from the FSA website http://www.fsa.gov.uk a specimen of the initial disclosure document. Subject to COB 4.3.9R, a firm may produce its initial disclosure document by using its own house style and brand.

Fees and commission statement

4.3.11 R (1) A fees and commission statement must contain the keyfacts logo, heading and text in the order shown in COB 4, Annex 6R and in accordance with the Notes.

(2) A firm must maintain as many versions of the fees and commission statement set out at COB 4 Annex 6R as are appropriate to the different bases on which it may conduct business with private customers:
   (a) fee only (version 1);
   (b) commission (or equivalent) only (version 2);
   (c) fee or commission (or equivalent) (version 3);
   (d) fee or commission (or equivalent); or combination of commission (or equivalent) and fee (version 4);
   (e) commission (or equivalent); or combination of commission (or equivalent) and fee (version 5);
   (f) fee; or combination of commission (or equivalent) and fee (version 6).

(3) A firm must keep its fees and commission statements up to date and keep a record of each statement for a period of six years from the date on which it was updated or replaced.
A firm must maintain a record of each particular fees and commission statement which it provides to a private customer (other than when given merely in response to a request).

4.3.12 G Where, as envisaged in COB 4.3.5R, a firm is asked to provide a fees and commission statement by a person with whom the firm has had no prior contact it may provide the fees and commission statement which is appropriate for its typical or most prevalent customer type and the business it conducts with them.

4.3.13 G (1) COB 4.3.11 requires a firm to maintain statements showing the amount it may charge its customers by way of fees, or which it may receive from others by way of commission, in either case in respect of services it provides in relation to the sale of packaged products. Consistent with COB 5.1 and COB 5.5 the basis on which a firm may provide such services may differ from customer to customer (for example as to whether the firm will select from the whole market, or a limited number of product providers).

(2) A firm may maintain more than one version of the fees and commission statement but if it does, it must take reasonable steps to ensure that the statement provided to each customer in their initial contact is consistent with the description of the services given to the customer in the firm's initial disclosure document (as required by COB 4.3.3R) and with the record of the range of packaged products which the firm has supplied to the customer or which it would supply on request to the customer in accordance with COB 4.3.15R.

(3) If a firm alters the nature of the services it provides for any customer then it may also change the basis or amount by which it will be remunerated whether by fees or commission. A firm proposing to make such a change should first provide the customer with a new fees and commission statement and explain its proposed altered basis for charging and receiving commission and seek the customer's consent to proceeding on that basis. A firm may when conducting further and separate services with a customer seek to do so on the basis of different arrangements for its remuneration.

Record for distribution of range of packaged products

4.3.14 R A firm which operates with a range (or ranges) of packaged products must produce in a durable medium, and in a form which is appropriate for distribution to private customers, the record of its range (or ranges) of packaged products which it maintains for the purposes of COB 5.1.6AR (1).

4.3.15 R A firm must take reasonable steps to ensure that its representatives provide a copy of the appropriate range of packaged products on the request of a private customer having regard to the services it is providing or may provide to the customer.

keyfacts information, terms of business and telephone sales

4.3.16 G (1) COB 4.3.17R and 4.3.18R enable provision by a firm of an initial disclosure document to a private customer to be taken as compliance also with analogous information provision requirements contained in COB 4.2 (Terms of business and client agreements with customers).
(2) In cases where firms make initial contact with a customer on the telephone a firm may, in addition, have to take into account and comply with the additional requirements applicable to the conclusion of distance contracts. COB 4.3.18R expands on the items of information which a firm is required to give in accordance with COB 4, Annex 1R so that where the firm expects to conduct business relating to packaged products adequate information is given during the telephone call about the nature and scope of the services which the firm will or may provide.

4.3.17 R (1) A firm which complies with COB 4.3.3R will, in respect of any requirement imposed by COB 4.2 as to the delivery or content of information to be included in its terms of business, be regarded as complying with any such analogous requirement.

(2) Any information required by COB 4.2 which is not covered by (1) may be satisfied by it being included at the end of an initial disclosure document which is given to a private customer in accordance with COB 4.3.3R or, if provided at the same time, by way of separate items of information.

4.3.18 R (1) Where a firm's initial contact with a private customer (for a purpose set out in COB 4.3.3R) is by telephone then the following information must be provided and requirements satisfied before proceeding further:

(a) the name of the firm and, if the call is initiated by or on behalf of a firm, the commercial purpose of the call;

(b) whether the firm offers packaged products from the whole market or from a limited number of companies or from a single company or single group of companies;

(c) whether the firm will provide the customer with advice on investments on packaged products;

(d) if the firm does not offer products from the whole market, that the customer can request a copy of the appropriate range of packaged products;

(e) whether the firm offers a fee based service, a commission based service, a service based on a combination of fee and commission, or a combination of these three types of services, and the consequences for the customer of proceeding with each type of service;

(f) that the information given under (a) to (e) will subsequently be confirmed in writing.

(2) A firm which complies with (1) will, subject to (3), satisfy the condition set out in item (1) of COB 4, Annex 1R.

(3) If during the course of a telephone call a firm is to conclude a contract (whether for the provision of a mediation services and/or for the purchase or sale of a packaged product), it must as well as complying with (1) and (2) above satisfy the requirement in COB 4.2.5R and COB 4, Annex 1R.

(4) If a firm's initial contact with a private customer by telephone is such that COB 4.3.3R (other than COB 4.3.3R(2)(a)(ii)) applies then, subject to any relevant exclusions, it must send the customer an initial disclosure document and a fees and commission statement as soon as is reasonably practicable following the conclusion of the call.
Intermediate customers and market counterparties (and private customers who are introduced): disclosure before conclusion of the contract or immediately after conclusion of the contract

4.3.19 R (1) COB 4.3.20R to 4.3.25R apply to a firm, other than an insurer, when it conducts any of the following in relation to life policies with or for an intermediate customer or a market counterparty:

(a) advising on investments; or
(b) dealing; or
(c) arranging

(2) COB 4.3.26R (disclosure by introducers) applies to a firm:

(a) when it introduces a private customer to another firm;
(b) other than an insurer when it introduces an intermediate customer or market counterparty to another firm.

4.3.20 R (1) The information in COB 4.3.21R must be provided to the client in a durable medium at any time before conclusion of the contract, and if necessary upon amendment or renewal thereof, unless (2) or (4) applies.

(2) The information in COB 4.3.21R:

(a) may be provided orally if:

(i) the client requests this; or
(ii) the client requires immediate cover;

(b) need not be provided before conclusion of the contract if the contract is concluded by telephone, but if the client is a retail customer the requirements in COB 4.2.5R and COB 4, Annex 1R must be satisfied.

(3) If (2) applies, the client must be provided with the information in COB 4.3.21R in a durable medium immediately after the conclusion of the contract.

(4) The requirements in (1) do not apply to the extent that the information has already been given to the client on a previous occasion and that information is still likely to be accurate and up to date.

Note 3 – insert the firm's or appointed representative's name (either the name under which it is authorised or the name under which it trades). A corporate logo or logos may be included.

Note 4 – if an individual who is employed or engaged by an appointed representative provides the information, the individual should not put his or her own name on the IDD.

Note 5 – insert the head office or if more appropriate the principal place of business from which the firm or appointed representative expects to conduct business (this can include a branch) with customers. (An appointed representative must not include the name and address of the authorised firm instead of its own.)

Section 2: Whose products do we offer?

Note 6 – The firm must select, for example by ticking, one box which is appropriate for the service which it expects to provide to the customer. This needs to be done only in relation to the service it is offering to a particular customer.

Note 6A – if a firm indicates that it will be providing basic advice on stakeholder products then the first box in section 2 must not be ticked as the firm will not be doing so on the basis of advice on investments from the whole market.

Note 7 - if the IDD is provided by an appointed representative, the service described must be that offered by the appointed representative, in accordance with COB 5.

Note 8 – insert “can” if the firm’s range of products is determined by any contractual obligation. This does not apply where a product provider, insurer, lender or company is selling its own products.

Note 9 – if the firm selects this box, it will be offering the products of one provider to the customer. It should therefore follow the format specified in (1) below except when offering its own products, in which case it should follow (2) instead. If the firm does not select this box, then the text must follow that set out in Note 12 below.

1. Insert the name of the provider. For example: "We can only offer products from [name of product provider]". If the provider has only one product, the firm must amend the text to the singular – for example: "We can only offer a pension from [name of lender]".
(2) If the firm is a product provider offering only its own products, or is part of a product provider offering only the products sold under that part’s trading name, it should use this alternative text.

Note 11 – this sentence is required only where a firm selects this service option. The list of products will be the range of packaged products that is appropriate having regard to the services that the firm is providing, or may provide, to the customer. For services provided in relation to non-investment insurance contracts, this is the list required by ICOB 4.2.14R.

Note 12 – if the firm does not select this box, it must alter the wording to say "a single group of companies". For example: "We only offer the products from a single group of companies" should replace the text in the specimen IDD.

Section 4: What will you have to pay us for our services?

Note 13 – firms are only required to provide a private customer with an appropriate keyfacts guide 'about the costs of our services' (i.e. a menu) if they propose to give that customer advice on investments on packaged products. Where a firm is not required to provide that customer with a menu because the firm does not intend to give him advice on investments on packaged products, then it should tick the second box in section 4.

Section 5: Who regulates us?

Note 14 – the firm may omit this section for services relating to packaged products if the firm has, on first contact with the customer, provided the customer with its terms of business which contains that information including the firm’s permitted business. If this section is omitted, the other sections of the IDD must be renumbered accordingly.

Note 15 – if the firm’s address on the FSA Register differs from that given on the IDD under note 5, the address on the FSA Register must be given in this section. If the address is the same as that given under note 5 it should be repeated in this section.

Note 16 – where the authorised firm trades under a different name from that under which it is authorised, it must include the name under which it is authorised and listed in the FSA Register. It may also include its trading name(s) if it wishes.

Note 17 - an incoming EEA firm will need to modify this section if it chooses to use this IDD (see GEN 4 Ann 1R(2)).

Note 18 – insert a short, plain language description of the business for which the firm has a permission which relates to the service it is providing.

Note 19 – where the information is provided by an appointed representative, the appointed representative must use this text instead. The appointed representative must give details of the authorised firm(s) that is its principal(s) for each type of service that it is providing to a particular customer.

Section 6: Loans and ownership
Note 20 – omit this section where there are no relevant loan or ownership arrangements under the following notes. If this section is omitted the other sections of the IDD must be renumbered accordingly. Where the information is provided by an appointed representative, it must cover loans made to or by that appointed representative, or holdings in or held by that appointed representative, as appropriate.

Note 21 – insert, in the firm’s own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of the firm which is held by a provider of packaged products or by the parent of the provider.

Note 22 – insert, in the firm’s own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of a provider of packaged products which is held by the firm.

Note 23 – insert, in the firm’s own words, a short description of any credit provided to the firm by a product provider (other than commission due to the firm in accordance with an indemnity claw-back arrangement) or by any undertaking in the immediate group of the product provider where the amount of the credit exceeds 10 per cent of the share and loan capital of the firm.

Section 7: What to do if you have a complaint

Note 24 - if different to the address in note 5, give the address and telephone number which is to be used by customers wishing to complain.

Note 25 – if the firm is carrying on an activity from an establishment which is outside the United Kingdom it must make clear that the Financial Ombudsman Service will not be available. The firm may refer to any similar complaints scheme that may be applicable.

Section 8: Are we covered by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS)?

Note 26 – when an incoming EEA firm provides the CIDD, it must modify this section as appropriate.

Note 26A - when a firm which is not a participant firm provides the CIDD, it must answer this question 'No' and should state the amount of cover provided (if any) and from whom further information about the compensation arrangements may be obtained.
1. Firms should omit the notes, asterisks and square brackets which appear in the following specimen.

This specimen covers services in relation to packaged products, non-investment insurance contracts and regulated mortgage contracts (including regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and home reversion schemes). If the firm is only providing services in relation to two types of these products, the parts of the CIDD that are not relevant must be omitted. Firms must omit the notes and square brackets that appear in the following CIDD. The CIDD must contain the keyfacts logo, headings and text in the order shown and in accordance with the notes.

Message from the Financial Services Authority
Think carefully about this information before deciding whether you want to go ahead.
If you are at all unsure about which lifetime mortgage or home reversion scheme is right for you, you should ask your adviser to make a recommendation.

Please remember that home reversion schemes are not regulated by the FSA.
The following notes do not form part of the CIDD.

Note 1 – subject to this, a firm may use its own house style and brand.

Note 2 – the Financial Services Authority has developed a common key facts logo to be used on significant pieces of information directed to customers. The key facts logo and the text 'about our services' must be used and positioned as shown in the CIDD. The logo may be re-sized, but it must be reasonably prominent and its proportions must not be distorted. When reproducing the logo, firms may use colour providing this does not diminish the prominence of the logo. A specimen of the key facts logo can be obtained from the FSA website http://www.fsa.gov.uk/pubs/other/keyfacts_logo.

Note 3 – insert the firm's or appointed representative's name (either the name under which it is authorised or the name under which it trades). A corporate logo or logos may be included.

Note 4 – if an individual who is employed or engaged by an appointed representative provides the information, the individual should not put his or her own name on the CIDD.

Note 5 – insert the head office or if more appropriate the principal place of business from which the firm or appointed representative expects to conduct business (this can include a branch) with customers. (An appointed representative must not include the name and address of the authorised firm instead of its own.)

Section 2: Whose products do we offer?

Note 6 – for services in relation to packaged products and regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and home reversion schemes the firm must select, for example by ticking, one box which is appropriate for the service which it expects to provide to the customer. For services in relation to non-investment insurance contracts, the firm must select more than one box if the scope of the service or the type of service it provides to a particular customer varies by type of contract. For example, if it deals with a single insurance undertaking for motor insurance and a range of insurance undertakings for household insurance or if it provides advice on some types of contract but not others. In the case where more than one box is selected, the firm should specify which box relates to which type of non-investment insurance contract, by adding text to the CIDD. This needs to be done only in relation to the service it is offering to a particular customer.

Note 6A – if a firm indicates that it will be providing basic advice on stakeholder products then the first box in section 2 must not be ticked as the firm will not be doing so on the basis of advice on investments from the whole market.

Note 7 - if the CIDD is provided by an appointed representative, the service described must be that offered by the appointed representative, in accordance with COB 5, ICOB 4.2.8R note 1(e) and MCOB 4.3.10R.

Note 8 – insert “can” if the firm's range of products is determined by any contractual obligation. This does not apply where a product provider, insurer, lender or company is selling its own products.

Note 9 – if the insurance intermediary deals with a different insurance undertaking for different types of non-investment insurance contracts, it should identify all the insurance undertakings and specify the type of contract to which they relate on the CIDD. This only needs to be done in relation to the service it is offering a particular customer. For example, “we can only offer products from ABC Insurance for motor insurance and XYZ Insurance for household insurance”.

Note 10 – if the firm selects this box, it will be offering the products of one provider to the customer for a particular product type. It should therefore follow the format specified in (1) below except when offering its own products, in which case it should follow (2) instead. In the case of non-investment insurance contracts, where the firm is providing a service in relation to different types of insurance, this box covers the situation where it is offering a particular type of insurance from a single insurance undertaking. If the firm does not select this box, then the text must follow that set out in note 13 below.

