11 Dealing and managing

11.3.6 G Without prejudice to the Market Abuse Directive, Market Abuse Regulation, for the purposes of the rule on the misuse of information (see COBS 11.3.5 R), any use by a firm of information relating to a pending client order in order to deal on own account in the financial instruments to which the client order relates, or in related financial instruments, should be considered a misuse of that information. However, the mere fact that market makers or bodies authorised to act as counterparties confine themselves to pursuing their legitimate business of buying and selling financial instruments, or that persons authorised to execute orders on behalf of third parties confine themselves to carrying out an order dutifully, should not in itself be deemed to constitute a misuse of information.

11.7 Personal account dealing

(a) that person is prohibited from entering into it under the Market Abuse Directive Regulation;

11.7.2A G  The requirements of this section are without prejudice to the prohibition under article 3(a) 14(c) of the Market Abuse Directive Regulation which prohibits any person who possesses inside information under article 2 of that directive from disclosing that information to any other person unless that disclosure is made in the normal course of the exercise of his employment, profession or duties.

[deleted]

Use of information barriers

12.4.3 G Obligations to disclose information do not require those producing research recommendations to breach effective information barriers put in place to prevent and avoid conflicts of interest.

[Note: recital 7 of the MAD Investment Recommendations Directive] [deleted]

Fair presentation and disclosure

12.4.4 R A firm must take reasonable care:

(1) to ensure that a research recommendation produced or disseminated by it is fairly presented; and

(2) to disclose its interests or indicate conflicts of interest concerning relevant investments.

[Note: article 6(5) of the Market Abuse Directive] [deleted]

12.4.4A EU [article 20(1) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

Identity of producers of recommendations

12.4.5 R (1) A firm must, in a research recommendation produced by it:

(a) disclose clearly and prominently the identity of the person responsible for its production, and in particular:
(i) the name and job title of the individual who prepared the research recommendation; and

(ii) the name of the firm; and

(b) (where the firm is an investment firm or a credit institution) disclose the identity of the competent authority of the firm.

(2) The requirements in (1) may be met for non-written research recommendations by referring to a place where the disclosures can be directly and easily accessed by the public, such as an appropriate internet site of the firm.

[Note: article 2 of the MAD Investment Recommendations Directive] [deleted]

General standard for fair presentation of recommendations

12.4.6 R (1) A firm must take reasonable care to ensure that:

(a) facts in a research recommendation are clearly distinguished from interpretations, estimates, opinions and other types of non-factual information;

(b) its sources for a research recommendation are reliable or if there is any doubt as to whether a source is reliable, this is clearly indicated;

(c) all projections, forecasts and price targets in a research recommendation are clearly labelled as such and the material assumptions made in producing or using them are indicated; and

(d) the substance of its research recommendations can be substantiated as reasonable, upon request by the FCA.

(2) The requirements in (1) do not apply, in the case of non-written research recommendations, to the extent that they would be disproportionate.

(3) A firm must make and retain sufficient records to disclose the basis of the substantiation required in (1)(d).

[Note: article 3 of the MAD Investment Recommendations Directive] [deleted]

Additional obligations in relation to fair presentation of recommendations

12.4.7 R (1) In addition a firm must take reasonable care to ensure that, in a research recommendation, at least:

(a) all substantially material sources are indicated, including, if appropriate, the issuer, and in particular the research recommendation indicates whether the research recommendation has been disclosed to that issuer.
and amended following this disclosure before its dissemination;

(b) any basis of valuation or methodology used to evaluate a security, a derivative or an issuer, or to set a price target for a security or a derivative, is adequately summarised;

(c) the meaning of any recommendation made, such as "buy", "sell" or "hold", which may include the time horizon of the security or derivative to which the research recommendation relates, is adequately explained and any appropriate risk warning, including a sensitivity analysis of the relevant assumptions, indicated;

(d) reference is made to the planned frequency, if any, of updates of the research recommendation and to any major changes in the coverage policy previously announced;

(e) the date at which the research recommendation was first released for distribution is indicated clearly and prominently, as well as the relevant date and time for any security or derivative price mentioned; and

(f) if the substance of a research recommendation differs from the substance of an earlier research recommendation concerning the same security, derivative or issuer issued during the 12-month period immediately preceding its release, this change and the date of the earlier research recommendation are indicated clearly and prominently.

(2) If the requirements in (1)(a), (b) or (c) would be disproportionate in relation to the length of the research recommendation, a firm may, instead, make clear and prominent reference in the research recommendation to the place where the required information can be directly and easily accessed by the public (such as a hyperlink to that information on an appropriate internet site of the firm) provided that there has been no change in the methodology or basis of valuation used.

(3) In the case of a non-written research recommendation, the requirements of (1) do not apply to the extent that they would be disproportionate.

[Note: article 4 of the MAD Investment Recommendations Directive] [deleted]

12.4.8 G The disclosures required under COBS 12.4.7R(1)(e) and COBS 12.4.7R(1)(f) article 20(3) of the Market Abuse Regulation may, if the firm person so chooses, be made by graphical means (for example by use of a line graph).

General standard for disclosure of interests and conflicts of interest

12.4.9 R (1) A firm must disclose, in a research recommendation:

(a) all of its relationships and circumstances that may reasonably be expected to impair the objectivity of the research recommendation, in particular a significant financial interest in any relevant investment which is the subject of the research recommendation, or a significant conflict of interest with respect to a relevant issuer; and

(b) relationships and circumstances, of the sort referred to in (a), of each legal or natural person working for the firm who was involved in preparing the substance of the research recommendation, including, in particular, for a firm which is an investment firm, disclosure of whether his remuneration is tied to investment banking transactions performed by the firm or any affiliated company.

(2) If the firm is a legal person, the information to be disclosed in accordance with (1) must at least include the following:

(a) any interests or conflicts of interest of the firm or of an affiliated company that are accessible, or reasonably expected to be accessible, to the persons involved in the preparation of the substance of the research recommendation; and

(b) any interests or conflicts of interest of the firm or of affiliated companies known to persons who, although not involved in the preparation of the substance of the research recommendation, had or could reasonably be expected to have access to the substance of the research recommendation prior to its dissemination, other than persons whose only access to the research recommendation is to ensure compliance with relevant regulatory or statutory obligations, including the disclosures required under this section.

(3) If the disclosures required under (1) and (2) would be disproportionate in relation to the length of the research recommendation distributed, a firm may, instead, make clear and prominent reference in the research recommendation to the place where such disclosures can be directly and easily accessed by the public (such as a hyperlink to the disclosure on an appropriate internet site of the firm).

(4) The requirements in (1) do not apply, in the case of non-written research recommendations, to the extent that they are disproportionate.

[Note: article 5 of the MAD Investment Recommendations Directive] [deleted]

Additional obligations for producers of research investment recommendations in relation to disclosure of interests or conflicts of interest

12.4.10 R (4) A research recommendation produced by a firm must disclose clearly and prominently the following information on its interests and conflicts of interest:

(a) major shareholdings that exist between it or any affiliated company on the one hand and the relevant issuer on the other hand, including at least:

(i) shareholdings exceeding 5% of the total issued share capital in the relevant issuer held by the firm or any affiliated company; or

(ii) shareholdings exceeding 5% of the total issued share capital of the firm or any affiliated company held by the relevant issuer;

(b) any other financial interests held by the firm or any affiliated company in relation to the relevant issuer which are significant in relation to the research recommendation;

c) if applicable, a statement that the firm or any affiliated company is a market maker or liquidity provider in the securities of the relevant issuer or in any related derivatives;

d) if applicable, a statement that the firm or any affiliated company has been lead manager or co-lead manager over the previous 12 months of any publicly disclosed offer of securities of the relevant issuer or in any related derivatives;

e) if applicable, a statement that the firm or any affiliated company is party to any other agreement with the relevant issuer relating to the provision of investment banking services, provided that:

(i) this would not entail the disclosure of any confidential commercial information; and

(ii) the agreement has been in effect over the previous 12 months or has given rise during the same period to a payment or to the promise of payment; and

(f) if applicable, a statement that the firm or any affiliated company is party to an agreement with the relevant issuer relating to the production of the research recommendation.