(1) Insert the name of the provider, namely the product provider for packaged products, the insurance undertaking(s) for non-investment insurance contracts, the lender for regulated mortgage contracts and regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and the company for home reversion schemes. For example: "We can only offer products from [name of product provider]". For non-investment insurance contracts the type of insurance offered should also be included. For example: "We only offer XYZ's household insurance and ABC's motor insurance." If the provider has only one product, the firm must amend the text to the singular – for example: "We can only offer a mortgage from [name of lender]". If the firm does not offer all of the mortgages or home reversion schemes generally available from that provider, it must insert the words "a limited range of" as shown in the specimen.

(2) If the firm is a product provider offering only its own products, or is part of a product provider offering only the products sold under that part's trading name, it should use this alternative text.

Note 11 – for services provided in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and home reversion schemes, this sentence is required only where a firm selects this service option. It may also be omitted if a firm chooses to list all of the lenders it offers mortgages from instead of the text "a limited number of lenders", in the previous line, so long as the firm offers all of the products generally available from each lender.

Note 12 – this sentence is required only where a firm selects this service option. For services provided in relation to packaged products, the list of products will be the range of packaged products that is appropriate having regard to the services that the firm is providing, or may provide, to the customer. For services provided in relation to non-investment insurance contracts, this is the list required by ICOB 4.2.14R.

Note 13 – if the firm does not select this box, it must alter the wording to say "a single group of companies" for packaged products, "a single insurer" for non-investment insurance contracts, "a single lender" for regulated mortgage contracts or regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and "a single company" for home reversion schemes. For example: "We only offer the products from a single group of companies" should replace the text in the specimen CIDD.

Note 14 – change “mortgage” to “lifetime mortgage” where the firm sells only regulated lifetime mortgage contracts. Firms must insert the text relating to home reversion schemes and change “mortgage” to “product” and “lender” to “company” if they advise or give personalised information on home reversion schemes in addition to advising on investments or giving personalised information on regulated lifetime mortgage contracts.

Section 4: What will you have to pay us for our services?
Note 15 – firms are only required to provide a private customer with an appropriate keyfacts guide "about the cost of our services" (i.e. a menu) if they propose to give that customer advice on investments on packaged products. Where a firm is not required to provide that customer with a menu because the firm does not intend to give him advice on investments on packaged products, then it should tick the second box in section 4.

Note 16 – if the customer will be charged a fee for insurance mediation activities in connection with non-investment insurance contracts, insert a plain language description of what each fee is for and when each fee is payable. This should include any fees for advising on or arranging a non-investment insurance contract and any fees over the life of the contract, for example, for mid-term adjustments. If a firm does not charge a fee the text in the first box should be abbreviated to 'A fee'. If the firm is offering more than one type of service in connection with non-investment insurance contracts, the firm may aggregate the fees over all the services provided, and (if that is the case) identify the services for which there is no fee.

Note 17 – if the firm receives commission instead of, or in addition to, fees from the customer for services relating to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes, it must insert a plain language explanation of this (see specimen for a plain language example). If the firm will pay over to the customer any commission the firm receives, it may refer to that fact here.

Note 18 – insert a plain language description of when any fees are payable for services relating to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes. This description could include, for example, a cash amount, a percentage of the loan or reversion amount or the amount per hour, as appropriate. However, where a cash amount is not disclosed, one or more examples of the cash amount must be included. If a firm offers more than one pricing option, it may illustrate each with a separate box. If a firm does not charge a fee, the text for the second box should be abbreviated to 'A fee'.

Note 19 – omit this part of the CIDD on ‘Refund of fees’ if the firm has indicated that there will be “No fee” for services in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes or that any fee will be payable only if the product completes.

Note 20 – firms may select as many boxes as appropriate.

Note 21 – insert a short, plain language description of the circumstances in which the fee for services in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes is refundable or not refundable as described.

Note 22 – a firm may delete this line if it does not offer a partial refund for services in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes in any circumstances.

Section 5: Who regulates us?

Note 23 – the firm may omit this section for services relating to packaged products if the firm has, on first contact with the customer, provided the customer with its terms of business which contains that information including the firm’s permitted business. This section may be omitted for services relating to non-investment insurance contracts if the firm provides the information covered by this section where it is required by ICOB 4.2.8R to the customer by some other means. This section may be omitted for services relating to regulated mortgage contracts (including regulated lifetime mortgage contracts) and home reversion schemes in accordance with MCOB 4.4.1R(3). If this section is omitted, the other sections of the CIDD must be renumbered accordingly.
Note 24 – if the firm’s address on the FSA Register differs from that given on the CIDD under note 5, the address on the FSA Register must be given in this section. If the address is the same as that given under note 5 it should be repeated in this section.

Note 25 – where the authorised firm trades under a different name from that under which it is authorised, it must include the name under which it is authorised and listed in the FSA Register. It may also include its trading name(s) if it wishes.

Note 26 – an incoming EEA firm will need to modify this section if it chooses to use this CIDD (see GEN 4 Ann 1R(2)).

Note 27 – insert a short, plain language description of the business for which the firm has a permission which relates to the service it is providing.

Note 28 – where the information is provided by an appointed representative, the appointed representative must use this text instead. The appointed representative must give details of the authorised firm(s) that is its principal(s) for each type of service that it is providing to a particular customer.

Section 6: Loans and ownership

Note 29 – omit this section where there are no relevant loan or ownership arrangements under the following notes or if the firm is an insurer selling its own non-investment insurance contracts. If this section is omitted the other sections of the CIDD must be renumbered accordingly. If the firm is not providing services in relation to packaged products, the heading of this section must be changed to 'Ownership'. Where the information is provided by an appointed representative, it must cover loans made to or by that appointed representative or holdings in, or held by, that appointed representative as appropriate.

Notes 30, 31 and 32 apply only to a firm advising on, dealing in, or arranging in relation to packaged products for private customers.

Note 30 – insert, in the firm's own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of the firm which is held by a provider of packaged products or by the parent of the provider.

Note 31 – insert, in the firm’s own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of a provider of packaged products which is held by the firm.

Note 32 – insert, in the firm’s own words, a short description of any credit provided to the firm by a product provider (other than commission due to the firm in accordance with an indemnity claw-back arrangement) or by any undertaking in the immediate group of the product provider where the amount of the credit exceeds 10 per cent of the share and loan capital of the firm.

Notes 33 and 34 apply to an insurance intermediary that is not an insurer providing services in relation to non-investment insurance contracts.

Note 33 – insert, in the insurance intermediary’s own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of the insurance intermediary which is held by an insurance undertaking or by the parent of an insurance undertaking.
Note 34 – insert, in the insurance intermediary’s own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of an insurance undertaking which is held by the insurance intermediary.

Section 7: What to do if you have a complaint

Note 35 – if different to the address in note 5, give the address and telephone number which is to be used by customers wishing to complain.

Note 36 – this text may be omitted for non-investment insurance contracts if the insurance intermediary is aware that a commercial customer would not be an eligible complainant.

Note 36A – if the CIDD is provided by an authorised professional firm which is exclusively carrying on non-mainstream regulated activities, the authorised professional firm should delete this sentence and refer to the alternative complaints handling arrangements. It should also omit the information required under note 14.

Note 37 – if the firm is carrying on an activity from an establishment which is outside the United Kingdom it must make clear that the Financial Ombudsman Service will not be available. The firm may refer to any similar complaints scheme that may be applicable.

Section 8: Are we covered by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS)?

Note 38 – when an incoming EEA firm provides the CIDD, it must modify this section as appropriate.

Note 38A - when a firm which is not a participant firm provides the CIDD, it must answer this question 'No' and should state the amount of cover provided (if any) and from whom further information about the compensation arrangements may be obtained. It should also omit the information required under note 14.

Note 39 – where the insurance intermediary provides a service in relation to a compulsory class of insurance, such as employers' liability insurance, it must use this alternative text.

Note 39A – where the insurance intermediary provides a service in relation to a contract which covers both a compulsory class of insurance and a class of insurance which is not compulsory, it should indicate the level of compensation that applies to each class.

Lifetime mortgage warning

Note 40 - This warning box should be added when the firm sells regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes or both

3. What are your payment options? [Note 6(a)]

Not all firms charge for advice in the same way. We will discuss your payment options with you and answer any questions you have. We will not charge you anything until you have agreed how we are to be paid. We have ticked the payment options we offer.

- Paying by fee. Whether you buy a product or not, you will pay us a fee for our advice and services. If we also receive commission from the product provider when you buy a product, we will pass on the full value of that commission to you in one or more ways. For example, we could reduce our fee; or reduce your product charges; or increase your investment amount; or refund the commission to you. [Note 6(b),(c),(d)]

- Paying by commission (or product charges). If you buy a financial product, we will normally receive commission on the sale from the product provider. Although you pay nothing up-front, that does not mean our service is free. You still pay us indirectly through product charges. Product charges pay for the product provider’s own costs and any commission. These charges reduce the amount left for investment. If you buy direct, the product charges could be the same as when buying through an adviser, or they could be higher or lower. We will tell you how much the commission will be before you complete an investment, but you may ask for this information earlier. [Note 6(e)]
4. How much might our services cost? [Note 7] [Note 8]

We will agree the rate we will charge before beginning work. We will tell you if you have to pay VAT. [Note 9]

Our typical charges are: [Note 10]

- Principal/Director/Partner £150-200 per hour
- Financial adviser £100-150 per hour
- Administration £25 per hour

You may ask us for an estimate of how much in total we might charge. You may also ask us not to exceed a given amount without checking with you first. [Note 9]

1. The Financial Services Authority (FSA)

The FSA is the independent regulator of financial services. It requires us to give you this document when advising on some savings and investments. You may use this information to compare value for money, to shop around and to decide which firm to use.

2. Our services [Note 5]

We offer an initial discussion (without charge) when we will describe our services more fully and explain the payment options. If you decide to go ahead, we will:

- gather and analyse personal information about you, your finances, your needs and objectives;
- recommend and discuss any action we think you should take and, with your agreement, arrange relevant investments for you.

3. What are your payment options? [Note 6a]

Not all firms charge for advice in the same way. We will discuss your payment options with you and answer any questions you have. We will not charge you anything until you have agreed how we are to be paid. We have ticked the payment options we offer.

- Paying by fee. Whether you buy a product or not, you will pay us a fee for our advice and services. If we also receive commission from the product provider when you buy a product, we will pass on the full value of that commission to you in one or more ways. For example, we could reduce our fee; or reduce your product charges; or increase your investment amount; or refund the commission to you. [Note 6(b),(c),(d)]

- Paying by commission (or product charges). If you buy a financial product, we will normally receive commission on the sale from the product provider. Although you pay nothing up front, that does not mean our service is free. You still pay us indirectly through product charges. Product charges pay for the product provider's own costs and any commission. These charges reduce the amount left for investment. If you buy direct, the product charges could be the same as when buying through an adviser, or they could be higher or lower. We will tell you how much the commission will be before you complete an investment, but you may ask for this information earlier. [Note 6(e)]

- Paying by a combination of commission and fee. In some circumstances, we also charge a fee on top of any commission we might receive. [Note 6(f)(g)]
4. How much might our services cost? [Note 7] [Note 8]

If you choose the fee option

We will agree the rate we will charge before beginning work. We will tell you if you have to pay VAT. [Note 9]

Our typical charges are: [Note 10]

</table>

You may ask us for an estimate of how much in total we might charge. You may also ask us not to exceed a given amount without checking with you first. [Note 9]

If you choose the combination of commission and fee option [Note 11]

We will charge you a combination of fees and commission. The actual amounts will depend on the service provided to you, but will not exceed the total of the maximum fees set out above and the maximum commission set out in the tables below.

If you choose the commission option

Tables 1 and 2 show examples of the amounts of commission we could receive (or the equivalent we earn through product charges) and compare those amounts with the market average (see notes 1 & 2 at the end of this section 4).

The amounts vary according to: the type of product, the amount you invest, and (sometimes) how long you invest for, or your age when you start the product. We will confirm the actual amount to you before you buy a product.

[Note 23] [Note 3] Last updated [22 October 2004]
The following Notes do not form part of the template.

Note 1    The 'keyfacts' logo and the text "about the cost of our services" must be positioned as illustrated in the templates. The logo may be resized and re-coloured, but the size and colour must be prominent and its proportions must not be distorted.

Note 2    Insert the name of the firm or its appointed representative (which in either case may be its authorised name or its trading name). A corporate logo or logos may also be included, where illustrated, but must be of equal prominence to 'keyfacts' logo. Where an appointed representative is providing the fees and commission statement, then the appointed representative's name must be inserted. An appointed representative may include its logo, but this must be in place of, and not in addition to, its principal's logo.

Note 3    Insert the date on which the fees and commission statement was prepared or last amended, in accordance with COB 4.3.11R(3). This date may be shown either at the top of the front page of the fees and commission statement or at the end of the fees and commission statement after Section 5.

Note 4    Insert the name and address of the head office or, if more appropriate, the principal place of business from where the firm or appointed representative expects to provide advice on investments to private customers on packaged products. The name and address of the authorised firm must not be included if the fees and commission statement is to be given by an appointed representative, which must insert its own address.

Section 2

Note 5    The text in Section 2 is not prescribed, but firms may adopt a form of the wording shown. Firms must describe the services they offer relating to packaged products in their own words, concisely, in plain language and within the space indicated in the template. This description must make clear that the initial discussion (not necessarily the initial meeting) about whether the customer wishes to use any of the firm's services will be without charge. A firm may choose to start charging (if appropriate) for the remainder of any or meeting, but only after any discussion on the content of the fees and commission statement has been concluded.

Section 3

Note 6  (a) A firm must select, by inserting a tick, the appropriate boxes which show the service that the firm expects to provide to the customer. If the fees and commission statement is provided by an appointed representative, the service selected must be that offered by the appointed representative. The text in this Section 3 of the fees and commission statement is prescribed, except as indicated in Note 6(d) and (g) below.

(b) The "Paying by fee" option must be included in each fees and commission statement even if the firm is not offering a purely fee based option - in which case, the box and prescribed text must be included, but without a tick.
A firm which holds itself out as acting independently in the provision of advice on investments on packaged products must, in accordance with COB 5.1.11AR (1), offer a private customer the "Paying by fee" option.

A firm which offers a "contingent" fee based option (see COB 5.1.11BG(3)) must modify the wording by the "Paying by fee" option to explain (clearly and in plain language) how the contingent fee arrangement will operate. A firm could use the following example description: "If you buy a financial product, you will pay us a fee for our advice and services. But if no sale is made, you will not have to pay us anything."

The "Paying by commission (or product charges)" option must be included in each fees and commission statement even if the firm is not offering this option - in which case, the box and the prescribed text must be included, but without a tick. In this option, reference to "commission" means commission and commission equivalent.

A firm may only include the "Paying by a combination of commission and fee" option in the fees and commission statement where this option is actually offered to the customer to whom the fees and commission statement is given.

The text that accompanies the "Paying by a combination of commission and fee" option is not prescribed. However, a firm must insert a clear plain language description of how its maximum remuneration is calculated using both the fee and the commission information provided in Section 4 of the fees and commission statement.

Section 4

In this section 4, if a firm offers both payment options to the customer to whom the fees and commission statement is given, then it must include the prescribed headings ("If you choose the fee option" and "If you choose the commission option") and accompanying text relating to both options. If either fees or commission are not offered, then the prescribed headings and text for whichever option is not offered should not be included in this section.

A firm which provides the "Paying by a combination of commission and fee" option must: (i) set out its maximum fee amount in the fee section of Section 4, and set out its maximum commission (or equivalent) amount in the commission section of Section 4; (ii) and ensure that the maximum amount of fee and commission (or equivalent) does not exceed the total of both options.
Section 4 - Fees

Note 9  If a fees and commission statement contains information relating to fees, then a firm must ensure that the following statements are included:

1. "We will agree the rate we will charge before beginning work. We will tell you if you have to pay VAT."

2. "You may ask us for an estimate of how much in total we might charge. You may also ask us not to exceed a given amount without checking with you first."

Note 10  The text for describing a firm's fee charging arrangements is not prescribed, but must be clear and in plain language. A firm must provide numerical statements of the amount or rate of its fees and these must be expressed in pounds sterling or another appropriate currency, where relevant. Examples of statements which firms may use are:

Hourly Rate

We will agree the rate we will charge before beginning work. Our typical charges are:

- Principal/Director/Partner  £00-000 per hour
- Financial adviser  £00-000 per hour
- Administration  £00 per hour

Your adviser will tell you if you have to pay VAT.

Lump Sum

We will agree what we will charge you before beginning work. Our typical charges are:

- Individual financial review  £00

Your adviser will tell you if you have to pay VAT.

Percentage of funds under management

We will agree what we will charge you before beginning work. Our typical charges are:

- Investment management agreement 0% per year of the value of the investments you ask us to manage

Your adviser will tell you if you have to pay VAT.
Section 4 – Combination of commission (or equivalent) and fee

Note 11  If a fees and commission statement contains information relating to the combination of commission (or equivalent) and fees, then a firm must ensure that the maximum amount of fee and commission (or equivalent) does not exceed the total of both the fee and commission options. The maximum fee amount that a firm might charge must be set out in the fee section, and the maximum commission (or equivalent) amount must be set out in the commission section.

The text for describing a firm's charging arrangements where a firm offers the combination of commission (or equivalent) and fees option is not prescribed, but a firm must describe correctly (clearly and in plain language) its usual way of charging a combination of fee and commission. Firms may use a form of the wording set out in the following examples:

1. Where we charge a combination of fees and commission, our maximum rates are set out in the fee information section above and the commission section below.

2. We charge a consultation fee of up to £x, and, if you buy a financial product, we will also retain commission within the amounts set out in the commission tables below.

3. We will charge you a combination of fees and commission. The actual amounts will depend on the service provided to you, but will not exceed the total of the maximum fees set out above and the maximum commission set out in the tables below.

4. We charge an annual fee as described in the fee information set out above. If we arrange for you to purchase a financial product, then we will also retain commission which will be within the maximum commission amounts set out in the tables below.

Section 4 – Commission (or equivalent)

Note 12  If a fees and commission statement contains information relating to commission, then a firm must set out information concerning commission (or equivalent) in the tabular format prescribed. The headings for Tables 1 and Table 2; the headings and sub-headings for each column; the product headings in each row of the first column; and the example term and age set out in the second column of each table are all prescribed and must not be amended.

Note 13  Each fees and commission statement must refer to the range of packaged products which the firm expects to be relevant for the particular customer or group of customers to whom the fees and commission statement is likely to be given. Where this stated range does not contain a product that is included in the templates, then a firm may delete the appropriate product row from the tables in its fees and commission statement.

Note 14  The text and information contained in the commission section of Section 4 must be included if a firm reasonably expects to provide those services to a private customer receiving the fees and commission statement in respect of any of the following product groups.
Regular contribution business

The following product groups relate to regular contribution investments (including annual and quarterly premium contracts) and includes any non-contractual top-ups or increments (to existing regular contribution investments) which generate commission (or equivalent).

(a) Collective investments
   Any regulated collective investment scheme or investment trust savings scheme.

(b) Endowments
   A life policy that pays a sum of money on the survival of the life assured to a specific date or, if earlier, on death.

(c) Whole of life assurance
   A life policy which, disregarding any benefit payable on surrender, secures a capital sum only on death or either on death or on disability, but does not include term assurance.

(d) Personal and stakeholder pensions
   Any personal pension scheme, FSAVC scheme or stakeholder pension scheme (other than a group personal pension scheme or stakeholder pension scheme arranged on a group basis for the employees of a particular employer).

Lump sum business

The following product groups relate to single contribution business, including commission (or equivalent) generating, non-contractual, top-ups or increments to existing lump sum investments.

(a) Collective investments
   Any regulated collective investment scheme.

(b) Investment bond
   A single premium whole of life assurance policy or endowment policy.

(c) Personal and stakeholder pensions
   Any personal pension scheme, FSAVC scheme or stakeholder pension scheme (other than a group personal pension scheme or stakeholder pension scheme arranged on a group basis for the employees of a particular employer).

(d) Annuities
   A pension annuity or purchased life annuity.

(e) Income drawdown
   A pension contract effected for the purpose of income withdrawal from a pension fund.
A firm which conducts business with private customers in relation to any packaged products not falling within any of the product groups may provide a customer with information about commission (or equivalent) relating to that business by way of a separate annex. For the purpose of the rules, any such information does not form part of a firm’s fees and commission statement.

Having regard to the nature of the business which a firm reasonably expects to conduct with the customers to whom the fees and commission statement will be provided, a firm must (i) present information about commission receivable on regular monthly payments in accordance with Table 1; and (ii) present information about commission receivable on lump sums in accordance with Table 2. The information must be presented in the two separate but sequential Tables 1 and 2.

Where a firm reasonably expects not to conduct either regular contribution or lump sum business with the customers to whom the fees and commission statement will be provided, it may exclude the relevant table so that its fees and commission statement contains only the table relevant to the type of business it expects to conduct.

For each product group shown a firm must disclose the maximum amount or rate of commission (or equivalent) where applicable under COB 5.7.5R which it reasonably expects it would retain in respect of the sale of a packaged product falling within the product group. The maximum rate or amount must be ascertained in accordance with the procedure set out in COB 4 Annex 7R.

For each product group shown a firm must disclose the corresponding market average calculated and published by the FSA and in accordance with the procedure set out in COB 4 Annex 7R.

For each product group illustrated a firm must include an example in accordance with COB 4 Annex 7R.

The two notes shown at the end of Section 4 of the fees and commission statement are prescribed.

The text in section 5 is prescribed.

An example of a completed fees and commission statement is shown at COB 4 Annex 9 G.
COB 4 Annex 7 R

Identifying and describing the maximum rate of commission (or equivalent), the market average and the Example

1. A firm must state in each fees and commission statement it issues:

   (a) its maximum rate of commission (or equivalent) for each product group in the statement;

   (b) the market average rate for each product group;

   (c) an illustration in the example column of an amount of commission (or equivalent) calculated by reference to its maximum rate for each product group in the statement and the example contribution levels stated in the tables (ie eg £100 per month or £10,000 lump sum).

Maximum rate of commission (or equivalent)

2. The maximum rate of commission (or equivalent) specified by a firm must be the maximum amount that the firm decides to retain.

3. If the maximum commission (or equivalent) is not apparent from the rates supplied by a product provider then a firm must adopt the net present value comparison method set out below.

4. For any product group, the maximum rate of commission (or equivalent) must not be more than a firm could reasonably expect to receive from any product provider.

Identifying a maximum rate of commission – comparison of net present value

5. A firm must use the assumptions set out in paragraphs 8-12 below when calculating the maximum commission figures to be inserted into its fees and commission statement. Where a firm uses a tool provided by the FSA for this express purpose (for example a calculator provided by the FSA on a cd-rom for the purpose of calculating the maximum commission figures), the calculations can be presumed to have used these assumptions.

6. The net present value for each commission (or equivalent) rate must be calculated as the sum of the discounted values of each commission (or equivalent) payment that the firm may retain for that commission (or equivalent) rate, using the assumptions set out in paragraphs 8-12 below.

7. For any product group, the firm's maximum rate of commission (or equivalent) is the commission (or equivalent) rate in that product group with the highest net present value.

8. A firm must use the assumptions outlined in Table 1 when calculating net present values.
COB 4 Annex 7 R Table 1 Table of assumptions to be used in calculating net present values.

11. Lapses must be assumed to occur monthly, at a rate that is 1/12th of the assumed annual lapse rate. In calculating the net present value, no commission should be assumed to be payable on the proportion of policies that are assumed to have lapsed.

12. Mortality rates must be ignored.

Describing the maximum rate of commission (or equivalent)

13. Subject to paragraph 14, a firm must use each appropriate description in COB 4 Annex 7 R Table 3 (ie one or more) to describe the maximum rates of commission (or equivalent) in its fees and commission statement.

14. A firm must adapt any of the descriptions prescribed by Tables 3 so that its fees and commission statements adequately describe the particular characteristics of a firm's commission (or equivalent) arrangements. For example, a firm can and should re-express the percentage figure, in the description taken from Table 3, in a "shape" (that is a description of the pattern of payments) that it considers to be typical of the way in which it retains commission (or equivalent). This may differ from the shape in which the particular maximum rate of commission (or equivalent) is actually payable. Another example of the way in which a firm should adapt the descriptions in Table 3 is if the commission received by a firm is payable as a fixed cash amount per policy then alternative wording should be used by the firm to adequately describe the fixed nature of the payment in its description of the rate of commission.

15. A firm that uses more than one of the descriptions in COB 4 Annex 7 R Table 3 must make it clear that it has used more than one description (eg by inserting the word "plus" in between each description).

16. The maximum rate of commission (or equivalent) must be rounded to the nearest 0.1% unless the commission (or equivalent) is a multiple of 0.25% of a fund value in which case it should be shown rounded to the nearest 0.25%.
Identifying and describing the market average

17. The FSA will publish the net present value of market average rates on its website from time to time.

18. A firm must express the market average rate in the shape or pattern of payments which most closely corresponds to the number, frequency and nature of payments in the shape or pattern of payments used to describe the firm's maximum commission (or equivalent).

19. A firm can use any suitable tool or method to re-express the market average in its fees and commission statements, as long as that method uses the assumptions set out in 8 - 12 above (for example a calculator contained on a cd-rom of the type referred to in paragraph 5).

20. The market average rate shown in the fees and commission statement must be a re-expression of the published net present value of the market average using the assumptions set out in 8 – 12 above. Subject to any rounding in the final description, this re-expression should have the same net present value as the published market average.

21. A firm must describe the market average rate using the most appropriate description in the Descriptions column in Table 3. The market average may be equivalently expressed by adopting the method set out in the worked example in COB 4 Annex 9 G below, used in conjunction with tables of net present value factors that will be made available by the FSA. These factors will be calculated using the assumptions set out above. Alternatively, the market average expression may be expressed using such other tools, systems or methods as the FSA may make available from time to time.

Changes in the market average

22. A firm must ensure that its fees and commission statements are revised to take account of changes in the market average rates published by the FSA by not later than:

   (a) 2 months from the date on which the FSA prescribes amended market average rates if the effect of the amendment is to reduce any of the averages for a relevant product group by 4% or more of the previous average; and

   (b) in all other cases at such time as the firm has occasion to revise its statements.

The example

23. Subject to paragraph 26, a firm must use, in the example in its fees and commission statement, the description in Table 4 that corresponds to description(s) of the maximum rate of the commission (or equivalent) that appears in its fees and commission statement.

24. A firm that uses more than one of the descriptions in Table 4 must make it clear that it has used more than one description (eg by inserting the word "plus" in between each description).

25. A firm must adapt any of the descriptions prescribed by Tables 3 and 4 as are necessary to ensure that a fees and commission statement adequately describes the particular characteristics of a firm's commission (or equivalent) arrangement. Examples of the way in which the descriptions could be adapted are provided in paragraph 14 above.
Calculation of a maximum rate of commission

1. The net present value of each commission (or equivalent) rate may be calculated by adopting the method set out in the worked example below, used in conjunction with tables of sample net present value factors issued by the FSA. These factors will be calculated using the assumptions set out in paragraphs 8 to 12 of COB 4 Annex 7 R.

Worked Example of Commission Disclosure in a fees and commission statement

2. For the purposes of the following worked example four variations of commission (or equivalent) are shown for an investment bond. The market averages and NPV factors are purely illustrative.

A firm has commission arrangements for the sale of investment bonds with five product providers involving all four variations. The firm retains all commissions from each provider. The arrangements are:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Provider</th>
<th>Initial</th>
<th>% of fund value</th>
<th>Fund based start month</th>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>

<td>0.5%</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>3.5%</td>
<td>0.25%</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Stage 1 - Comparison of net present value
The firm has to decide which provider pays "our maximum". The test is to calculate the net present value of the different commissions using the assumptions prescribed by the FSA. To do this, the method in form 1b below is used. The firm needs to look up the table of NPV factors which shall be made available by the FSA. Looking these up, and completing the form as follows gives:
Product group | Investment Bonds

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Commission Rate</th>

<td>L = J x K</td>
<td>M = C + L</td>

<tr>

<tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>

<td>1.00</td>
<td>3.5%</td>
<td>0.25% from month 1</td>
<td>4.943</td>
<td>1.24%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

So commission shape 4 has the highest net present value and is thus "our maximum".

Stage 2 – Worked example
An example is calculated by applying "our maximum" rates to the prescribed lump sum or monthly amounts. £10000 in this case gives "£300 immediately plus £50 each year from year 1".

Stage 3 – Market Average
"The market average" is the market average rate published by the FSA expressed in the shape that most corresponds to the shape of "our maximum". To do this, the method used in form 2 below is used. The firm needs to look up the table of NPV factors and the table of market average NPVs prescribed by the FSA. Looking these up, and completing the form as follows gives:
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Product group</th>

<td>-</td>
<td>2.53% / 1.000 = 2.5%</td>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Therefore the market average, expressed in the shape that most closely resembles "our maximum" is 2.5% of the lump sum plus 0.5% of the fund from month 1.

The maximum rate of commission for this product group is the shape with the highest Total NPV (column M). This maximum rate of commission should be included in the fees and commission statement for this product group.
Notes for completion of form 1a

1. A separate form should be completed for all monthly product groupings appearing on the fees and commission statement.

2. Complete a separate row for each potential maximum commission shape that you receive in the chosen product group.

3. Commission shapes that are clearly lower in value than others of the same shape should be omitted – for example, 15% initial + 0.5% fund based paid from month 12 is clearly lower than 20% initial + 0.5% fund based paid from month 12, and so only the latter needs to be included in the calculations.

4. Commission rates used should be the highest rates of the total commission payable that you may retain;

5. Commission rates should be entered for each commission type as follows:
   - Column A (Initial/Indemnified) - a percentage of the first 12 months' premiums;
   - Column D (Spread Initial/Non-Indemnified Initial) – a percentage of each premium paid in the initial commission period;
   - Column I (Premium based renewal) – a percentage of each premium paid in the renewal period;
   - Column L (Fund Based renewal/trail) – a percentage of the fund value each year.

6. Level commissions, payable as a percentage of all monthly premiums, should be treated as premium-based renewal commissions.

7. The relevant NPV Factors in columns B, E, H & K should be inserted for the relevant Product Group, Commission Type, Spread Period and Start Month. They can be obtained from the document "Published NPV Factors".