(2) A firm must disclose, in general terms, in the research recommendation the effective organisational and administrative arrangements set up within the firm for the prevention and avoidance of conflicts of interest with respect to research recommendations, including information barriers.

(3) In the case of an investment firm or a credit institution, if a legal or natural person working for the firm who is involved in the preparation of a research recommendation, receives or purchases shares of the relevant issuer prior to a public offering of those shares, the price at which the shares were acquired and the date of acquisition must also be disclosed in the research recommendation.

(4) A firm, which is an investment firm or a credit institution, must publish the following information on a quarterly basis, and must disclose it in its research recommendations:

(a) the proportion of all research recommendations published during the relevant quarter that are "buy", "hold", "sell" or equivalent terms; and
(b) the proportion of relevant investments in each of these categories, issued by issuers to which the firm supplied material investment banking services during the previous 12 months.

(5) If the requirements under (1) to (4) would be disproportionate in relation to the length of the research recommendation, a firm may, instead, make clear and prominent reference in the research recommendation to the place where such disclosure can be directly and easily accessed by the public (such as a hyperlink to the disclosure on an appropriate internet site of the firm, or, if relevant, to the firm’s conflicts of interest policy).

(6) In the case of non-written research recommendations, the requirements of (1) do not apply to the extent that they are disproportionate.

[Note: article 6 of the MAD Investment Recommendations Directive] [deleted]

12.4.11 G Nothing in COBS 12.4.10R(1)(a) prevents a firm from choosing to disclose significant shareholdings above a lower threshold (for example, 1%) than is required by COBS 12.4.10R(1)(a). A person may choose to disclose significant shareholdings above a lower threshold than is required by article 20(3) of the Market Abuse Regulation.

12.4.12 G COBS 12.4.10R(1)(a) and COBS 12.4.10R(1)(b) only require a firm to aggregate its shareholdings with those of affiliated companies if they act in concert in relation to those shareholdings. [deleted]

12.4.14 G The FCA considers that it is important for the proportions published in compliance with COBS 12.4.10R(4) to be consistent and meaningful to the recipients of the research recommendations. Accordingly for non-equity material, the relevant categories should be meaningful to the recipients in terms of the course of action being recommended. Where article 20(3) of the Market Abuse Regulation requires a disclosure of the proportions of all investment recommendations published that are “buy”, “hold”, “sell” or equivalent terms, the FCA considers it important for these equivalent terms to be consistent and meaningful to the recipients in terms of the course of actions being recommended, particularly for non-equity material.

Identity of disseminators of recommendations

12.4.15 R If a firm disseminates a research recommendation produced by a third party, the research recommendation must identify the firm clearly and prominently.

[Note: article 7 of the MAD Investment Recommendations Directive] [deleted]

General standard for dissemination of third party recommendations

12.4.16 R (4) If a research recommendation produced by a third party is substantially altered before dissemination by a firm:

(a) the disseminated material must clearly describe that alteration in detail;
and

(b) if the substantial alteration consists of a change of the direction of the recommendation (such as changing a “buy” recommendation into a “hold” or “sell” recommendation or vice versa), the requirements laid down in COBS 12.4.5R to COBS 12.4.11G on producers must be met by the firm, to the extent of the substantial alteration.

(2) A firm which disseminates a substantially altered research recommendation must have a formal written policy so that the persons receiving the information may be directed to where they can have access to the identity of the producer of the research recommendation, the research recommendation itself and the disclosure of the producer’s interests or conflicts of interest, provided that these elements are publicly available.

(3) If a firm disseminates a summary of a research recommendation produced by a third party, it must:

(a) ensure that the summary is fair, clear and not misleading;
(b) identify the source research recommendation; and
(c) identify where (to the extent that they are publicly available) the third party’s disclosures relating to the source research recommendation can be directly and easily accessed by the public.

(4) Paragraphs (1) and (2) do not apply to news reporting on research recommendations produced by a third party where the substance of the research recommendation is not altered.

[Note: article 8 of the MAD Investment Recommendations Directive] [deleted]

Additional obligations for investment firms and credit institutions disseminating third party recommendations

12.4.17 R If a firm, which is an investment firm or a credit institution, disseminates a research recommendation produced by a third party:

(1) the name of the competent authority of the firm must be clearly and prominently indicated on the disseminated material;

(2) if the producer of the research recommendation has not already disseminated it, the requirements in COBS 12.4.10R must be met by the firm as if it had produced the research recommendation itself; and

(3) if the firm has substantially altered the research recommendation, the requirements laid down in COBS 12.4.4R to COBS 12.4.10R must be met by the firm as if it had produced the research recommendation itself.

Annex H

Amendments to the Market Conduct sourcebook (MAR)

In this Annex, underlining indicates new text and striking through indicates deleted text.

1 The Code of Market Conduct Market Abuse

1.1 Application and interpretation

Application and purpose

[Note: ESMA has also issued guidelines under article 16(3) of the ESMA Regulation covering various topics relating to automated trading and direct electronic access.

1.1.1 G This chapter (which contains the Code of Market Conduct) applies is relevant to all persons seeking guidance on the market abuse regime.

1.1.1A G References in MAR 1 to the Act should be read to mean the Act as modified by the RAP regulations where the relevant behaviour occurs in relation to qualifying investments which are offered for sale on a prescribed auction platform. [deleted]

1.1.2 G This chapter provides assistance in determining whether or not behaviour amounts to market abuse. It also forms part of the UK’s implementation of the Market Abuse Directive (including its EU implementing legislation, that is Directive 2003/124/EC, Directive 2003/125/EC, Regulation 2273/2003 and Directive 2004/72/EC) and the auction regulation guidance on the Market Abuse Regulation. It is therefore likely to be helpful to persons who:

(1) want to avoid engaging in market abuse or to avoid requiring or encouraging another to do so; or

(2) want to determine whether they are required by SUP 15.10 (Reporting suspicious transactions (market abuse)) article 16 of the Market Abuse Regulation to report a transaction or order to the FCA as a suspicious one.

1.1.3 G The FCA’s statement of policy about the imposition, duration and amount of penalties in cases of market abuse (required by section 124 of the Act) is in DEPP 6.

Using MAR 1

1.1.4 G (1) Assistance in the interpretation of MAR 1 (and the remainder of the Handbook) is given in the Readers’ Guide to the Handbook and in GEN 2 (Interpreting the Handbook). This includes an explanation of the status of the types of provision used (see in particular chapter six of the Readers’ Guide to the Handbook).

(2) Provisions designated with "C" indicate behaviour which conclusively, for the purposes of the Act, does not amount to market abuse (see section 122(1) of the Act). [deleted]

1.1.5 G Part VIII of the Act, and in particular section 118, specifies types of behaviour which can amount to market abuse. This chapter considers the general concepts relevant to market abuse, then each type of behaviour in turn and then describes exceptions to market abuse which are of general application. In doing so, it sets out the relevant provisions of the Code of Market Conduct, that is:

(1) descriptions of behaviour that, in the opinion of the FCA, do or do not amount to market abuse (see section 119(2)(a) and (b) and section 122 of the Act);

(2) descriptions of behaviour that are or are not accepted market practices in relation to one or more identified markets (see section 119(2)(d) and (e) and section 122(1) of the Act (subject to the behaviour being for legitimate reasons)); and

(3) factors that, in the opinion of the FCA, are to be taken into account in determining whether or not behaviour amounts to market abuse (see section 119(2)(c) and section 122(2) of the Act). [deleted]

1.1.6 G The Code This chapter does not exhaustively describe all types of behaviour that may or may not amount to indicate market abuse. In particular, the descriptions of behaviour which, in the opinion of the FCA, amount to market abuse should be read in the light of:

(1) the elements specified by the Act the Market Abuse Regulation as making up the relevant type of market abuse; and

(2) any relevant descriptions of behaviour specified by the Market Abuse Regulation which, in the opinion of the FCA, do not amount to market abuse; and

(3) any provisions specified in any Commission legislative text made pursuant to the Market Abuse Regulation, and any applicable guidelines made by ESMA.