8. Columns C, F, I, L & M should be calculated based on the figures inserted in the previous columns.

9. The commission shape which has the highest total NPV in column M should be used in the "Our Maximum" section of the fees and commission statement.

Notes for completion of form 2

1. A separate form should be completed for each product group appearing on your fees and commission statement;

2. The Market Average NPV should be obtained from the FSA's most recent published list of market averages, choosing the appropriate rate for the relevant product group.

3. In row A, enter the details of the commission shape that the market average is to be expressed in. This should be the commission shape shown as "your maximum" for the relevant product group in your fees and commission statement.

4. Commission rates should be entered for each commission type as follows:

   - Fund Based renewal/trail – a percentage of the fund value each year;
   - Premium based renewal – a percentage of each premium paid in the renewal period;
   - Spread Initial/Non-Indemnified Initial – a percentage of each premium paid in the initial commission period;
   - Initial/Indemnified - a percentage of the first 12 months' premiums, or a percentage of the lump sum, as appropriate.

5. Level commissions, payable as a percentage of all monthly premiums, should be treated as premium-based renewal commissions.

6. Where "your maximum" commission does not contain a commission type (e.g. your maximum has no spread initial commission), the column relating to that commission type should be left blank.

7. The relevant NPV Factors in row B should be inserted for the relevant Product Group, Commission Type, Spread Period and Start Month. They can be obtained from the document "Published NPV Factors".

8. Row C should be calculated as the product of the relevant commission rate in row A and the NPV factor in row B.

9. Row D1 should be calculated as the lower of:

   - the Market Average NPV, and
   - Row C - The Value of Commission Shape for the fund based commission type (but see the note below)
Note: If the commission shape in row A contains no premium-based, spread initial or initial/indemnified commission (i.e. if fund based commission is the final commission type being considered) then the calculation in row C should be ignored when calculating D1. In this instance, the value in D1 should be equal to:

- the Market Average NPV

10. Row D2 should be calculated as the lower of:

- The Market Average NPV minus the value calculated for row D1; and
- Row C – The Value of Commission Shape for the premium based commission type (but see note below).

If this calculation gives a negative value, D2 should be set to zero.

Note: If the commission shape in row A contains no spread initial or initial/indemnified commission (i.e. if premium-based commission is the final commission type being considered) then the calculation in row C should be ignored when calculating D2. In this instance, the value in D2 should be equal to:

- The Market Average NPV minus the value calculated for row D1.

11. Row D3 should be calculated as the lower of:

- The Market Average NPV minus the value calculated for row D1,
  minus the value calculated for row D2, and
- Row C – The Value of Commission Shape for the spread initial / non-indemnified commission type (but see note below).

If this calculation gives a negative value, D2 should be set to zero.

Note: If the commission shape in row A contains no initial/indemnified commission (i.e. if premium-based commission is the final commission type being considered) then the calculation in row C should be ignored when calculating D3. In this instance, the value in D3 should be equal to:
➢ The Market Average NPV minus the value calculated for row D1, minus the value calculated for row D2.

12. Row D4 should be calculated as:

➢ The Market Average NPV minus the value calculated for row D1, minus the value calculated for row D2, minus the value calculated for row D3.

If this calculation gives a negative value, D4 should be set to zero.

13. Row E should be calculated as the value in the relevant row D (for that commission type, e.g. row D2 for premium based renewal commission) divided by the relevant NPV factor in row B. For presentation in the fees and commission statement, this result should be rounded to the nearest 0.1% (or the nearest 0.25%, if fund-based commission is paid as an exact multiple of this).
Example of a completed fees and commission statement

1. The Financial Services Authority (FSA)
   The FSA is the independent regulator of financial services. It requires us to give you this document when advising on some savings and investments. You may use this information to compare value for money, to shop around and to decide which firm to use.

2. Our services
   We offer an initial discussion (without charge) when we will describe our services more fully and explain the payment options. If you decide to go ahead, we will:
   - gather and analyse personal information about you, your finances, your needs and objectives;
   - recommend and discuss any action we think you should take and, with your agreement, arrange relevant investments for you.

3. What are your payment options
   Not all firms charge for advice in the same way. We will discuss your payment options with you and answer any questions you have. We will not charge you anything until you have agreed how we are to be paid. We have ticked the payment options we offer.

   Paying by fee. Whether you buy a product or not, you will pay us a fee for our advice and services. If we also receive commission from the product provider when you buy a product, we will pass on the full value of that commission to you in one or more ways. For example, we could reduce our fee; or reduce your product charges; or increase your investment amount; or refund the commission to you.

   Paying by commission (or product charges). If you buy a financial product, we will normally receive commission on the sale from the product provider. Although you pay nothing up front, that does not mean our service is free. You still pay us indirectly through product charges. Product charges pay for the product provider’s own costs and any commission. These charges reduce the amount left for investment. If you buy direct, the product charges could be the same as when buying through an adviser, or they could be higher or lower. We will tell you how much the commission will be before you complete an investment, but you may ask for this information earlier.
4. How much might our services cost?

If you choose the fee option

We will agree the rate we will charge before beginning work. We will tell you if you have to pay VAT.

Our typical charges are:
- Principal/Director/Partner: £150-200 per hour
- Financial adviser: £100-150 per hour
- Administration: £25 per hour

You may ask us for an estimate of how much in total we might charge. You may also ask us not to exceed a given amount without checking with you first.

If you choose the commission option

Tables 1 and 2 show examples of the amounts of commission we could receive (or the equivalent we earn through product charges) and compare those amounts with the market average (see notes 1 & 2 at the end of this section 4).

The amounts vary according to: the type of product, the amount you invest, and (sometimes) how long you invest for, or your age when you start the product. We will confirm the actual amount to you before you buy a product.

5.1 Polarisation and Status Disclosure Advising on packaged products

Application

5.1.1 R This section applies to a firm which gives advice on investments to a private customer on packaged products (including adopted packaged products), and to a firm which is a member of a marketing group.

Purpose

5.1.2 G This section gives support to Principle 6 (Customers' interests) and Principle 7 (Communications with clients) which require firms to have due regard to the information needs of their customers and treat them fairly. The purpose of this section is to ensure that private customers are adequately informed about the nature of the advice on investments which they may receive from a firm in relation to packaged products. In particular firms need to be clear to private customers about the scope and range of the products and product providers on which their advice on investments is based. When advice on investments which are packaged products is given, it is important that a private customer is always clear whether a firm, its advisers or representatives, will act solely in his interests or whether the range of advice offered by the firm will be determined by the nature and number of the firm’s commercial relationships. Accordingly, the rules and guidance in COB 5.1 give effect to the regulatory policy of polarisation which, in relation only to advice on packaged products requires a firm to act either independently for the private customer, or to act on a tied basis where advice is restricted to its own products, those of its marketing group and adopted packaged products. Polarisation does not extend to an execution only transaction or to a financial promotion of a packaged product which does not contain any advice on investments.

Scope and range of advice on packaged products: general

5.1.6A R (1) A firm which gives advice on investments to private customers about packaged products must, subject to (2), take reasonable steps to ensure that the scope of the advice on investments given to a private customer is based upon a selection from one of the following:

(a) the whole market (or the whole of a named sector of the market); or

(b) a limited number of product providers; or

(c) a single company or single group of companies.

(2) A firm may change the scope of the advice on investments it gives to a particular private customer by widening the scope from that in (1)(c) through to that in (b) or (a) or from (b) to (a), but it must take reasonable steps to ensure that before doing so the customer is made aware of the proposed change by a communication in a durable medium.

(3) If a firm:

(a) extends the scope of the advice on investments it will give a private customer; or

(b) extends the range of packaged products on which its advice on investments will be based;

and as a consequence the firm's arrangements for its remuneration are materially altered, the firm must provide the customer with a new and appropriate fees and commission statement.

5.1.6B G (1) COB 5.1.6AR requires a firm when giving advice on investments to a private customer to do so on the basis that the scope of its advice on investments will involve a selection from the whole market (or from the whole of a sector of the market), or from a limited number of product providers or from a single provider and to adhere to such a scope during the advisory process unless the firm decides, and if necessary secures the customer’s agreement, to widen the scope for the customer and, if necessary, any changes in the arrangements by which the firm will be remunerated (see COB 4.3.6R). A firm can choose to offer both whole of market and more limited advice on investments. The scope of the advice which the customer subsequently receives should always however be made clear and explained in a way which is likely to be understood.
(2) The scope of advice on investments prescribed in each of COB 5.1.6AR (1) (a) to (c) will require different competencies on the part of a firm's representatives to enable the firm to discharge its advisory functions.

(3) A firm selecting packaged products from a limited number of product providers or from a single provider may do so on the basis of a range of packaged products which comprises a selection of products available from those providers and accordingly a firm may have one or more such ranges. COB 4.3.3R requires a firm to give each customer some initial disclosure information – an initial disclosure document - which must indicate the scope of the advice on investments which the customer can expect to receive. This initial information must also invite the customer to ask for a copy of the range of packaged products from which the firm will make a selection. A firm which has several ranges of packaged products will need to ensure that each customer who asks for it is given information about the range which is appropriate for that customer.

(4) If a firm holds itself out as giving advice on investments to private customers on packaged products from the whole market (or the whole of any sector of that market; see (5)), the firm's selection for this purpose will need to be sufficiently large to enable the firm to satisfy the suitability requirement in COB 5.3.9R (Requirement for suitability: whole-of-market advisers). One way in which such firms may wish to satisfy this requirement is by using “panels” of product providers which are sufficient for the purpose of giving advice from the whole market and which are reviewed on a regular basis. A firm which provides advice on investments from the whole market (or from the whole of a sector of the market) should ensure that its analysis of the market and the available packaged products is kept adequately up to date.

(5) References to a firm advising on packaged products from the whole of a sector of the market are to a firm which, though holding itself out as giving advice on investments from the whole market, advises on investments in practice only on a relatively limited selection of packaged products which are available to meet the needs of a specialist sector or niche market (for example pension annuities). In such circumstances the quality of the firm's analysis of the sector or niche market should be commensurate with that which a firm would apply for the purposes of selecting products from the market as a whole.

(6) IPRU(INS) 1.3 (Restriction of business to insurance) in practice restricts the range of packaged products that a long-term insurer may have and CIS 16.5.1R (Managers of UCITS schemes) restricts the range of packaged products that a manager of a UCITS scheme may have.
(7) If a firm gives advice on investments to a private customer on a packaged product produced by another person, the key features must be “appropriate” (see COB 6.2.7R (Provision of key features: life policies) COB 6.2.22R (1) (Provision of key features: schemes) and COB 6.4.15R (Stakeholder pension schemes)). Therefore, if the terms of the packaged product are different from the terms of the product for which the key features was originally prepared by the product provider, for example there are additional charges, then the key features will need to be amended.

(8) There are restrictions on communicating and approving a financial promotion relating to a life policy produced by an unauthorised person (see COB 3.13.1R (Additional requirements for financial promotions for an overseas long-term insurer)).

(9) When a firm gives advice on investments relating to a packaged product which is not produced by the firm, it is responsible for the advice on investments given. The product provider is responsible for the relevant terms and conditions of the packaged product.

(10) The rules in COB 5.1 are mainly concerned to ensure that firms can offer a wide range of advisory services in relation to packaged products. In the course of giving such advice a firm’s representatives may also need to consider the merits of whether a customer should give up, surrender or cease contributing to an existing packaged product and the rules in this section do not place a restriction on this (subject always to such advice on investments being suitable having regard to the customer's circumstances).

Range of packaged products: appointed representatives

5.1.6C R (1) A firm must maintain in writing and keep up to date a statement of:

(a) the scope of advice on investments (within the meaning of COB 5.1.6AR(1)) which each of its appointed representatives is, through its contract with the firm, permitted to give; and including

(b) the range (or ranges) of packaged products on which each appointed representative advises.

(2) In applying the rules in COB to a firm in respect of its appointed representatives, references to a firm’s scope or range of packaged products are to be taken as references to the scope (or scopes) and to the range (or ranges) of its appointed representatives.
An appointed representative’s range of packaged products may be defined by a particular category of packaged product or by individual product, as long as it is clear (for example, "all pension products of ABC Co Limited"). It may be set out in a document separate from the appointed representative’s contract of appointment and should, in any event, be separate from the main body of the contract for clarity.

Range of packaged products: records

(1) A firm must make, and keep up to date, a record of the scope (or scopes) of the advice (within the meaning of COB 5.1.6AR(1)) which it provides, its range (or ranges) of packaged products and the range or ranges of each of its appointed representatives (if different from the firm’s).

(2) The record in (1) must be retained for six years from the date on which it was superseded by a more up-to-date record.

(3) The record for distribution to a customer must be the particular range of packaged products which is appropriate for the services provided to that customer and include details of:

   (a) the identity of the product providers within the range whose packaged products the firm may sell; and

   (b) a list of the categories of their products the firm may sell.

(4) In the case of a firm whose scope of advice on investments is the selection of packaged products from the whole of the market (or from the whole of a sector of the market) and which provides no other scope of advice on investments, it will be sufficient if the firm’s record is restricted to confirming that the advice on investments it provides is given on this basis (and in the case of a firm which provides advice on investments on the whole of a sector of the market, confirms the nature and parameters of that sector).

(5) For the purposes of the record in (1), (3) and (6), in relation to the packaged products within a particular category available from a product provider:

   (a) where a firm provides services to a particular customer in relation to all of the products within that category the record may refer simply to that category and the product provider and not each particular product within the category; and

   (b) notwithstanding (3)(b), where a firm does not provide services to a particular customer in relation to all of the products within that category the record must give details of each of the products in the category on which it does provide services.
(6) A firm must maintain a record of the particular range of packaged products on which its advice on investments to each private customer is based and such a record must be kept for six years from the date on which the advice on investments is given.

Branding packaged products

5.1.6F R If a firm gives advice on investments to a private customer on a packaged product produced by another person, it must not:

(1) hold itself out as the packaged product’s producer; or

(2) do or say anything which might reasonably lead a private customer to be mistaken as to the identity of the product’s producer.

5.1.6G R A firm must display the brand of the product provider at least as prominently as any other brand in the documentation that it makes available to its customers in relation to a packaged product.

Tied advice by provider firms

Staying within the range of advice of packaged products

5.1.7 R (1) A provider firm must, subject to (2), take reasonable steps to ensure that neither it nor any of its representatives gives advice on investments to a private customer about the purchase of a packaged product unless the product is:

(a) issued by the firm itself or by another member of its marketing group; or

(b) an adopted packaged product

(a) within the firm’s range (or ranges) of packaged products; and

(b) is within the particular range of packaged products on which advice on investments is given to that customer.

(2) The restriction in (1) does not apply where COB 5.3.7R (Suitability of packaged products: out-of-range recommendations) applies.

5.1.8 R [deleted]

5.1.9 G COB 5.1.7R (1) does not inhibit the sale by a provider firm:
(1) where the sale does not involve the provision of advice on investments to a private customer; a provider firm may act as an intermediary for a transaction in a packaged product where that transaction is an execution-only transaction (long-term insurers are reminded of IPRU/INS 1.3 (Restriction of business to insurance) and managers of UCITS schemes are reminded of CIS 16.5.1R (Managers of UCITS schemes); or

(2) when the firm acts a discretionary investment manager.