1.1.7 G Likewise, the Code This chapter does not exhaustively describe all the factors to be taken into account in determining whether behaviour amounts to market abuse. If factors are described, they are not to be taken as conclusive indications, unless specified as such, and the absence of a factor mentioned does not, of itself, amount to a contrary indication.

1.1.8 G For the avoidance of doubt, it should be noted that any reference in this chapter to "profit" refers also to potential profits, avoidance of loss or potential avoidance of loss.
1.1.9 G References are made in this chapter to provisions in the Market Abuse Regulation and other EU legislation made pursuant to the Market Abuse Regulation to assist readers. The fact that other provisions of the Market Abuse Regulation and other EU legislation made pursuant to the Market Abuse Regulation have not been referred to does not mean that they would not also assist readers or that they have a different status.

1.2 Market Abuse: general

1.2.1 G Provisions in this section are relevant to more than one of the types of behaviour which may amount to market abuse.

1.2.3 G Section 118(1)(a) of the Act The Market Abuse Regulation does not require the person engaging in the behaviour in question to have intended to commit market abuse.

1.2.4 G Statements in this chapter to the effect that behaviour will amount to market abuse assume that the test in section 118(1)(a) of the Act has also been met. [deleted]

Prescribed markets and qualifying investments: "in relation to": factors to be taken into account Factors that may be taken into account in relation to behaviour prior to either a request for admission to trading, the admission to or the commencement of trading, or the offer for sale on a prescribed auction platform

1.2.5 E In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to may be taken into account in determining whether or not behaviour prior to a request for admission to trading, the admission to or the commencement of trading, or the offer for sale on a prescribed auction platform satisfies section 118(1)(a) of the Act, contravenes prohibitions and obligations in the Market Abuse Regulation and are indications that it does:

(1) if it is in relation to qualifying investments financial instruments:
   (a) in respect of which a request for admission to trading on a prescribed market regulated market or MTF is subsequently made; and
   (b) if it continues to have an effect once an application has been made for the qualifying investment financial instrument to be admitted for trading, or it has been admitted to trading on a prescribed market regulated market or MTF, respectively;

(2) if it is in relation to qualifying investments financial instruments:
   (a) which are subsequently offered for sale on a prescribed auction platform; and
   (b) if it continues to have an effect once the qualifying investments financial instruments are offered for sale on a prescribed auction platform.

1.2.6 E In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to may be taken into account in determining whether or not refraining from action amounts to behaviour which satisfies section 118(1)(a) of the Act falls under the scope of the Market Abuse Regulation, and are indications that it does:
(1) if the person concerned has failed to discharge a legal or regulatory obligation (for example to make a particular disclosure) by refraining from acting; or

(2) if the person concerned has created a reasonable expectation of him acting in a particular manner, as a result of his representations (by word or conduct), in circumstances which give rise to a duty or obligation to inform those to whom he made the representations that they have ceased to be correct, and he has not done so.

1.2.8 E G In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to may be taken into account in determining whether or not a person could reasonably be expected to know that information in his possession is inside information and therefore whether he is an insider under section 118B(e) of the Act, and indicate that the person is an insider who possesses inside information ought to know that it is inside information for the purposes of the final indent of article 8(4) of the Market Abuse Regulation:

(1) if a normal and reasonable person in the position of the person who has inside information would know or should have known that the person from whom he received it is an insider; and

(2) if a normal and reasonable person in the position of the person who has inside information would know or should have known that it is inside information.

1.2.9 G For the purposes of the other categories of insider specified by section 118B(a) to (d) being categorised as an insider in article 8(4) of the Market Abuse Regulation, the person concerned does not need to know that the information concerned is inside information.

Inside information: factors to be taken into account

1.2.11 G The phrase "precise nature" is defined in section 118C(5) of the Act. This phrase is also relevant to section 118C(4) of the Act. [deleted]

1.2.12 E G In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to may be taken into account in determining whether or not information is generally available has been made public, and are indications that it is has (and therefore is not inside information):

(1) whether the information has been disclosed to a prescribed market or a prescribed auction platform through a regulatory information service or RIS or otherwise in accordance with the rules of that market;
(2) whether the information is contained in records which are open to inspection by the public;

(3) whether the information is otherwise generally available, including through the Internet, or some other publication (including if it is only available on payment of a fee), or is derived from information which has been made public; and

(4) whether the information can be obtained by observation by members of the public without infringing rights or obligations of privacy, property or confidentiality; and

(5) the extent to which the information can be obtained by analysing or developing other information which is generally available. [Note: Recital 31 Market Abuse Directive] [deleted]

1.2.13 E G (1) In relation to the factors in MAR 1.2.12E MAR 1.2.12G it is not relevant that the information is only generally available outside the UK.

(2) In relation to the factors in MAR 1.2.12E(1), (3), (4) and (5) MAR 1.2.12G it is not relevant that the observation or analysis is only achievable by a person with above average financial resources, expertise or competence.

1.2.14 G For example, if a passenger on a train passing a burning factory calls his broker and tells him to sell shares in the factory's owner, the passenger will be acting on using information which is generally available has been made public, since it is information which has been obtained by legitimate means through observation of a public event.

1.2.16 E G In the opinion of the FCA, a factor which indicates that In determining whether there is a pending order or bid for a client in relation to article
7(1)(d) of the Market Abuse Regulation, a factor that may be taken into account is, if a person is approached by another in relation to a transaction, and:

(1) the transaction is not immediately executed on an arm's length basis in response to a price quoted by that person; and

(2) the person concerned has taken on a legal or regulatory obligation relating to the manner or timing of the execution of the transaction.

Inside information: commodity derivatives

1.2.17 G The Act (and the Market Abuse Directive) recognises that there are differences in the nature of information which is important to commodity derivatives markets and that which is important to other markets. In particular, inside information is limited by reference to what the market participants expect to receive information about. [deleted]

The regular user

1.2.20 G In section 118 of the Act, the regular user decides:

(2) whether behaviour:

(b) creates or is likely to create a false or misleading impression or distorts the market or the auction of investments of the kind in question (section 118(8)); or

c. which creates or is likely to create a false or misleading impression or distorts the market or the auction of investments of the kind in question is below the expected standard (section 118(8)). [deleted]

1.2.21 G The regular user is a hypothetical reasonable person who regularly deals on the market and in the investments of the kind in question or bids on the auction platform in relation to investments of the kind in question. The presence of the regular user imports an objective element into the elements listed in MAR 1.2.15UK while retaining some subjective features of the markets for, or the auction of, the investments in question. [deleted]

1.2.23 G The following are examples of behaviour that might fall within the scope of section 123(1)(b) article 14(b) of the Market Abuse Regulation:

(1) a director of a company, while in possession of inside information, instructs an employee of that company to deal in qualifying investments or related investments sell a financial instrument in respect of which the information is inside information;

(2) a person recommends or advises a friend to engage in behaviour which, if he himself engaged in it, would amount to market abuse.

1.3.2 E G

The following behaviours are, in the opinion of the FCA, market abuse (insider dealing):

The following are examples of behaviour that may amount to insider dealing under the Market Abuse Regulation, but are not intended to form an exhaustive list:

1. dealing on the basis of inside information which is not trading information; [deleted]

2. front running/pre-positioning - that is, a transaction for a person's own benefit, on the basis of and ahead of an order (including an order relating to a bid) which he is to carry out with or for another (in respect of which information concerning the order is inside information), which takes advantage of the anticipated impact of the order on the market or auction clearing price;

3. in the context of a takeover, an offeror or potential offeror entering into a transaction in a qualifying investment financial instrument, on the basis of using inside information concerning the proposed bid, that provides merely an economic exposure to movements in the price of the target company's shares (for example, a spread bet on the target company's share price); and

4. in the context of a takeover, a person who acts for the offeror or potential offeror dealing for his own benefit in a qualifying investment or related investments financial instrument on the basis of using information concerning the proposed bid which is inside information.

Factors to be taken into account: "on the basis of"

1.3.3 E

In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to be taken into account in determining whether or not a person's behaviour is "on the basis of" inside information, and are each indications that it is not:

1. if the decision to deal or attempt to deal was made before the person possessed the relevant inside information; or
(2) if the person concerned is dealing to satisfy a legal or regulatory obligation which came into being before he possessed the relevant inside information; or

(3) if a person is an organisation, if none of the individuals in possession of the inside information:

(a) had any involvement in the decision to deal; or

(b) behaved in such a way as to influence, directly or indirectly, the decision to engage in the dealing; or

(c) had any contact with those who were involved in the decision to engage in the dealing whereby the information could have been transmitted. [deleted]

[Note: article 9 of the Market Abuse Regulation]

1.3.5 E In the opinion of the FCA, if the inside information is held behind an effective Chinese wall, or similarly effective arrangements, from the individuals who are involved in or who influence the decision to deal, that indicates that the decision to deal by an organisation is not "on the basis of" inside information. [deleted]

[Note: article 9(1)(a) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

Descriptions of behaviour that do not amount to market abuse (insider dealing) and relevant Relevant factors: legitimate business of market makers etc:

1.3.6 C A person will form an intention to buy or sell, or submit or withdraw a bid for, a qualifying investment or a related investment before doing so. His carrying out of his own intention is not in itself market abuse (insider dealing). [Note: Recital 30 Market Abuse Directive and article 36(1) of the auction regulation] [deleted]

[Note: article 9(5) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

1.3.7 G For market makers and persons that may lawfully deal in qualifying investments or related investments financial instruments on their own account, pursuing their legitimate business of such dealing (including entering into an agreement for the underwriting of an issue of financial instruments) might may not in itself amount to market abuse, (insider dealing). [Note: Recital 18 Market Abuse Directive]

1.3.8 G MAR 1.3.7C applies even if the person concerned in fact possesses trading information which is inside information. [deleted]

1.3.9 E In the opinion of the FCA, if the inside information is not limited to trading information, (except in relation to an agreement for the underwriting of an issue of financial instruments) that indicates that the behaviour is not in pursuit of legitimate business. [deleted]
1.3.10  In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to be taken into account in determining whether or not a person's behaviour is in pursuit of legitimate business, and are indications that it is:

(2) whether, in the case of a transaction on the basis of inside information about a client's transaction which has been executed, the reason for it being inside information is that information about the transaction is not, or is not yet, required to be published under any relevant regulatory or exchange trading venue obligations; or

(4) the extent to which the person's behaviour was reasonable by the proper standards of conduct of the market concerned, taking into account any relevant regulatory or legal obligations and whether the transaction is executed in a way which takes into account the need for the market as a whole to operate fairly and efficiently.

1.3.11  In the opinion of the FCA, if the person acted in contravention of a relevant legal, regulatory or exchange obligation, that is a factor to be taken into account in determining whether or not a person's behaviour is in pursuit of legitimate business, and is an indication that it is not. [deleted]

Descriptions of behaviour that do not amount to market abuse (insider dealing) and relevant factors: execution of client orders

1.3.12  The dutiful carrying out of, or arranging for the dutiful carrying out of, an order (including an order relating to a bid) on behalf of another (including as portfolio manager) will not in itself amount to market abuse (insider dealing) by the person carrying out that order. [Note: Recital 18 Market Abuse Directive and article 36(1) of the auction regulation] [deleted]

[Note: article 9 of the Market Abuse Regulation]

1.3.13  MAR 1.3.12C applies whether or not the person carrying out the order (including an order relating to a bid) or the person for whom he is acting, in fact possesses inside information. Also, a person that carries out an order on behalf of another will not, merely as a result of that action, be considered to have any inside information held by that other person. [deleted]

[Note: article 9 of the Market Abuse Regulation]

1.3.14  In the opinion of the FCA, if the inside information is not limited to trading information, that indicates that the behaviour is not dutiful carrying out of an order on behalf of a client. [deleted]

1.3.15  In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to be taken into account in determining whether or not a person's behaviour is dutiful execution of behaviour in executing an order (including an order relating to a bid) on behalf of another is carried out legitimately in the normal course of exercise of that person’s employment, profession or duties, and are indications that it is:

1. whether the person has complied with the applicable provisions of COBS, or their equivalents in the relevant jurisdiction; or

2. whether the person has agreed with its client it will act in a particular way when carrying out, or arranging the carrying out of, the order; or

3. whether the person's behaviour was with a view to facilitating or ensuring the effective carrying out of the order; or

4. the extent to which the person's behaviour was reasonable by the proper standards of conduct of the market or auction platform concerned and (if relevant) proportional to the risk undertaken by him; or

5. whether, if the relevant trading or bidding (including the withdrawal of a bid) by that person is connected with a transaction entered into or to be entered into with a client (including a potential client), the trading or bidding either has no impact on the price or there has been adequate disclosure to that client that trading or bidding will take place and he has not objected to it.

1.3.16 G Some steps which a person takes as a result of carrying out a client transaction may be within the scope of MAR 1.3.6C to MAR 1.3.11E rather than being part of dutiful execution. [deleted]

Descriptions of behaviour that do not amount to market abuse (insider dealing) indicate insider dealing and relevant factors: takeover and merger activity

1.3.17 G Behaviour, based on inside information relating to another company, in the context of a public takeover bid or merger for the purpose of gaining control of that company or proposing a merger with that company, does not of itself amount to market abuse (insider dealing) [Note: see Recital 29 Market Abuse Directive], including With reference to article 9(4) of the Market Abuse Regulation, examples of using inside information solely for the purpose of proceeding with a merger or public takeover may include:

2. information that an offeror or potential offeror may obtain through due
In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to be taken into account in determining whether or not a person’s behaviour is for the purpose of gaining control of the target company or him proposing proceeding with a merger with that target company or a public takeover of the target company, and are indications that it is:

1. whether the transactions concerned are in the target company’s shares;

2. whether the transactions concerned are for the sole purpose of gaining control or effecting that merger. [deleted]

Examples of market abuse (insider dealing)

The following examples of market abuse (insider dealing) descriptions are intended to assist in understanding certain behaviours which may constitute insider dealing under the Market Abuse Regulation and concern the definition of inside information relating to financial instruments other than commodity derivatives: commodity derivatives or emissions allowances or auctioned products based thereon:

1. X, a director at B PLC has lunch with a friend, Y. X tells Y that his company has received a takeover offer that is at a premium to the current share price at which it is trading. Y enters into a spread bet priced or valued by reference to the share price of B PLC based on his expectation that the price in B PLC will increase once the takeover offer is announced.

2. An employee at B PLC obtains the information that B PLC has just lost a significant contract with its main customer. Before the information is announced over the regulatory information service the employee, whilst being under no obligation to do so, sells his shares in B PLC based on the information about the loss of the contract.

The following example of market abuse (insider dealing) description is intended to assist in understanding certain behaviours which may constitute insider dealing under the Market Abuse Regulation and concerns the definition of inside information relating to commodity derivatives.

Before the official publication of LME stock levels, a metals trader learns (from an insider) that there has been a significant decrease in the level of LME aluminium stocks. This information is routinely made available to users of that prescribed market trading venue. The trader buys a substantial number of futures in that metal on the LME, based upon his knowledge of the significant decrease in aluminium stock levels.
insider dealing under the Market Abuse Regulation and concerns the definition of inside information relating to pending client orders.

A dealer on the trading desk of a firm dealing in oil derivatives accepts a very large order from a client to acquire a long position in oil futures deliverable in a particular month. Before executing the order, the dealer trades for the firm and on his personal account by taking a long position in those oil futures, based on the expectation that he will be able to sell them at profit due to the significant price increase that will result from the execution of his client's order. Both trades will be market abuse (insider dealing) could constitute insider dealing.

The following connected examples of market abuse (insider dealing) concerns descriptions are intended to assist in understanding certain behaviours which may constitute insider dealing under the Market Abuse Regulation and concern the differences in the definition of inside information for commodity derivatives and for other financial instruments.