5.1.11 R [deleted]

Restriction on holding out

5.1.11A R (1) A firm that, in relation to packaged products, provides advice on investments to a private customer, must not hold itself out as acting independently unless it intends to:

(a) provide advice on investments to that customer that is on packaged products from the whole market (or the whole of a sector of the market); and

(b) offers the customer the opportunity of paying fees for the provision of such advice.

(2) A firm which in accordance with (1) holds itself out as independent must ensure that the advice on investments subsequently given to the private customer concerned is on packaged products from the whole market (or the whole of a sector of the market).

(3) A firm will not contravene (2) and does not need to offer the option of fee based advice on investments in accordance with (1), if it acts in accordance with COB 4.3.27R.

5.1.11B G (1) COB 5.1.11AR stipulates what a firm must do if it is to hold itself out to any particular client that it will act independently. Firms which wish to hold themselves out generally as acting independently should ensure that doing so (for example through a trading name or advertising) is consistent with the kind of service which private customers receive in relation to packaged products.

(2) A firm that carries on business both in relation to packaged products and regulated mortgage contracts can do so in relation to the whole market and therefore be "independent" for one but offer only a limited service for the other. If this is the case the firm should explain the different nature of the services in a way which meets the requirement for clear, fair and not misleading communications in COB 2.1.3R (Clear, fair and not misleading communications).
(3) COB 5.1.11AR (1)(b) means that a firm wishing to hold itself out as independent will need to give customers a purely fee based option for paying for its services. Such a fee may be offered on a contingent basis so that it does not become payable if the customer does not acquire a product. A firm offering a fee-based service may, in addition, provide the customer with other payment options, such as by commission.

Representatives to have access to whole range

5.1.12 R (1) A provider firm must, subject to (2), take reasonable steps to ensure that those of its representatives who give advice on investments on packaged products are able to sell with advice on investments each type of packaged product within the particular range of packaged products from which products are selected for a customer that it issues itself or is issued by a member of its marketing group, or is an adopted packaged product.

(2) A provider firm may restrict the type of packaged products it authorises a particular representative to sell, if:

(a) that representative is not sufficiently competent to sell certain types of product; and

(b) it requires that representative to identify instances when another packaged product of its own, or of the marketing group, or an adopted packaged product outside his own restricted range within the relevant range of packaged products ought to be recommended; the representative must then be required to refer the private customer to another representative within the marketing group of the firm who is authorised and competent to sell that product.

Remuneration structure and referrals

5.1.13- R A provider firm must take reasonable steps to ensure that none of its representatives:

(1) is not likely to be influenced by the structure of his or her remuneration to give unsuitable advice on investments to a private customer; and

(2) do not refers private customers to an independent intermediary another firm in circumstances which would amount to the provision of an inducement under COB 2.2.3R (Prohibition of inducements).

Excess charges on price-capped products
5.1.14 R A firm which is a provider firm must, if it gives advice on investments to a private customer about on an adopted packaged product stakeholder pensions scheme or other price capped product for which the firm is not the product provider, ensure that it does so only in accordance with arrangements under which the firm discloses any charges imposed by the firm in excess of those charged by the producer of the adopted packaged product.

5.1.14A G Products subject to price caps within COB 5.1.14R would include ISAs marketed as “CAT standard”.

5.2.2 G … However, the Insurance Mediation Directive requires that a statement of the demands and needs of a client is provided to the client, whether advice is given or not. This is required whatever the status of the client. Accordingly the demands and needs provisions in COB 5.2.12R to COB 5.2.17G apply to all circumstances relating to life policies.

Statement of demands and needs

5.2.12 R (1) Unless either COB 5.2.13R or COB 5.2.14R applies, a firm must provide the client with a statement of his demands and needs if:

(a) it makes a personal recommendation of a life policy to a client; or
(b) it arranges (whether through issuing a direct offer financial promotion or otherwise) for the client to enter into a life policy.

(2) Unless (3) applies, the statement in (1) must be provided:

(a) as soon as practicable, and in any event before the conclusion of the contract for the life policy; and

(b) in a durable medium.

(3) A firm may provide the statement in (1) orally if:

(a) the client requests it; or

(b) immediate cover is necessary;

but in both cases the firm must provide the information in (1) immediately after the conclusion of the contract, in a durable medium.

5.2.13 R If the only contact between the firm and the client before conclusion of the contract is by telephone, the statement of demands and needs must be provided immediately after the conclusion of the contract, in a durable medium.

5.2.14 R A firm need not provide a statement of demands and needs if the required information is contained in a suitability letter, or explanation of a personal recommendation, provided under COB 5.3.

5.2.15 G (1) A firm may provide the demands and needs statement as part of an application form so that the demands and needs statement is made dependent upon the customer providing personal information on the application form (including an application forming part of a direct offer financial promotion).

(2) For quotations (see COB 4.3.3AG), there is no requirement for the firm to provide a demands and needs statement, but one must be provided before the conclusion of the contract, unless the only contact between the firm and the client is by telephone, in which case COB 5.2.13R applies.

Requirement for suitability generally

5.3.5 R  (1) A firm must take reasonable steps to ensure that, it does not if in the course of designated investment business:

(a) it makes any personal recommendation to a private customer to:

(i) buy, or sell, subscribe for or underwrite a designated investment (or to exercise any right conferred by such an investment to do so); or

(ii) elect to make income withdrawals; or

... (iii) enter into a pension transfer or pension opt-out from an occupational pension scheme; or

(b) it effects a discretionary transaction for a private customer (except as in (3.5)); or

(c) it makes a personal recommendation to an intermediate customer or a market counterparty to take out a life policy;

unless the recommendation advice on investments or transaction is suitable for the private customer client, having regard to the facts disclosed by him and other relevant facts about the private customer of which the firm is, or reasonably should be, aware.

(2) If the recommendation or transaction in (1) relates to a packaged product:

(a) it must, subject to COB 5.3.7R - COB 5.3.10R, be the most suitable from the range of packaged products, on which advice on investments is given to the client as determined by COB 5.1.7R; and

(b) if there is no packaged product in the firm’s relevant range of packaged products which is suitable for the client, no recommendation must be made.

(3) In making the recommendation or effecting the transaction in (1), the firm must have regard to:

(a) the facts disclosed by the client; and

(b) other relevant facts about the client of which the firm is, or reasonably should be, aware.
(2) A firm which acts as an investment manager for a private customer must take reasonable steps to ensure that the private customer's portfolio or account remains suitable, having regard to the facts disclosed by the private customer and any other relevant facts about the private customer of which the firm is or reasonably should be aware.

(3) Where, with the agreement of the private customer, a firm has pooled his funds with those of others with a view to taking common discretionary management decisions, the firm must take reasonable steps to ensure that a discretionary transaction is suitable for the fund, having regard to the stated investment objectives of the fund.

5.3.5A G (1) If circumstances arise in which a firm reasonably concludes that there are several packaged products in the relevant range which would satisfy the test in COB 5.3.5(2)R, it will act in conformity with that rule if it recommends only one of those products.

(2) If a client does not wish to proceed in accordance with a recommendation, a firm may nonetheless make further recommendations providing any such recommendation is suitable for the client in accordance with the obligation in COB 5.3.5R.

Suitability of packaged products: out-of-range recommendations

5.3.8A R (1) A firm when not selecting packaged products from the whole market (and notwithstanding COB 5.3.5R (2)) may recommend a packaged product outside the range of packaged products on which it provides advice to a particular client if the recommended packaged product is suitable for the client and had it been included would have been at least as suitable as the most suitable packaged product in that range.

(2) A firm must take reasonable steps to ensure that an appointed representative of a firm only acts as in (1) with its explicit written permission, either generally or in relation to the specific recommendation.
COB 5.3.8AR enables a firm to advise on packaged products from outside a particular range of packaged products. This will enable such advice on investments to be given on a one-off basis by firms which have only one range of packaged products and by other firms which may have more than one but without the firm needing to change the scope or range of the advice on investments which the client is expecting to receive.

(a) has carried out a reasonable analysis of a sufficiently large number of packaged products which are generally available from the market (or sector of the market); and

(b) conducts the analysis in (a) on the basis of criteria which reflect adequate knowledge of the packaged products generally available from the market as a whole (or from a relevant sector).

(2) A firm in (1) must satisfy the obligation in COB 5.3.5R (2) by taking reasonable steps to ensure that a personal recommendation given to a private customer is:

(a) in accordance with its analysis carried out under (1); and

(b) is the packaged product which on the basis of that analysis is the most suitable to meet the customer’s needs.

5.3.10B R (1) A firm which holds itself out as giving personal recommendations to intermediate customers or market counterparties on life policies from the whole market (or from a relevant sector) must not give any such personal recommendation unless it:

(a) has carried out an analysis of a sufficiently large number of life policies which are generally available from the market (or sector of the market); and

5.3.18B R If the only contact between the firm and the client before conclusion of the contract is by telephone, the suitability letter must be provided immediately after the conclusion of the contract, on a durable medium.

Suitability: intermediate customers and market counterparties

5.3.18C R (1) If a firm makes a personal recommendation to an intermediate customer or a market counterparty to take out a life policy, it must explain to the client the reasons for personally recommending that life policy.

(2) The explanation required under (1) must:

(a) take account of the complexity of the life policy proposed; and

(b) be provided to the client before the contract is concluded.
5.3.18D G A firm should take the following into account when explaining the reasons for a personal recommendation to an intermediate customer or a market counterparty in accordance with COB 5.3.18AR:

(1) the firm should explain why the client's demands and needs combine to make the recommended contract suitable for the client;

(2) the firm should not merely state what contract is being recommended with no link to the client's demands and needs;

(3) a firm that offers contracts from more than one insurance undertaking should include a statement of why a particular insurance undertaking has been recommended; reasons may include contract features not available anywhere else, price, or service levels.

5.3.19 R COB 5.3.14R does not apply:

(4) to any personal recommendation by a friendly society for a life policy sold by it a friendly society with a premium not exceeding £50 a year or, if payable weekly, £1 a week;

4. Both independent intermediaries and representatives will need to undertake a comparison between the three options and explain in the suitability letter why, if they have recommended an FSAVC, it is considered to be at least as suitable as a stakeholder pension scheme or the in–house AVC.

C. Hybrid products

2. The requirements for suitability in giving investment advice apply to all elements of a hybrid product:

   (a) independent intermediaries if appropriate, representatives need to scrutinise ready–made packages from a single product provider to make sure that each element is competitive and that a better solution is not available by combining elements from different providers;

Guidance on the contents of suitability letters

Introduction

5. Ideally each suitability letter will be different, reflecting the approach of the adviser representative, the customer’s profile, subjects discussed and the considerations on which the advice was based. …

Content

6. A firm should take the following into account when constructing a suitability letter:

(e) independent intermediaries where the range of packaged products from which advice on investments has been given contains the products of more than one product provider in respect of the same type of packaged product, the letter should include (the list is not exhaustive) why a particular product provider has been recommended; reasons may include product features not available elsewhere, price, service levels, performance track record, investment prospects, medical evidence terms, reputation and financial strength.

Signing

7. Each suitability letter should be signed by a person authorised by the firm to advise on the type of product which is being recommended. Ideally this will be the adviser representative who gave the particular advice but, if not, both the signatory and the adviser representative should accept responsibility for the letter and the recommendation.

(2) [deleted] In the case of a provider firm, when the firm’s representative first meets a private customer, the customer should be given the following particulars in writing, which may be in the form of a business card, either before progressing beyond the social preliminaries or as soon as reasonably practicable after a telephone conversation has ended:

(a) the name, address and telephone number of the representative;

(b) the name, business address and telephone number of the firm’s branch or office to which the representative reports;

5.5.6 A firm which gives advice on investments to a private customer about packaged products is reminded of the additional disclosure requirements in COB 5.1 (Polarisation and status disclosure). [deleted]

5.6.2 G  Principle 6 (Customer's interests) requires a firm to pay due regard to the interests of its customers and treat them fairly. The purpose of this section is to ensure that the charges a firm makes to its private customers are not excessive. The obligation to disclose to a private customer the charges that a firm intends to make are set out in COB 4.3 (Disclosing information about services, fees and commission – packaged products) and COB 5.7 (Disclosure of charges, remuneration and commission).

5.7.4 G (1) A firm may make the disclosures required by COB 5.7.3 R in its terms of business in a client agreement, or in a separate written statement. Disclosure should include any product-related charges that are deducted from the private customer’s investment. If the product is a packaged product, product-related charges and expenses will be disclosed in the key features document or in the minimum information that the firm is required to provide to the private customer in accordance with COB 6.2 (Provision of key features) and COB 6.4 (Product disclosure: special situations). When a firm is a broker fund adviser, disclosure should include any fees payable to the firm or its associate in connection with that activity by a provider firm. In the case of advice provided in connection with packaged products a firm should, in accordance with COB 4.3.3 R, have provided its customer with a fees and commission statement setting out the maximum rates of any fees which the customer will pay and/or with an indication of the maximum rates of commission (or equivalent) which it, or its representatives, may retain in connection with the sale of packaged products. COB 5.7.3 R does not require any further disclosure of a firm’s fees if, in accordance with COB 4.3.5 R it has confirmed the exact amount or rate that it will charge.

(2) In addition it is necessary that a private customer should, as soon as is practicable, be informed of the exact rate or the exact amount in cash terms of any commission (or equivalent) which the firm or its representatives will receive in respect of a specific transaction.

(3) In the case of a packaged product, product related charges and expenses will be disclosed in the key features document or in the minimum information that the firm is required to provide to private customers in accordance with COB 6.2 (Provision of key features) and COB 6.4 (Product disclosure: special situations). When a firm is a broker fund adviser, disclosure should include any fees payable to the firm or its associate in connection with that activity by a product provider.

Disclosure of commission (or equivalent) for packaged products

5.7.5 R  (1) When a firm sells, personally recommends or arranges the sale of a packaged product to a private customer, and subsequently on the request of a private customer, the firm must disclose to the private customer, in cash terms:

(a) any commission equivalent payable by it to a representative or appointed representative; and.

(b) any commission or commission equivalent receivable by it, or by any of its associates in connection with the transaction unless COB 5.7.9 R or COB 5.7.10 R applies.

(2) In (1)(b) a firm is, in respect of any transaction, to be regarded as receiving commission equivalent if:

(a) it is received from a product provider (“P”), or an associate of P; and

(b) either P or its associate is in the same immediate group as the firm; and

(c) the value of the commission equivalent (as assessed in accordance with these rules) is greater than the amount of commission in cash terms.

(3) In (1) and (2) “cash terms” in relation to commission does not include the value of any indirect benefits which the firm may receive in accordance with COB 2.2.

5.7.6 R  In determining the amount to be disclosed as remuneration - commission equivalent in accordance with COB 5.7.5R a firm must put a proper value on the cash payments, benefits and services provided to its employees and agents representatives in connection with the transaction.

5.7.7 G  [deleted] For an adopted packaged product COB 5.7.6 R includes all cash payments, benefits and services provided by the provider of the adopted packaged product.

5.7.8 E  (1) When determining the value of cash payments, benefits and services under COB 5.7.6R, a provider-firm should follow the provisions of COB 5.7.16E.
5.7.10 R The requirement in COB 5.7.5R to disclose to a private customer the amount or value, in cash terms, of remuneration or commission or equivalent does not apply if the firm provides the private customer with example key features, in accordance with COB 6.2.7R (Life policies) and COB 6.2.22R (Schemes), provided that the firm discloses to the private customer the actual amount of value of remuneration or commission or equivalent within five business days of effecting the transaction.