(1) A person deals, on a prescribed market trading venue, in the equities of XYZ plc, a commodity producer, based on inside information concerning that company.

(2) A person deals, in a commodity futures contract traded on a prescribed market trading venue, based on the same information, provided that the information is required to be disclosed under the rules of the relevant commodity futures market.

Descriptions of behaviour that does not amount to market abuse (improper indicate unlawful disclosure)

1.4.3 Disclosure of inside information will not amount to market abuse (improper disclosure), if it is made

The following behaviour indicates that a person is acting in the normal exercise of their employment, profession or duties, if a person makes a disclosure of inside information:

(1) to a government department, the Bank of England, the Competition Commission, the Takeover Panel or any other regulatory body or authority for the purposes of fulfilling a legal or regulatory obligation; or

(2) otherwise to such a body in connection with the performance of the functions of that body.

1.4.4 Disclosure of inside information which is required or permitted by Part 6 rules (or any similar regulatory obligation) will may not amount to market abuse (improper disclosure) unlawful disclosure.

1.4.4A Disclosure of inside information by a broker to a potential buyer regarding the fact that the seller of qualifying investments financial instruments is a person discharging managerial responsibilities or the identity of the person discharging managerial responsibilities or the purpose of the sale by the person discharging managerial responsibilities where:

(1) the disclosure is made only to the extent necessary, and solely in order to dispose of the investment;

(2) the illiquidity of the stock is such that the transaction could not otherwise be completed; and

(3) the transaction could not be otherwise completed without creating a disorderly market; will may not, of itself, amount to market abuse (improper disclosure) unlawful disclosure.

Factors to be taken into account in determining whether or not behaviour amounts to market abuse (improper disclosure) unlawful disclosure

1.4.5 The following factors are to be taken into account in determining whether or not the disclosure was made by a person in the proper course of the exercise of his employment, profession or duties, and are indications that it was:

(1) whether the disclosure is permitted by the rules of a prescribed market trading venue, a prescribed auction platform, of the FCA or the Takeover Code; or

(2) whether the disclosure is accompanied by the imposition of confidentiality requirements upon the person to whom the disclosure is made and is:

(a) reasonable and is to enable a person to perform the proper functions of his employment, profession or duties; or

(b) reasonable and is (for example, to a professional adviser) for the purposes of facilitating or seeking or giving advice about a transaction or takeover bid; or

(c) reasonable and is for the purpose of facilitating any commercial, financial or investment transaction (including prospective underwriters or placees of securities); or

(d) reasonable and is for the purpose of obtaining a commitment or expression of support in relation to an offer which is subject to the Takeover Code; or

(e) in fulfilment of a legal obligation, including to employee representatives or trade unions acting on their behalf;

(3) whether:

(a) the information disclosed is trading information;

(b) the disclosure is made by a person ("A") only to the extent necessary, and solely in order, to offer to dispose of the investment to, or acquire the investment from, the person receiving the information; and

(e) it is reasonable for A to make the disclosure to enable him to perform the proper functions of his employment, profession or duties.

1.4.5A MAR 1.4.5E(3) is intended only to apply to an actual offer of the investment. It is not intended to apply to a disclosure of trading information to gauge potential interest in the investments to be offered or to help establish the likely price that will be obtained.
Examples of market abuse (improper unlawful disclosure)

1.4.6 G The following are examples of market abuse (improper disclosure). Descriptions are intended to assist in understanding certain behaviours which may constitute unlawful disclosure under the Market Abuse Regulation:

(1) X, a director at B PLC has lunch with a friend, Y, who has no connection with B PLC or its advisers. X tells Y that his company has received a takeover offer that is at a premium to the current share price at which it is trading.

(2) A, a person discharging managerial responsibilities in B PLC, asks C, a broker, to sell some or all of As shares in B PLC. C discloses to a potential buyer that A is a person discharging managerial responsibilities or discloses the identity of A, in circumstances where the fact that A is a person discharging managerial responsibilities or the identity of A, is inside information, other than in the circumstances set out in MAR 1.4.4AC.

1.4.7 G The following is an example of encouraging another to engage in market abuse (improper disclosure):

Descriptions of behaviour that amount to market abuse (manipulating transactions): Giving false or misleading impressions

1.6.2 E The following behaviours are, in the opinion of the FCA, market abuse (manipulating transactions) of a type involving false or misleading impressions:

1. Buying or selling qualifying investments at the close of the market with the effect of misleading investors who act on the basis of closing prices, other than for legitimate reasons; [Note: Article 1.2(c) Market Abuse Directive]

2. Wash trades—that is, a sale or purchase of a qualifying investment where there is no change in beneficial interest or market risk, or where the transfer of beneficial interest or market risk is only between parties acting in concert or collusion, other than for legitimate reasons;

3. Painting the tape—that is, entering into a series of transactions that are shown on a public display for the purpose of giving the impression of activity or price movement in a qualifying investment;

4. Entering orders into an electronic trading system, at prices which are higher than the previous bid or lower than the previous offer, and withdrawing them before they are executed, in order to give a misleading impression that there is demand for or supply of the qualifying investment at that price, and

5. Buying or selling on the secondary market of qualifying investments or related derivatives prior to the auction with the effect of fixing the auction clearing price for the auctioned products at an abnormal or artificial level or misleading bidders in the auctions, other than for legitimate reasons. [Note: Article 1.2(c) Market Abuse Directive and Article 36(1) and Article 37(b) auction regulation] [deleted]

[Note: Annex 1A of the Market Abuse Regulation.]

1.6.3 G For the avoidance of doubt Entering into a stock lending/borrowing or repo/reverse repo transaction, or another transaction involving the provision of collateral, do not constitute a wash trade under MAR 1.6.2E(2) does not of itself indicate behaviour described in Annex IA(c) of the Market Abuse Regulation.

Descriptions of behaviour that amount to market abuse (manipulating transactions): price positioning

1.6.4 E The following behaviours are, in the opinion of the FCA, market abuse (manipulating transactions) involving securing the price of a qualifying investment:

(1) transactions or orders to trade by a person, or persons acting in collusion, that secure a dominant position over the supply of or demand for a qualifying investment and which have the effect of fixing, directly or indirectly, purchase or sale prices or creating other unfair trading conditions, other than for legitimate reasons; [Note: Article 1.2(c) Market Abuse Directive]

(2) transactions where both buy and sell orders are entered at, or nearly at, the same time, with the same price and quantity by the same party, or different but colluding parties, other than for legitimate reasons, unless the transactions are legitimate trades carried out in accordance with the rules of the relevant trading platform (such as crossing trades);

(3) entering small orders into an electronic trading system, at prices which are higher than the previous bid or lower than the previous offer, in order to move the price of the qualifying investment, other than for legitimate reasons;

(4) an abusive squeeze—that is, a situation in which a person:

(a) has a significant influence over the supply of, or demand for, or delivery mechanisms for a qualifying investment or related investment or the underlying product of a derivative contract;

(b) has a position (directly or indirectly) in an investment under which quantities of the qualifying investment, related investment, or product in question are deliverable; and

(c) engages in behaviour with the purpose of positioning at a distorted level the price at which others have to deliver, take delivery or defer delivery to satisfy their obligations in relation to a qualifying investment (the purpose need not be the sole purpose of entering into the transaction or transactions, but must be an actuating purpose);
(5) parties, who have been allocated qualifying investments in a primary offering, colluding to purchase further tranches of those qualifying investments trading begins, in order to force the price of the qualifying investments to an artificial level and generate interest from other investors, and then sell the qualifying investments:

(6) transactions or orders to trade employed so as to create obstacles to the price falling below a certain level, in order to avoid negative consequences for the issuer, for example a downgrading of its credit rating:

(7) trading on one market or trading platform with a view to improperly influencing the price of the same or a related qualifying investment is traded on another prescribed market, and

(8) conduct by a person, or persons acting in collusion, that secure a dominant position over the demand for a qualifying investment which has the effect of fixing, directly or indirectly, auction clearing prices or creating other unfair trading conditions, other than for legitimate reasons. [Note: Article 1.2(c) Market Abuse Directive and Article 36(1) and Article 37(b) auction regulation] [deleted]

[Note: Annex 1A of the Market Abuse Regulation.]

Factors to be taken into account: “legitimate reasons”

1.6.5 In the opinion of the FCA the following factors are to be taken into account when considering whether behaviour is for “legitimate reasons” in relation to article 12(1)(a) of the Market Abuse Regulation, and are indications that it is not:

(1) if the person has an actuating purpose behind the transaction to induce others to trade in, bid for or to position or move the price of, a qualifying investment financial instrument;

(2) if the person has another, illegitimate, reason behind the transactions, bid or order to trade; [Note: Recital 20 Market Abuse Directive] and

(3) if the transaction was executed in a particular way with the purpose of creating a false or misleading impression.

1.6.6 In the opinion of the FCA the following factors are to be taken into account when considering whether behaviour is for “legitimate reasons” in relation to article 12(1)(a) of the Market Abuse Regulation, and are indications that it is:

(1) if the transaction is pursuant to a prior legal or regulatory obligation owed to a third party;

(2) if the transaction is executed in a way which takes into account the need for the market or auction platform as a whole to operate fairly and efficiently;

(3) the extent to which the transaction generally opens a new position, so creating an exposure to market risk, rather than closes out a position and so removes market risk; and

(4) if the transaction complied with the rules of the relevant prescribed markets or prescribed auction platform trading venue about how transactions are to be executed in a proper way (for example, rules on reporting and executing cross-transactions).

1.6.7 It is unlikely that the behaviour of market or auction platform trading venue users when dealing at times and in sizes most beneficial to them (whether for the purpose of long term investment objectives, risk management or short term speculation) and seeking the maximum profit from their dealings will of itself amount to distortion manipulation. Such behaviour, generally speaking, improves the liquidity and efficiency of markets or auction platforms trading venues.

1.6.8 It is unlikely that prices in the market which are trading outside their normal range will necessarily be indicative that someone has engaged in behaviour with the purpose of positioning prices at a distorted level. High or low prices relative to a trading range can be the result of the proper interplay of supply and demand.

Factors to be taken into account: behaviour giving a false or misleading impression

1.6.9 In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to be taken into account in determining whether or not a person's behaviour amounts to market abuse (manipulating transactions): [Note: Article 4 2003/124/EC and Article 36(1) auction regulation]

(1) the extent to which orders to trade given, bids submitted or transactions undertaken represent a significant proportion of the daily volume of transactions in the relevant qualifying investment on the regulated market or prescribed auction platform concerned, in particular when these activities lead to a significant change in the price of the qualifying investment;

(2) the extent to which orders to trade given, bids submitted or transactions undertaken by persons with a significant buying or selling position in a qualifying investment lead to significant changes in the price of the qualifying investment or related derivative or underlying asset admitted to trading on a regulated market;

(3) whether transactions undertaken lead to no change in beneficial ownership of a qualifying investment admitted to trading on a regulated market;

(4) the extent to which orders to trade given or transactions undertaken include position reversals in a short period and represent a significant proportion of the daily volume of transactions in the relevant qualifying investment on the regulated market concerned, and might be associated with significant changes in the price of a qualifying investment admitted to trading on a regulated market;

(5) the extent to which orders to trade given or transactions undertaken are concentrated within a short time span in the trading session and lead to a price change which is subsequently reversed;

(6) the extent to which orders to trade given or transactions undertaken change the representation of the best bid or offer prices in a financial instrument admitted to trading on a regulated market, or more generally the representation of the order book available to market participants, and are removed before they are executed; and

(7) the extent to which orders to trade are given or transactions are undertaken at or around a specific time when reference prices, settlement prices and valuations are calculated and lead to price changes which have an effect on such prices and valuations. [deleted]

[Note: Annex 1A of the Market Abuse Regulation]

Factors to be taken into account: behaviour securing an abnormal or artificial price level

1.6.10 In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to be taken into account in determining whether or not a person's behaviour amounts to market abuse (manipulating transactions) as described in article 12(1)(a)(ii) of the Market Abuse Regulation:

(1) the extent to which the person had a direct or indirect interest in the price or value of the qualifying investment or related investment financial instrument;

(2) the extent to which price, rate or option volatility movements, and the volatility of these factors for the investment in question, are outside their normal intra-day, daily, weekly or monthly range; and

(3) whether a person has successively and consistently increased or decreased his bid, offer or the price he has paid for a qualifying investment or related investment financial instrument.

Factors to be taken into account: abusive squeezes

1.6.11 In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to be taken into account when determining whether a person has engaged in an abusive squeeze behaviour referred to in Annex IA(a) or (b) of the Market Abuse Regulation, commonly known as an “abusive squeeze”:
(1) the extent to which a person is willing to relax his control or other influence in order to help maintain an orderly market, and the price at which he is willing to do so; for example, behaviour is less likely to amount to an abusive squeeze if a person is willing to lend the investment in question;

(2) the extent to which the person's activity causes, or risks causing, settlement default by other market users on a multilateral basis and not just a bilateral basis. The more widespread the risk of multilateral settlement default, the more likely that an abusive squeeze has been effected;

(3) the extent to which prices under the delivery mechanisms of the market diverge from the prices for delivery of the investment or its equivalent outside those mechanisms. The greater the divergence beyond that to be reasonably expected, the more likely that an abusive squeeze has been effected; and

(4) the extent to which the spot or immediate market compared to the forward market is unusually expensive or inexpensive or the extent to which borrowing rates are unusually expensive or inexpensive.

1.6.12 Squeezes occur relatively frequently when the proper interaction of supply and demand leads to market tightness, but this is not of itself likely to be abusive. In addition, having a significant influence over the supply of, or demand for, or delivery mechanisms for an investment, for example, through ownership, borrowing or reserving the investment in question, is not of itself likely to be abusive.

Examples of market abuse (manipulating transactions)

1.6.15 The following are examples of behaviour that may amount to market abuse (manipulating transactions) as described in article 12(1)(a)(ii) of the Market Abuse Regulation:

(1) a trader simultaneously buys and sells the same qualifying investment (that is, trades with himself) to give the appearance of a legitimate transfer of title or risk (or both) at a price outside the normal trading range for the qualifying investment. The price of the qualifying investment is relevant to the calculation of the settlement value of an option. He does this while holding a position in the option. His purpose is to position the price of the qualifying investment at a false, misleading, abnormal or artificial level, making him a profit or avoiding a loss from the option; [deleted]

(2) a trader buys a large volume of commodity futures, which are qualifying investments, (whose price will be relevant to the calculation of the settlement value of a derivatives position he holds) just before the close of trading. His purpose is to position the price of the commodity futures at a false, misleading, abnormal or artificial level so as to make a profit from his derivatives position; [deleted]

(3) a trader holds a short position that will show a profit if a particular qualifying investment financial instrument, which is currently a component of an index, falls out of that index. The question of whether the qualifying investment financial instrument will fall out of the index depends on the closing price of the qualifying investment financial instrument. He places a large sell order in this qualifying investment financial instrument just before the close of trading. His purpose is to position the price of the qualifying investment financial instrument at a false, misleading, abnormal or artificial level so that the qualifying investment financial instrument will drop out of the index so as to make a profit; and

(4) a fund manager's quarterly performance will improve if the valuation of his portfolio at the end of the quarter in question is higher rather than lower. He places a large order to buy relatively illiquid shares, which are also components of his portfolio, to be executed at or just before the close. His purpose is to position the price of the shares at a false, misleading, abnormal or artificial level.

The following is an example of an abusive squeeze:

A trader with a long position in bond futures buys or borrows a large amount of the cheapest to deliver bonds and either refuses to re-lend these bonds or will only lend them to parties he believes will not re-lend to the market. His purpose is to position the price at which those with short positions have to deliver to satisfy their obligations at a materially higher level, making him a profit from his original position.