COB 5.7.8E applies only to a firm which is a product provider firm. This table sets out the basis on which the firm should determine the value of cash payments, benefits and services to be disclosed as remuneration–commission equivalent under COB 5.7.5R. Benefits and services, as set out in parts B and C below, need be included only where their value is such that they could not be provided to an independent intermediary a firm as an indirect benefit under COB 2.2.6G (Packaged products – guidance on indirect benefits) and COB 2.2.7G (Reasonable indirect benefits – joint marketing exercises).

The result of the calculation should be that the amounts disclosed as commission equivalent are, as far as possible, the same as the amounts and value of commission which would be paid in a corresponding sale.

Part A: Cash payments

1. These cover all payments by a firm to a representative, appointed representative or a firm in the same immediate group in relation to a transaction in a packaged product, including:

(a) payments to any employee or representative of the firm in respect of the transaction (for example, a manager’s override), including any payments from the firm to introducers;

(b) …

(c) that element of any payment made in relation to other business which may be considered to result directly or indirectly from the transaction; for example, any extra element of remuneration commission equivalent payable on the sale of a mortgage which is to be repaid through an investment in a packaged product;

(d) payments resulting directly from business written in previous years (for example, renewal remuneration commission equivalent), which are conditional on the completion of minimum amounts of new business;

(e) …

(f) salaries and other payments which do not relate directly to any one transaction, provided they are treated similarly to ‘benefits’ and ‘services’ (see paragraph 14).

2. In determining the amounts to be included in the calculation, a firm should have regard to the following:

(a) When the precise rate of remuneration commission equivalent is not known in advance …
(c) When a payment is made before the firm receives the premium or the investment monies to which it relates (for example, indemnity remuneration commission equivalent), it should be included as being received at the time of payment. If the adviser representative or the product provider wishes to explain this arrangement to the customer, he is free to do so, provided this does not detract from the required disclosure.

Part C Services

5. These include benefits which could not be provided to an independent intermediary a firm, A, as an indirect benefit (under COB 2.2.3R (Prohibition of inducements) and COB 2.2.6G (Packaged products – guidance on indirect benefits)), and which the intermediary A would therefore have to fund out of its disclosable commission. For those services which can be provided as an indirect benefit, it is not necessary for the firm providing the benefit, B, actually to provide services to another firm, A, for it to be able to apply this criterion in relation to its employees, representatives or agents.

6. The following services should be included:

(a) …

(b) loans where a commercial rate of interest is not charged, including remuneration commission equivalent advances overdue for repayment;

7. To put a value on these services, the following costs should be included:

(h) in respect of marketing group associates a firm in the same immediate group and connected appointed representatives, where the name of the company is included in the direct offer financial promotion, the costs of any promotion in a newspaper or elsewhere and the provision of representative specific literature specific to the representative in connection with a direct offer financial promotion.

8. The following costs should be excluded:

(g) the costs of head office and branch level management and support, other than payments to managers falling under Part 1, for representatives, where these services could also be provided to an independent intermediary a firm not in the same immediate group, for example, broker branches consultants and ‘inspectors’;

Part D: Calculation methodology actuarial advice

9. A long-term insurer or friendly society should take the advice of its appointed actuary (or if does not have one, an actuary) in determining the costs of benefits and services to be included and their apportionment over individual packaged product transactions. Where the firm does not follow its actuary’s advice, it should notify the FSA, giving the reasons for that decision and the alternative assumptions it plans to use.

Estimating commission equivalent

The cost of benefits and services should normally be based on the most recent relevant experience of the firm, except where one of the following applies:

(a) the firm has reasonable grounds to believe that the commission equivalent for the period concerned will be higher than that implied by the experience; or

(b) the firm has strong grounds to believe that the commission equivalent for the period concerned will be lower than that implied by the experience; or

(c) no such experience is available.

If any of (a) to (c) applies, the estimate should be based on and evidenced by business plans which the firm is satisfied on reasonable grounds are achievable.

Delete the text COB 5.7.16E (10) to (12) and replace with the following new text for COB 5.7.16E(10) to (19), which is not shown underlined.

10. Firms that receive or expect to receive:

(a) commission in respect of packaged products which are not its own products or the products of a product provider who is in the same immediate group; and

(b) commission equivalent in respect of its own products must ensure that the costs and benefits attributed to these products do not exceed the amounts that can be financed from that commission.

Construction of Remuneration commission equivalent scales

11. The total costs of cash payments, benefits and services should be assessed and the normal approach is to split them into new business costs and after sale servicing costs. The costs of each of these functions should be assessed directly in relation to the work carried out by the representatives.

12. (a) The commission equivalent costs identified in 11 should be spread across the business using a new business commission equivalent scale and a servicing commission equivalent scale respectively. The new business commission equivalent scales when applied to the total value/volumes of business should reproduce the total new business commission equivalent costs, and similarly for the servicing scales.

(b) The commission equivalent scales should distinguish between products for which the commission equivalent to representatives is likely to be different.

13. Where the representative's commission equivalent includes a cash payment related to volume and/or value of the transactions sold, the following method would be appropriate:

(a) The basic payment scale should comprise a new business payment scale and a servicing payment scale. The cost of benefits and services should be expressed in the form of a new business uplift factor and a servicing uplift factor. So the "new business uplift factor" would be the cost of new benefits and services divided by the new business payments. The "servicing uplift factor" would be the cost of servicing benefits and services divided by servicing payments.

(b) The payment scales should be grossed up by new business uplift factors or servicing uplift factors as appropriate to reflect the cost of benefits and services. The grossed up scales represent the new business and servicing commission equivalent scales, and are applied to each contract to derive the commission equivalent to be disclosed.

(c) Where the level of payment in the first year of a policy equals the level of payment in subsequent years then "new business payments" refers to payments in the first year of a contract and "servicing payment" refers to the level of payment in subsequent years.

(d) If servicing costs are expected to be incurred in any year in which no servicing payments are to be made on a contract, disclosure should still be made, for example by using a technique similar to that described in 14.
14. (a) When a representative receives a salary, or other payment unrelated to volume or sales:

(i) this should be amalgamated with the cost of benefits and services; and

(ii) the total costs should be apportioned over individual transactions in a way that reflects the value of a contract to a firm or the firm's immediate group.

(b) Where the 'same uplift factor' approach is adopted, the proportion of payments foregone must be allowed for in calculating the uplift factor.

15. Where other methods of commission equivalent are employed, for example, part salary and part related to the volume/value of the sale, the salary element should be added to the cost of benefits and services and the method in 13 should be used.

16. Where a representative agrees to forgo part of his or her normal payment to improve the terms of the contract, the same uplift factor (in line with 13(a)) may be applied to the reduced payment, or the same monetary cost of benefits and services may be used, subject to the following constraints:

(a) the same uplift factor approach should only be adopted if the customer will also receive the full benefit of the lower of:

(i) the reduction in the amount of disclosed commission equivalent for non-financial benefits and services; and

(ii) an equivalent proportion of the policy loadings intended to cover non-financial benefits and services.

(b) Where the 'same uplift factor' approach is adopted, the proportion of payments foregone must be allowed for in calculating the uplift factor.

(c) Where an average scale of commission equivalent is used, the percentage reduction in payment in respect of the individual representative may be applied to the average payment in order to calculate the reduced payment.

17. The firm should review the commission equivalent scales if at any time it becomes aware that the commission equivalent figures have become misleading. A review should take place at least annually.
18. When an identical commission equivalent scale applies to all representatives (although they might earn differing percentages of it), the same average amount of commission equivalent (and the value of other benefits and services) in respect of identical transactions may be disclosed, regardless of the percentage of the scale paid to each individual representative. Averaging may be used for representatives on the same scale and employees of firms in the same immediate group, but not appointed representatives.

Payments to associates

19. Where a firm pays commission equivalent to a another firm in the same immediate group, or an appointed representative which is an associate of the firm, it should ensure that the calculation of the sum to be disclosed is the higher of:

(a) all payments, benefits and services provided to the firm or appointed representative, from whatever source, plus an additional allowance for profit of 15% - unless the firm can demonstrate that another figure (higher or lower) is more appropriate; and

(b) the cash payments actually paid by the firm, plus the value of services provided.

Investment

We will advise and make a recommendation for you after we have assessed your needs.

You will not receive advice or a recommendation from us. We may ask some questions to narrow down the selection of products that we will provide details on. You will then need to make your own choice about how to proceed.

We will provide basic advice on a limited range of stakeholder products and in order to do this we will ask some questions about your income, savings and other circumstances but we will not:

- Conduct a full assessment of your needs;
- Offer advice on whether a non-stakeholder product may be more suitable.

9 — Group personal pensions [Notes 40, 41 and 42]

This meeting has been arranged so that we can provide you with information about advice upon whether or not you should join the Group Personal Pension scheme which your employer has established. You should be aware that we cannot advise upon or recommend any other specific investment products during this meeting.

[Note 40] Message from the Financial Services Authority
Think carefully about this information before deciding whether you want to go ahead.
If you are at all unsure about which lifetime mortgage or home reversion scheme is right for you, you should ask your adviser to make a recommendation.

Please remember that home reversion schemes are not regulated by the FSA.

The following notes do not form part of the CIDD.

Note 1 – subject to this, a firm may use its own house style and brand.

Note 2 – the Financial Services Authority has developed a common keyfacts logo to be used on significant pieces of information directed to customers. ICOB 4.2.6R sets out the requirements on the use of the key facts logo. The keyfacts logo and the text 'about our services' must be used and positioned as shown in the CIDD. The logo may be re-sized, but it must be reasonably prominent and its proportions must not be distorted. When reproducing the logo, firms may use colour providing this does not diminish the prominence of the logo. A specimen of the keyfacts logo can be obtained from the FSA website http://www.fsa.gov.uk/pubs/other/keyfacts_logo.

Note 3 – insert the firm's or appointed representative’s name (either the name under which it is authorised or the name under which it trades). A corporate logo or logos may be included.

Note 4 – if an individual who is employed or engaged by an appointed representative provides the information, the individual should not put his or her own name on the CIDD.

Note 5 – insert the head office or if more appropriate the principal place of business from which the firm or appointed representative expects to conduct business (this can include a branch) with customers. (An appointed representative must not include the name and address of the authorised firm instead of its own.)

Section 2: Whose products do we offer?

Note 6 – for services in relation to packaged products and regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and home reversion schemes the firm must select, for example by ticking, one box which is appropriate for the service which it expects to provide to the customer. For services in relation to non-investment insurance contracts, the firm must select more than one box if the scope of the service or the type of service it provides to a particular customer varies by type of contract. For example, if it deals with a single insurance undertaking for motor insurance and a range of insurance undertakings for household insurance or if it provides advice on some types of contract but not others. In the case where more than one box is selected, the firm should specify which box relates to which type of non-investment insurance contract, by adding text to the CIDD. This needs to be done only in relation to the service it is offering to a particular customer.

Note 6A – if a firm indicates that it will be providing basic advice on stakeholder products then the first box in section 2 must not be ticked as the firm will not be doing so on the basis of advice on investments from the whole market.

Note 7 - if the CIDD is provided by an appointed representative, the service described must be that offered by the appointed representative, in accordance with COB 5, ICOB 4.2.8R note 1(e) and MCOB 4.3.10R.

Note 8 – insert “can” if the firm’s range of products is determined by any contractual obligation. This does not apply where a product provider, insurer, lender or company is selling its own products.

Note 9 – if the insurance intermediary deals with a different insurance undertaking for different types of non-investment insurance contracts, it should identify all the insurance undertakings and specify the type of contract to which they relate on the CIDD. This only needs to be done in relation to the service it is offering a particular customer. For example, “we can only offer products from ABC Insurance for motor insurance and XYZ Insurance for household insurance”.

Note 10 – if the firm selects this box, it will be offering the products of one provider to the customer for a particular product type. It should therefore follow the format specified in (1) below except when offering its own products, in which case it should follow (2) instead. In the case of non-investment insurance contracts, where the firm is providing a service in relation to different types of insurance, this box covers the situation where it is offering a particular type of insurance from a single insurance undertaking. If the firm does not select this box, then the text must follow that set out in note 13 below.

(1) Insert the name of the provider, namely the product provider for packaged products, the insurance undertaking(s) for non-investment insurance contracts, the lender for regulated mortgage contracts and regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and the company for home reversion schemes. For example: "We can only offer products from [name of product provider]". For non-investment insurance contracts the type of insurance offered should also be included. For example: "We only offer XYZ's household insurance and ABC's motor insurance." If the provider has only one product, the firm must amend the text to the singular – for example: "We can only offer a mortgage from [name of lender]". If the firm does not offer all of the packaged products or mortgages or home reversion schemes generally available from that provider, it must insert the words "a limited range of" as shown in the specimen.

(2) If the firm is a product provider offering only its own products, or is part of a product provider offering only the products sold under that part’s trading name, it should use this alternative text.
Note 11 – for services provided in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and home reversion schemes, this sentence is required only where a firm selects this service option. It may also be omitted if a the firm chooses to list all of the companies lenders it offers mortgages from instead of the text "a limited number of lenders", in the previous line, so long as the firm offers all of the products generally available from each provider lender.

Note 12 – this sentence is required only where a firm selects this service option. For services provided in relation to packaged products, the list of products will be the range of packaged products that is appropriate having regard to the services that the firm is providing, or may provide, to the customer. For services provided in relation to non-investment insurance contracts, this is the list required by ICOB 4.2.14R.

Note 13 – if the firm does not select this box, it must alter the wording to say "a single group of companies" for packaged products, "a single insurer" for non-investment insurance contracts, "a single lender" for regulated mortgage contracts or regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and "a single company" for home reversion schemes. For example: "We only offer the products from a single group of companies" should replace the text in the specimen CIDD.

Note 14 – change “mortgage” to “lifetime mortgage” where the firm sells only regulated lifetime mortgage contracts. Firms must insert the text relating to home reversion schemes and change “mortgage” to “product” and “lender” to “company” if they advise or give personalised information on home reversion schemes in addition to advising or giving personalised information on regulated lifetime mortgage contracts.

Section 4: What will you have to pay us for our services?

Note 15 – firms are only required to provide a private customer with an appropriate "keyfacts guide to the costs of services" (i.e. a menu) if they propose to give that customer advice on packaged products. Where a firm is not required to provide that customer with a menu because the firm does not intend to give him advice on packaged products, the firm may omit the part of section 4 of the CIDD that relates to packaged products, then it should tick the second box in section 4.

Note 16 – if the customer will be charged a fee for insurance mediation activities in connection with non-investment insurance contracts, insert a plain language description of what each fee is for and when each fee is payable. This should include any fees for advising on or arranging a non-investment insurance contract and any fees over the life of the contract, for example, for mid-term adjustments. If a firm does not charge a fee the text in the first box should be abbreviated to ‘A fee’. If the firm is offering more than one type of service in connection with non-investment insurance contracts, the firm may aggregate the fees over all the services provided, and (if that is the case) identify the services for which there is no fee.

Note 17 – if the firm receives commission instead of, or in addition to, fees from the customer for services relating to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes, it must insert a plain language explanation of this (see specimen for a plain language example). If the firm will pay over to the customer any commission the firm receives, it may refer to that fact here.