1.7 Market abuse (manipulating devices)

Descriptions of behaviour that amount to market abuse (manipulating devices)

1.7.2 E The following behaviours are, in the opinion of the FCA, market abuse (manipulating devices):

(1) taking advantage of occasional or regular access to the traditional or electronic media by voicing an opinion about a qualifying investment financial instrument (or indirectly about its issuer, if applicable) while having previously taken positions on, or submitted bids in relation to, that qualifying investment financial instrument and profiting subsequently from the impact of the opinions voiced on the price of that instrument, without having simultaneously disclosed that conflict of interest to the public in a proper and effective way;

[Note: Article 1.2 Market Abuse Directive]

(2) a transaction or series of transactions that are designed to conceal the ownership of a qualifying investment, so that disclosure requirements are circumvented by the holding of the qualifying investment in the name of a colluding party, such that disclosures are misleading in respect of the true underlying holding. These transactions are often structured so that market risk remains with the seller. This does not include nominee holdings;

(3) pump and dump— that is, taking a long position in a qualifying investment and then disseminating misleading positive information about the qualifying investment with a view to increasing its price;

(4) trash and cash— that is, taking a short position in a qualifying investment and then disseminating misleading negative information about the qualifying investment, with a view to driving down its price.

[Note: Article 12(2)(d) Market Abuse Regulation]

Factors to be taken into account in determining whether or not behaviour amounts to market abuse (manipulating devices)

1.7.3 E In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to be taken into account in determining whether or not a fictitious device or other form of deception or contrivance has been used, and are indications that it has:

(1) if orders to trade given, bids submitted or transactions undertaken in qualifying investments by persons are preceded or followed by dissemination of false or misleading information by the same persons or persons linked to them;
(2) if orders to trade are given, bids submitted or transactions are undertaken in qualifying investments by persons before or after the same persons or persons linked to them produce or disseminate research or investment recommendations which are erroneous or biased or demonstrably influenced by material interest. [deleted]

Descriptions of behaviour that amount to market abuse (dissemination)

1.8.3 E The following behaviours are, in the opinion of the FCA, market abuse (dissemination):

(1) knowingly or recklessly spreading false or misleading information about a qualifying investment through the media, including in particular through an RIS or similar information channel;

(2) undertaking a course of conduct in order to give a false or misleading impression about a qualifying investment. [deleted]
Note: article 12(1)(c) of the Market Abuse Regulation

Factors to be taken into account in determining whether or not behaviour amounts to market abuse ( dissemination )

1.8.4 In the opinion of the FCA, if a normal and reasonable person would know or should have known in all the circumstances that the information was false or misleading, that indicates that the person disseminating the information knew or could reasonably be expected ought to have known that it was false or misleading.

1.8.5 In the opinion of the FCA, if the individuals responsible for dissemination of information within an organisation could only know that the information was false or misleading if they had access to other information that was being held behind a Chinese wall or similarly effective arrangements, that indicates that the person disseminating did not know and could not reasonably be expected to have known that the information was false or misleading.

Examples of market abuse ( dissemination )

1.8.6 The following are examples of behaviour which may amount to a contravention of article 12(1)(c) of the Market Abuse Regulation:

(1) a person posts information on an Internet bulletin board or chat room which contains false or misleading statements about the takeover of a company whose shares are qualifying investments financial instruments and the person knows that the information is false or misleading;

(2) a person responsible for the content of information submitted to a regulatory information service submits information which is false or misleading as to qualifying investments and that person is reckless as to whether the information is false or misleading.

and the behaviour is likely to be regarded by a [regular user] of the auction platform as a failure on the part of the [person] concerned to observe the standard of [behaviour] reasonably expected of a [person] in his position in relation to the market."

[deleted]

Descriptions of behaviour that amount to market abuse (misleading behaviour) under section 118(8)(a) or market abuse (distortion) under section 118(8)(b)

1.9.2 E The following behaviours are, in the opinion of the FCA, market abuse (misleading behaviour) if they give, or are likely to give, a regular user of the market a false or misleading impression:

(1) the movement of physical commodity stocks, which might create a misleading impression as to the supply of, or demand for, or price or value of, a commodity or the deliverable into a commodity futures contract; and

(2) the movement of an empty cargo ship, which might create a false or misleading impression as to the supply of, or the demand for, or the price or value of a commodity or the deliverable into a commodity futures contract. [deleted]

Factors to be taken into account: false or misleading impressions

1.9.4 E In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to be taken into account in determining whether or not behaviour is likely to give a regular user a false or misleading impression as to the supply of or the demand for or as to the price or value of one or more qualifying investments or related investments:

(1) the experience and knowledge of the users of the market or auction platform in question;

(2) the structure of the market or auction platform, including its reporting, notification and transparency requirements;

(3) the legal and regulatory requirements of the market or auction platform concerned;

(4) the identity and position of the person responsible for the behaviour which has been observed (if known); and

(5) the extent and nature of the visibility or disclosure of the person's activity. [deleted]

Factors to be taken into account: standards of behaviour

1.9.5 E In the opinion of the FCA, the following factors are to be taken into account in determining whether or not behaviour that creates a false or misleading impression as to, or distorts the market or auction platform for, a qualifying investment, has also failed to meet the standard expected by a regular user:

(1) if the transaction is pursuant to a prior legal or regulatory obligation owed to a third party;

(2) if the transaction is executed in a way which takes into account the need for the market or auction platform as a whole to operate fairly and efficiently; or

(3) the characteristics of the market or auction platform in question, including the users and applicable rules and codes of conduct (including, if relevant, any statutory or regulatory obligation to disclose a holding or position, such as under DTR 5);

(4) the position of the person in question and the standards reasonably to be expected of him in light of his experience, skill and knowledge;

(5) if the transaction complied with the rules of the relevant prescribed markets or prescribed auction platform about how transactions are to be executed in a proper way (for example, rules on reporting and executing cross-transactions); and if an organisation has created a false or misleading impression, whether the individuals responsible could only know they were likely to create a false or misleading impression if they had access to other information that was being held behind a Chinese wall or similarly effective arrangements. [deleted]

1.10 Statutory exceptions

Behaviour that does not amount to market abuse (general): buy-back programmes and stabilisation

1.10.1 G (1) Behaviour which conforms with articles 3 to 6 of the Buy-back and Stabilisation Regulation (see MAR 1 Annex 1) will not amount to market abuse.

(2) See MAR 2 in relation to stabilisation.

(3) Buy-back programmes which are not within the scope of the Buy-back and Stabilisation Regulation are not, in themselves, market abuse.

FCA rules

1.10.2 G There are no rules which permit or require a person to behave in a way which amounts to market abuse. Some rules contain a provision to the effect that behaviour conforming with that rule does not amount to market abuse:

(1) the control of information rule (SYSC 10.2.2(1) (see SYSC 10.2.2(4))); and [deleted]

(2) those parts of the Part 6 rules which relate to the timing, dissemination or availability, content and standard of care applicable to a disclosure, announcement, communication or release of information (see in particular the Disclosure Rules and Transparency Rules). [deleted]

Takeover Code

1.10.3 G There are no rules in the Takeover Code, which permit or require a person to behave in a way which amounts to market abuse.

1.10.4 G Behaviour Behaviour conforming with any of the rules of the Takeover Code about the timing, dissemination or availability, content and standard of care applicable to a disclosure, announcement, communication or release of information, does not is unlikely to, of itself, amount to market abuse, if:

(1) the rule is one of those specified in the table in MAR 1.10.5G;

(2) the behaviour is expressly required or expressly permitted by the rule in question (the notes for the time being associated with the rules identified in the Takeover Code are treated as part of the relevant rule for these purposes); and

(3) it conforms to any General Principle set out at Section B of the Takeover Code relevant to that rule.

15 Notifications to the FCA

15.2 Purpose

15.2.2 G This chapter sets out:

(5) material (in SUP 15.10 (Notification of suspicious transactions or orders (market abuse))) to implement which makes reference to the provisions of the Market Abuse Directive for Regulation that detail requirements on the reporting of transactions or orders about which there is reasonable suspicion of market abuse.