Note 18 – insert a plain language description of when any fees are payable for services relating to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes. This description could include, for example, a cash amount, a percentage of the loan or reversion amount or the amount per hour, as appropriate. However, where a cash amount is not disclosed, one or more examples of the cash amount must be included. If a firm offers more than one pricing option, it may illustrate each with a separate box. If a firm does not charge a fee, the text for the second box should be abbreviated to 'A fee'.

Note 19 – omit this part of the CIDD on ‘Refund of fees’ if the firm has indicated that there will be “No fee” for services in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes or that any fee will be payable only if the product completes.

Note 20 – firms may select as many boxes as appropriate.

Note 21 – insert a short, plain language description of the circumstances in which the fee for services in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes is refundable or not refundable as described.

Note 22 – a firm may delete this line if it does not offer a partial refund for services in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes in any circumstances.

Section 5: Who regulates us?

Note 23 – the firm may omit this section for services relating to packaged products if the firm has, on first contact with the customer, provided the customer with its terms of business which contains that information including the firm’s permitted business. This section may be omitted for services relating to non-investment insurance contracts if the firm provides the information covered by this section where it is required by ICOB 4.2.8R to the customer by some other means. This section may be omitted for services relating to regulated mortgage contracts (including regulated lifetime mortgage contracts) and home reversion schemes in accordance with MCOB 4.4.1R(3). If this section is omitted, the other sections of the CIDD must be renumbered accordingly.

Note 24 – if the firm’s address on the FSA Register differs from that given on the CIDD under note 5, the address on the FSA Register must be given in this section. If the address is the same as that given under note 5 it should be repeated in this section.

Note 25 – where the authorised firm trades under a different name from that under which it is authorised, it must include the name under which it is authorised and listed in the FSA Register. It may also include its trading name(s) if it wishes.
Note 26 - an incoming EEA firm will need to modify this section if it chooses to use this CIDD (see GEN 4 Ann 1R(2)).

Note 27 – insert a short, plain language description of the business for which the firm has a permission which relates to the service it is providing.

Note 28 – where the information is provided by an appointed representative, the appointed representative must use this text instead. The appointed representative must give details of the authorised firm(s) that is its principal(s) for each type of service that it is providing to a particular customer.

Section 6: Loans and ownership

Note 29 – omit this section where there are no relevant loan or ownership arrangements under the following notes or if the firm is an insurer selling its own non-investment insurance contracts. If this section is omitted the other sections of the CIDD must be renumbered accordingly. If the firm is not providing services in relation to packaged products, the heading of this section must be changed to 'Ownership'. Where the information is provided by an appointed representative, it must cover loans made to or by that appointed representative or holdings in, or held by, that appointed representative as appropriate.

Notes 30, 31 and 32 apply only to a firm advising on, dealing in, or arranging in relation to packaged products for private customers.

Note 30 – insert, in the firm's own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of the firm which is held by a provider of packaged products or by the parent of the provider.

Note 31 – insert, in the firm’s own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of a provider of packaged products which is held by the firm.

Note 32 – insert, in the firm’s own words, a short description of any credit provided to the firm by a product provider (other than commission due to the firm in accordance with an indemnity claw-back arrangement) or by any undertaking in the immediate group of the product provider where the amount of the credit exceeds 10 per cent of the share and loan capital of the firm.

Notes 33 and 34 apply to an insurance intermediary that is not an insurer providing services in relation to non-investment insurance contracts.

Note 33 – insert, in the insurance intermediary’s own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of the insurance intermediary which is held by an insurance undertaking or by the parent of an insurance undertaking.
Note 34 – insert, in the insurance intermediary’s own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of an insurance undertaking which is held by the insurance intermediary.

Section 7: What to do if you have a complaint

Note 35 – if different to the address in note 5, give the address and telephone number which is to be used by customers wishing to complain.

Note 36 – this text may be omitted for non-investment insurance contracts if the insurance intermediary is aware that a commercial customer would not be an eligible complainant.

Note 36A – if the CIDD is provided by an authorised professional firm which is exclusively carrying on non-mainstream regulated activities, the authorised professional firm should delete this sentence and refer to the alternative complaints handling arrangements. It should also omit the information required under note 14.

Note 37 – if the firm is carrying on an activity from an establishment which is outside the United Kingdom it must make clear that the Financial Ombudsman Service will not be available. The firm may refer to any similar complaints scheme that may be applicable.

Section 8: Are we covered by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS)?

Note 38 – when an incoming EEA firm provides the CIDD, it must modify this section as appropriate.

Note 38A - when a firm which is not a participant firm provides the CIDD, it must answer this question ‘No’ and should state the amount of cover provided (if any) and from whom further information about the compensation arrangements may be obtained. It should also omit the information required under note 14.

Note 39 – where the insurance intermediary provides a service in relation to a compulsory class of insurance, such as employers’ liability insurance, it must use this alternative text.

Note 39A – where the insurance intermediary provides a service in relation to a contract which covers both a compulsory class of insurance and a class of insurance which is not compulsory, it should indicate the level of compensation that applies to each class.

Section 9: Group personal pensions

Note 40 – firms should only include section 9 if they intend to give information about, or advise on, the opportunity for employees to join a group personal pension scheme established by their employer. In all other cases it should be omitted entirely.

Note 41 – the words in square brackets should be omitted or included, as appropriate, depending upon whether the firm is advising employees whether or not to join a group.
personal pension scheme, or merely providing them with factual information about the scheme.

Note 42—although firms must not use the occasion of a meeting to discuss a group personal pension scheme as an opportunity to give advice on other designated investments, this does not preclude the provision of advice on non-investment insurance contracts, regulated mortgage contracts or regulated lifetime mortgage contracts. A firm may also, when giving advice on a group personal pension scheme, suggest that a further meeting be arranged to discuss designated investments and if so must provide a further appropriate IDD or CIDD.

Lifetime mortgage warning

Note 403 - This warning box should be added when the firm sells regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes or both.

Most types of investment business are covered for 100% of the first £30,000 and 90% of the next £20,000 so the maximum compensation is £48,000.

Insurance
Insurance advising and arranging is covered for 100% of the first £2,000 and 90% of the remainder of the claim, without any upper limit.

[or] [Note 39] [Note 39A]

For compulsory classes of insurance, insurance advising and arranging is covered for 100% of the claim, without any upper limit.

[Lifetime] Mortgages [and home reversion schemes] [Note 14]
Mortgage advising and arranging is covered for 100% of the first £30,000 and 90% of the next £20,000 so the maximum compensation is £48,000. [Home reversion schemes are not covered by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme.] [Note 14]

Further information about compensation scheme arrangements is available from the FSCS.

9—— Group personal pensions [Notes 40, 41 and 42]

This meeting has been arranged so that we can provide you with [information about] [advice upon whether or not you should join] the Group Personal Pension scheme which your employer has established. You should be aware that we cannot advise upon or recommend any other specific investment products during this meeting.

[Note 40] Message from the Financial Services Authority
Think carefully about this information before deciding whether you want to go ahead. If you are at all unsure about which lifetime mortgage or home reversion scheme is right for you, you should ask your adviser to make a recommendation.

Please remember that home reversion schemes are not regulated by the FSA.
The following notes do not form part of the CIDD.

Note 1 – subject to this, a firm may use its own house style and brand.

Note 2 – the Financial Services Authority has developed a common keyfacts logo to be used on significant pieces of information directed to customers. ICOB 4.2.6R sets out the requirements on the use of the key facts logo. The keyfacts logo and the text 'about our services' must be used and positioned as shown in the CIDD. The logo may be re-sized, but it must be reasonably prominent and its proportions must not be distorted. When reproducing the logo, firms may use colour providing this does not diminish the prominence of the logo. A specimen of the keyfacts logo can be obtained from the FSA website http://www.fsa.gov.uk/pubs/other/keyfacts_logo.

Note 3 – insert the firm’s or appointed representative’s name (either the name under which it is authorised or the name under which it trades). A corporate logo or logos may be included.

Note 4 – if an individual who is employed or engaged by an appointed representative provides the information, the individual should not put his or her own name on the CIDD.

Note 5 – insert the head office or if more appropriate the principal place of business from which the firm or appointed representative expects to conduct business (this can include a branch) with customers. (An appointed representative must not include the name and address of the authorised firm instead of its own.)

Section 2: Whose products do we offer?

Note 6 – for services in relation to packaged products and regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and home reversion schemes the firm must select, for example by ticking, one box which is appropriate for the service which it expects to provide to the customer. For services in relation to non-investment insurance contracts, the firm must select more than one box if the scope of the service or the type of service it provides to a particular customer varies by type of contract. For example, if it deals with a single insurance undertaking for motor insurance and a range of insurance undertakings for household insurance or if it provides advice on some types of contract but not others. In the case where more than one box is selected, the firm should specify which box relates to which type of non-investment insurance contract, by adding text to the CIDD. This needs to be done only in relation to the service it is offering to a particular customer.

Note 6A – if a firm indicates that it will be providing basic advice on stakeholder products then the first box in section 2 must not be ticked as the firm will not be doing so on the basis of advice on investments from the whole market.

Note 7 - if the CIDD is provided by an appointed representative, the service described must be that offered by the appointed representative, in accordance with COB 5, ICOB 4.2.8R note 1(e) and MCOB 4.3.10R.
Note 8 – insert “can” if the firm’s range of products is determined by any contractual obligation. This does not apply where a product provider, insurer, lender or company is selling its own products.

Note 9 – if the insurance intermediary deals with a different insurance undertaking for different types of non-investment insurance contracts, it should identify all the insurance undertakings and specify the type of contract to which they relate on the CIDD. This only needs to be done in relation to the service it is offering a particular customer. For example, “we can only offer products from ABC Insurance for motor insurance and XYZ Insurance for household insurance”.

Note 10 – if the firm selects this box, it will be offering the products of one provider to the customer for a particular product type. It should therefore follow the format specified in (1) below except when offering its own products, in which case it should follow (2) instead. In the case of non-investment insurance contracts, where the firm is providing a service in relation to different types of insurance, this box covers the situation where it is offering a particular type of insurance from a single insurance undertaking. If the firm does not select this box, then the text must follow that set out in note 13 below.

(1) Insert the name of the provider, namely the product provider for packaged products, the insurance undertaking(s) for non-investment insurance contracts, the lender for regulated mortgage contracts and regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and the company for home reversion schemes. For example: "We can only offer products from [name of product provider]". For non-investment insurance contracts the type of insurance offered should also be included. For example: "We only offer XYZ's household insurance and ABC’s motor insurance." If the provider has only one product, the firm must amend the text to the singular – for example: "We can only offer a mortgage from [name of lender]". If the firm does not offer all of the packaged products or mortgages or home reversion schemes generally available from that provider, it must insert the words "a limited range of" as shown in the specimen.

(2) If the firm is a product provider offering only its own products, or is part of a product provider offering only the products sold under that part’s trading name, it should use this alternative text.

Note 11 – for services provided in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and home reversion schemes, this sentence is required only where a firm selects this service option. It may also be omitted if a the firm chooses to list all of the companies lenders it offers mortgages from instead of the text "a limited number of lenders", in the previous line, so long as the firm offers all of the products generally available from each provider lender.

Note 12 – this sentence is required only where a firm selects this service option. For services provided in relation to packaged products, the list of products will be the range of packaged products that is appropriate having regard to the services that the firm is providing, or may provide, to the customer. For services provided in relation to non-investment insurance contracts, this is the list required by ICOB 4.2.14R.
Note 13 – if the firm does not select this box, it must alter the wording to say "a single group of companies" for packaged products, "a single insurer" for non-investment insurance contracts, "a single lender" for regulated mortgage contracts or regulated lifetime mortgage contracts and "a single company" for home reversion schemes. For example: "We only offer the products from a single group of companies" should replace the text in the specimen CIDD.

Note 14 – change “mortgage” to “lifetime mortgage” where the firm sells only regulated lifetime mortgage contracts. Firms must insert the text relating to home reversion schemes and change “mortgage” to “product” and “lender” to “company” if they advise or give personalised information on home reversion schemes in addition to advising or giving personalised information on regulated lifetime mortgage contracts.

Section 4: What will you have to pay us for our services?

Note 15 – firms are only required to provide a private customer with an appropriate "keyfacts guide to the costs of services” (i.e. a menu) if they propose to give that customer advice on packaged products. Where a firm is not required to provide that customer with a menu because the firm does not intend to give him advice on packaged products, the firm may omit the part of section 4 of the CIDD that relates to packaged products then it should tick the second box in section 4.

Note 16 – if the customer will be charged a fee for insurance mediation activities in connection with non-investment insurance contracts, insert a plain language description of what each fee is for and when each fee is payable. This should include any fees for advising on or arranging a non-investment insurance contract and any fees over the life of the contract, for example, for mid-term adjustments. If a firm does not charge a fee the text in the first box should be abbreviated to 'A fee'. If the firm is offering more than one type of service in connection with non-investment insurance contracts, the firm may aggregate the fees over all the services provided, and (if that is the case) identify the services for which there is no fee.

Note 17 – if the firm receives commission instead of, or in addition to, fees from the customer for services relating to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes, it must insert a plain language explanation of this (see specimen for a plain language example). If the firm will pay over to the customer any commission the firm receives, it may refer to that fact here.

Note 18 – insert a plain language description of when any fees are payable for services relating to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes. This description could include, for example, a cash amount, a percentage of the loan or reversion amount or the amount per hour, as appropriate. However, where a cash amount is not disclosed, one or more examples of the cash amount must be included. If a firm offers more than one pricing option, it may illustrate each with a separate box. If a firm does not charge a fee, the text for the second box should be abbreviated to 'A fee'.

Note 19 – omit this part of the CIDD on ‘Refund of fees’ if the firm has indicated that there will be “No fee” for services in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes or that any fee will be payable only if the product completes.

Note 20 – firms may select as many boxes as appropriate.

Note 21 – insert a short, plain language description of the circumstances in which the fee for services in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes is refundable or not refundable as described.

Note 22 – a firm may delete this line if it does not offer a partial refund for services in relation to regulated mortgage contracts, regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes in any circumstances.

Section 5: Who regulates us?

Note 23 – the firm may omit this section for services relating to packaged products if the firm has, on first contact with the customer, provided the customer with its terms of business which contains that information including the firm’s permitted business. This section may be omitted for services relating to non-investment insurance contracts if the firm provides the information covered by this section where it is required by ICOB 4.2.8R to the customer by some other means. This section may be omitted for services relating to regulated mortgage contracts (including regulated lifetime mortgage contracts) and home reversion schemes in accordance with MCOB 4.4.1R(3). If this section is omitted, the other sections of the CIDD must be renumbered accordingly.

Note 24 – if the firm’s address on the FSA Register differs from that given on the CIDD under note 5, the address on the FSA Register must be given in this section. If the address is the same as that given under note 5 it should be repeated in this section.

Note 25 – where the authorised firm trades under a different name from that under which it is authorised, it must include the name under which it is authorised and listed in the FSA Register. It may also include its trading name(s) if it wishes.

Note 26 - an incoming EEA firm will need to modify this section if it chooses to use this CIDD (see GEN 4 Ann 1R(2)).

Note 27 – insert a short, plain language description of the business for which the firm has a permission which relates to the service it is providing.

Note 28 – where the information is provided by an appointed representative, the appointed representative must use this text instead. The appointed representative must give details of the authorised firm(s) that is its principal(s) for each type of service that it is providing to a particular customer.

Section 6: Loans and ownership
Note 29 – omit this section where there are no relevant loan or ownership arrangements under the following notes or if the firm is an insurer selling its own non-investment insurance contracts. If this section is omitted the other sections of the CIDD must be renumbered accordingly. If the firm is not providing services in relation to packaged products, the heading of this section must be changed to 'Ownership'. Where the information is provided by an appointed representative, it must cover loans made to or by that appointed representative or holdings in, or held by, that appointed representative as appropriate.

Notes 30, 31 and 32 apply only to a firm advising on, dealing in, or arranging in relation to packaged products for private customers.

Note 30 – insert, in the firm's own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of the firm which is held by a provider of packaged products or by the parent of the provider.

Note 31 – insert, in the firm's own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of a provider of packaged products which is held by the firm.

Note 32 – insert, in the firm's own words, a short description of any credit provided to the firm by a product provider (other than commission due to the firm in accordance with an indemnity claw-back arrangement) or by any undertaking in the immediate group of the product provider where the amount of the credit exceeds 10 per cent of the share and loan capital of the firm.

Notes 33 and 34 apply to an insurance intermediary that is not an insurer providing services in relation to non-investment insurance contracts.

Note 33 – insert, in the insurance intermediary’s own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of the insurance intermediary which is held by an insurance undertaking or by the parent of an insurance undertaking.

Note 34 – insert, in the insurance intermediary’s own words, a short description of any direct or indirect holding of more than 10 per cent in the capital or voting power of an insurance undertaking which is held by the insurance intermediary.

Section 7: What to do if you have a complaint

Note 35 – if different to the address in note 5, give the address and telephone number which is to be used by customers wishing to complain.

Note 36 – this text may be omitted for non-investment insurance contracts if the insurance intermediary is aware that a commercial customer would not be an eligible complainant.

Note 36A – if the CIDD is provided by an authorised professional firm which is exclusively carrying on non-mainstream regulated activities, the authorised professional firm should delete this sentence and refer to the alternative complaints handling arrangements. It should also omit the information required under note 14.

Note 37 – if the firm is carrying on an activity from an establishment which is outside the United Kingdom it must make clear that the Financial Ombudsman Service will not be available. The firm may refer to any similar complaints scheme that may be applicable.

Section 8: Are we covered by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS)?

Note 38 – when an incoming EEA firm provides the CIDD, it must modify this section as appropriate.

Note 38A - when a firm which is not a participant firm provides the CIDD, it must answer this question 'No' and should state the amount of cover provided (if any) and from whom further information about the compensation arrangements may be obtained. It should also omit the information required under note 14.

Note 39 – where the insurance intermediary provides a service in relation to a compulsory class of insurance, such as employers’ liability insurance, it must use this alternative text.

Note 39A – where the insurance intermediary provides a service in relation to a contract which covers both a compulsory class of insurance and a class of insurance which is not compulsory, it should indicate the level of compensation that applies to each class.

Section 9: Group personal pensions

Note 40—firms should only include section 9 if they intend to give information about, or advise on, the opportunity for employees to join a group personal pension scheme established by their employer. In all other cases it should be omitted entirely.

Note 41—the words in square brackets should be omitted or included, as appropriate, depending upon whether the firm is advising employees whether or not to join a group personal pension scheme, or merely providing them with factual information about the scheme.

Note 42—although firms must not use the occasion of a meeting to discuss a group personal pension scheme as an opportunity to give advice on other designated investments, this does not preclude the provision of advice on non-investment insurance contracts, regulated mortgage contracts or regulated lifetime mortgage contracts. A firm may also, when giving advice on a group personal pension scheme, suggest that a further meeting be arranged to discuss designated investments and if so must provide a further appropriate IDD or CIDD.

Lifetime mortgage warning

Note 403 - This warning box should be added when the firm sells regulated lifetime mortgage contracts or home reversion schemes or both.

Money that is not client money: ‘opt outs’ for any business (including ISD business) other than insurance mediation activity

12.2.5  G [deleted]

What is a “network”?

12.2.6  G An independent intermediary. A firm is referred to as a ‘network’ if it appoints five or more appointed representatives or if it appoints less than five appointed representatives which have, between them, twenty-six or more financial advisers representatives. However, a network does not include:

(a) a product provider;

(b) a firm which markets the packaged products of a product provider in the same group as the firm and which does so other than by selecting products from the whole market;

(c) an insurer in relation to a non-investment insurance contract; or

(d) a mortgage lender.

Introducers; and representatives and financial advisers: what do these terms mean and what is the relationship with an appointed representative?

12.2.12  G A firm or its appointed representative may appoint or employ individuals to act as introducers, or representatives or financial advisers in respect of designated investment business.

12.2.13  G (1) An introducer is an individual appointed by a provider firm or by an appointed representative of such a firm to carry out, in the course of designated investment business, either or both of the following activities:
12.2.14  G  (1)  A representative is an individual who is appointed by a provider firm or an appointed representative…

(2) If a provider firm appoints an appointed representative who is an individual in (1), that appointed representative will also be a representative…

12.2.15  G  (4)  A financial adviser is an individual appointed by an independent intermediary or by its appointed representative to provide any or all of the following services:

(a) advising on investments which are designated investments;

(b) arranging (bringing about) deals in investments or executing transactions involving, in each case, designated investments with or for clients;

(c) managing investments;

(d) receiving or holding client money or other client assets;

(e) safeguarding and administering investments.

(2) Many of the activities for which an appointed representative can be appointed (see SUP 12.2.7G) are also within (1). If an independent intermediary appoints an appointed representative which is an individual in business on his own account, to perform such activities, that appointed representative will also be a financial adviser. The individual may need to be approved to perform the sole trader function and other relevant controlled functions (see SUP 12.6.8G and SUP 12.6.9G). Further, in these circumstances, in addition to complying with the requirements of SUP 12 and other regulatory requirements, the firm should ensure that the rules for financial advisers in COB 5 are complied with. [deleted]

12.5.6  G  (1) If the appointed representative is appointed to give advice on investments to private customers concerning packaged products, the firm should also satisfy itself that:

(a) the contract requires compliance with the rules in COB 5.1 (Polarisation and status disclosure Advising on packaged products); and.
(2) The contractual requirements in SUP 12.5.5R should extend to:

(a) the activities of the appointed representative, if the appointed representative is a representative, introducer or financial adviser an individual; or and

(b) the activities of the employees of, or representatives, and introducers and financial advisers appointed by, the appointed representative.

Purpose

1.1.12  G The purpose of this chapter is to set out the rules relating to the internal handling of complaints by firms, including the procedures which a firm must put in place, the time limits within which a firm must deal with a complaint, the referral of complaints, the records of a complaint which a firm must make and retain …

Requirement to have internal complaint handling procedures

1.2.1  R A firm, A, must have in place and operate appropriate and effective internal complaint handling procedures (which must be written down) for …
handling any expression of dissatisfaction, whether oral or written, and whether justified or not, from or on behalf of an eligible complainant about that firm's provision of, or failure to provide, a financial service; and referring to another firm, B, expressions of dissatisfaction about B's services, if A markets (or has marketed) B's financial services or if A's financial services are marketed by B.

The internal complaints handling procedures should provide for:

(2) responding to complaints;
(2A) referring complaints to other firms;
(3) the appropriate investigation of complaints; and

DISP 1.2.1R does not prevent the use of a third party administrator for the purposes of handling complaints.

It is acceptable for two or more firms to set up arrangements, such as a one-stop shop for complaints handling under a service level agreement, provided that this still secures for complainants an equivalent standard of service and, if appropriate, redress. Any such arrangements should be made clear to an eligible complainant.

Internal complaint handling procedures: additional requirements where the firm has taken reasonable steps to determine, and has determined, that the complaint:

(a) ...

(b) does not relate to an activity of that firm (or of any other firm with whom that firm has some connection in marketing financial services) which comes under the jurisdiction of the Financial Ombudsman Service; or

(c) ...

Written acknowledgement within five business days

1.4.1  A firm must send a written acknowledgement of a complaint to the complainant within five business days of its receipt, ...

Referring complaints

1.4.18  (1)  A firm which has reasonable grounds to be satisfied that another firm may be solely responsible for the fault alleged in a complaint may refer the complaint to that other firm, but if it does so it must:

(a)  refer the complaint promptly and in any event within five business days of the date on which it became satisfied that such other firm may be responsible for the subject matter of the complaint;

(b)  make the referral using a durable medium; and

(c)  inform the complainant of the referral by way of a final response and include the other firm's contact details.

(2)  A firm which has reasonable grounds to be satisfied that another firm may be jointly responsible for the fault alleged in a complaint, may refer the complaint to that other firm but if it does so it must:

(a)  refer the complaint promptly and in any event with five business days of the date on which it became satisfied that such other firm may be jointly responsible for the subject matter of the complaint;

(b)  make the referral on a durable medium;

(c)  at the same time inform the complainant of the referral and include the other firm's contact details; and

(d)  comply with the obligations in DISP as to the investigation of that part of the complaint that is the firm's responsibility and, as soon as possible, inform the complainant of the outcome by a final response.

Dealing with a referred complaint

1.4.19  When a firm receives a complaint referred to it under DISP 1.4.18R, the complaint is treated for the purposes of DISP as if made directly to that firm, and as if received by it when the referral was received.
1.4.20  G  On receiving a complaint referred by another firm, the standard time limits will apply from the date on which the firm receives the referral. In particular, DISP 1.4.1R requires the firm to send a written acknowledgement to the complainant within five business days. A firm should copy this acknowledgement to the firm which made the referral.

1.5.2  G  The records required by DISP 1.5.1R are for the purposes of monitoring by the FSA and also to ensure that the firm is able to cooperate, as necessary, with the Financial Ombudsman Service. They should include:

...

(2) ..., and

(3) any correspondence between the firm and the complainant including details of any redress offered by the firm; and

Appendix 2  Handling Mortgage Endowment Complaints

2.6.15  G  Product providers with windfall benefits in the form of policy augmentations should tell:

(1) their own relevant customers (mortgage endowment complainants); and

(2) independent financial advisers other firms with such customers (and any other interested parties); that they have excluded windfall augmentation benefits from values used or to be used for loss and redress. Firms should provide this information to the Financial Services Compensation Scheme when providing them with a value to be used for loss or redress. Should their own relevant customers, independent financial advisers other firms with such customers (and any other interested parties) and the Financial Services Compensation Scheme request it, the firm should provide the value of these benefits and a description of the method used to exclude them.

17.1.5 G The purpose of this chapter is to set out the rules relating to the internal handling of complaints by a credit union, including:

... (2A) the referral of complaints; ...

17.2.1 R A credit union must establish, maintain and implement appropriate and effective internal complaint handling procedures (which must be written down) for:
(1) handling any expression of dissatisfaction whether oral or written, and whether justified or not, from or on behalf of an eligible complainant about that credit union’s provision of, or failure to provide, a financial services activity; and

(2) referring to another firm, A, expressions of dissatisfaction about A's services, if the credit union markets (or has marketed) A's financial services or if the credit union's financial services are marketed by A.

17.2.4 G The internal complaint handling procedures should provide for:

(2A) referring complaints to other firms;

(3) the appropriate investigation of complaints; and

17.2.6 G (1) A credit union is not prevented from using a third party administrator (for example, an outside organisation) for the purposes of handling complaints.

(2) It is acceptable for two or more credit unions to set up arrangements, such as a one-stop shop for complaints handling under a service level agreement, provided that this still secures for complainants an equivalent standard of service and, if appropriate, redress. Any such arrangements should be made clear to an eligible complainant.

17.4.1 R The additional requirements in CRED 17.5 - CRED 17.7 (on time-limits, record-keeping; reporting and co-operation with Ombudsman) do not apply:

(1) where the credit union has taken reasonable steps to determine, and has determined, that the complaint:

(a) is not made by, or on behalf of, an eligible complainant; or

(b) does not relate to an activity of that credit union (or of any other firm with whom that credit union has some connection in marketing financial services) which comes under the jurisdiction of the Financial Ombudsman Service; or

Referring complaints

17.4.4 R (1) A credit union which has reasonable grounds to be satisfied that another firm may be solely responsible for the fault alleged in a complaint may refer the complaint to that other firm but if it does so it must:
(a) refer the complaint promptly and in any event within five business days of the date on which it became satisfied that such other firm may be responsible for the subject matter of the complaint;

(b) make the referral using a durable medium; and

(c) inform the complainant of the referral by way of a final response and include the other firm's contact details.

(2) A credit union which has reasonable grounds to be satisfied that another firm may be jointly responsible for the fault alleged in a complaint, may refer the complaint to that other firm but if it does so it must:

(a) refer the complaint promptly and in any event within five business days of the date on which it became satisfied that such other firm may be jointly responsible for the subject matter of the complaint;

(b) make the referral using a durable medium;

(c) at the same time inform the complainant of the referral and include the other firm's contact details; and

(d) comply with the obligations in CRED as to the investigation of that part of the complaint that is the credit union's responsibility and, as soon as possible, inform the complainant of the outcome by a final response.

Dealing with a referred complaint

17.4.5 R When a firm receives a complaint referred to it under CRED 17.4.4R, the complaint is treated for the purposes of CRED as if made directly to that firm, and as if received by it when the referral was received.

17.4.6 G On receiving a complaint referred by a firm, the standard time limits will apply from the date on which the credit union receives the referral. In particular, CRED 17.5.1 R requires the credit union to send a written acknowledgement to the complainant within five business days. A credit union should copy this acknowledgement to the firm which made the referral.

17.5.1  R  A credit union must send a written acknowledgement of a complaint to the complainant within five business days of its receipt, giving the name or job title of the person handling the complaint within the credit union (together with details of the credit union’s internal complaint handling procedures).

...

17.6.2  G  The records required are for the purposes of monitoring by the FSA and also to ensure that the credit union is able to cooperate, as necessary, with the Financial Ombudsman Service. These should include:

(1) the name of the complainant;

(2) the substance of the complaint;

(3) any correspondence between the credit union and the complainant including details of any redress offered by the credit union; and

(4) documentation relating to the referral of a complaint under CRED 17.4.4R.

5.3.2 G COB 1.2.1R (4) provides that COB does not apply to an authorised professional firm with respect to its non-mainstream regulated activities, except for:

(1) COB 2.1 (Clear, fair and not misleading communication), …; and

(2) (where these are insurance mediation activities) the IMD implementation provisions and COB 4.3.19R to 4.3.25R as if they also applied to a firm carrying out the activities in COB 4.3.19 R (1)(a)-(c) with or on behalf of private customers, unless:

(a) the designated professional body of the firm has made rules which implement some or all of articles 12 and 13 of the IMD;

(b) those rules have been approved by the FSA under section 332(5) of the Act; and

(c) the firm is subject to the rules in the form in which they were approved;

in which case they are disapplied to the extent that articles 12 and 13 of the IMD are implemented by the rules of the designated professional body.

(3) COB 1.2.1AG provides that the effect of COB 1.2.1R(4)(d) is that if the relevant designated professional body of an authorised professional firm does not make rules implementing articles 12 and 13 of the IMD applicable to authorised professional firms, those firms will need to comply with the IMD implementation provisions and COB 4.3.19R to 4.3.25R as if they also applied to a firm carrying out the activities in COB 4.3.19 R (1)(a)-(c) with or on behalf of private customers.