15.10 Reporting suspicious transactions or orders (market abuse)

Application: where

15.10.1 R This section applies in relation to activities carried on from an establishment maintained by the firm or its appointed representative in the United Kingdom. [Note: Article 7 2004/72/EC] [deleted]

Notification of suspicious transactions or orders: general

15.10.2 R A firm which arranges or executes a transaction with or for a client and which has reasonable grounds to suspect that the transaction might constitute market abuse must notify the FCA without delay. [Note: Article 6(9) Market Abuse Directive] [deleted]

15.10.2A EU [article 16 of the Market Abuse Regulation.]

Notification of suspicious transactions: investment firms and credit institutions

15.10.3 R A firm, that is an investment firm or a credit institution, must decide on a case-by-case basis whether there are reasonable grounds for suspecting that a transaction involves market abuse, taking into account the elements constituting market abuse. [Note: Articles 1(3) and 7 2004/72/EC] [deleted]

15.10.4 G (1) Notification of suspicious transactions or orders to the FCA requires sufficient indications (which may not be apparent until after the transaction has taken place) that the transaction or order might constitute market abuse. In particular a firm person subject to article 16 of the Market Abuse Regulation will need to be able to explain the basis for its the suspicion when notifying the FCA (see SUP 15.10). Certain transactions or orders by themselves may seem completely devoid of anything suspicious, but might deliver such indications of possible market abuse, when seen in perspective with other transactions, certain behaviour or other information (though firms persons subject to article 16 of the Market Abuse Regulation are not expected to breach effective information barriers put in place to prevent and avoid conflicts of interest so as actively to seek to detect suspicious transactions). [Note: Recital 9 2004/72/EC]

(2) Assistance in identifying the elements constituting market abuse may be derived from the Code of Market Conduct (MAR 1), and some example indications of market abuse are set out in SUP 15 Ann 5 G. A fuller set of example indications is published by the Committee of European Securities Regulators (CESR) can be found within the Market Abuse Regulation.

Timeframe for notification: investment firms and credit institutions

15.10.5 R If an investment firm or a credit institution becomes aware of a fact or information that gives reasonable ground for suspicion concerning a transaction, it must make its notification under this section without delay. [Note: Article 8 2004/72/EC] [deleted]

Content of notification: investment firms and credit institutions

2 Disclosure and control of inside information by issuers

2.1 Introduction and purpose

Introduction

2.1.1 G An issuer should be aware that matters that fall within the scope of this chapter may also fall within the scope of:

(1) the market abuse regime set out in section 118 of the Act the Market Abuse Regulation;

2.1.2 R G If an issuer that is involved in a matter which also falls within the scope of the Takeover Code it must nevertheless comply with should be mindful of its obligations under this chapter the Market Abuse Regulation.

Purpose

2.1.3 G The purpose of this chapter is to:

(1) promote prompt and fair disclosure of relevant information to the market; and [Note: Recital 24 Market Abuse Directive]

(2) set out specific give guidance on circumstances aspects relating to disclosure of such information, including the circumstances allowing delayed disclosure, when an issuer can delay public disclosure of inside information and requirements to ensure that such information is kept confidential in order to protect investors and prevent insider dealing. [Note: Recital 5 2003/124/EC]

2.2 Disclosure of inside information

Requirement to disclose inside information

2.2.1 R An issuer must notify a RIS as soon as possible of any inside information which directly concerns the issuer unless DTR 2.5.1R applies. [Note: Article 6(1) Market Abuse Directive]

[Note: see DTR 6.3.2R, regarding the disclosure of inside information]

2.2.1A EU [article 17(1) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

2.2.2 R An issuer will be deemed to have complied with DTR 2.2.1R where, upon the coming into existence of a set of circumstances or the occurrence of an event, albeit not yet formalised, the issuer notified a RIS as soon as was possible. [Note: Article 2(2) 2003/124/EC] [deleted]

Identifying inside information

2.2.4 G (1) In determining the likely price significance of the information an issuer should assess whether the information in question would be likely to be used by a reasonable investor as part of the basis of his investment decisions and would therefore be likely to have a significant effect on the price of the issuer's financial instruments (the reasonable investor test). [Note: Article 1(2) 2003/124/EC] [Note: article 7(4) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

(2) In determining whether information would be likely to have a significant effect on the price of financial instruments, an issuer should be mindful that there is no figure (percentage change or otherwise) that can be set for any issuer when determining what constitutes a significant effect on the price of the financial instruments as this will vary from issuer to issuer.

2.2.5 G The reasonable investor test requires an issuer may wish to take account of the following factors when considering whether the information in question would be likely to be used by a reasonable investor as part of the basis of his investment decisions:

(1) to take into account that the significance of the information in question will vary widely from issuer to issuer, depending on a variety of factors such as the issuer's size, recent developments and the market sentiment about the issuer and the sector in which it operates; and

(2) to assume the likelihood that a reasonable investor will make investment decisions relating to the relevant financial instrument to maximise his economic self interest.

2.2.6 G It is not possible to prescribe how the reasonable investor test will apply in all possible situations. Any assessment should may need to take into consideration the anticipated impact of the information in light of the totality of the issuer's activities, the reliability of the source of the information and other market variables likely to affect the relevant financial instrument in the given circumstances. However, information which is likely to be considered relevant to a reasonable investor's decision includes information which affects:

(1) the assets and liabilities of the issuer;

(2) the performance, or the expectation of the performance, of the issuer's business;
(3) the financial condition of the issuer;

(4) the course of the issuer’s business;

(5) major new developments in the business of the issuer; or

(6) information previously disclosed to the market. [Note: Recital 12003/124/EC]

2.2.8 G The directors of the issuer should carefully and continuously monitor whether changes in the circumstances of the issuer are such that an announcement obligation has arisen under this chapter article 17 of the Market Abuse Regulation.

When to disclose inside information

2.2.9 G (1) Subject to the limited ability to delay release of inside information to the public provided by DTR 2.5.1R, an issuer is required to notify, via a RIS, all inside information in its possession as soon as possible. [deleted]

Communication with third parties

2.2.10 G The FCA is aware that many issuers provide unpublished information to third parties such as analysts, employees, credit rating agencies, finance providers and major shareholders, often in response to queries from such parties. The fact that information is unpublished does not in itself make it inside information. However, unpublished information which amounts to inside information is only permitted to be disclosed in accordance with the disclosure rules and an issuer must ensure that at all times it acts in compliance with this chapter the requirements of the Market Abuse Regulation.

2.3 Publication of information on internet site

[Note: article 17(1) of the Market Abuse Regulation, in relation to the period for which an issuer must maintain on its website inside information which it is required to disclose publicly; article 17(9) of the Market Abuse Regulation, in relation to the maintenance of such information by issuers with financial instruments admitted to trading on a SME Growth Market.]
2.3.1 R

DTR 2.3.2R–DTR 2.3.5R apply to an issuer that has an internet site.

[deleted]

2.3.2 R

Inside information announced via a RIS must be available on the issuer’s internet site by the close of the business day following the day of the RIS announcement.

[deleted]

2.3.3 R

An issuer must ensure that inside information is notified to a RIS before, or simultaneously with, publication of such inside information on its internet site.

[deleted]

2.3.4 G

To ensure fast access and correct and timely assessment of the information by the public, an issuer should not publish inside information on its internet site as an alternative to its disclosure via a RIS.

[deleted]

2.3.5 R

An issuer must, for a period of one year following publication, post on its internet sites all inside information that it is required to disclose via a RIS.

[Note: Article 6(1) Market Abuse Directive]

[deleted]

2.4 Equivalent information

2.4.1 R

Without prejudice to its obligations under DTR 2.2.1R, an issuer must take reasonable care to ensure that the disclosure of inside information to the public is synchronised as closely as possible in all jurisdictions in which it has:

(1) financial instruments admitted to trading on a regulated market;

(2) requested admission to trading of its financial instruments on a regulated market; or

(3) financial instruments listed on any other overseas stock exchange.

[Note: Article 2(4) 2003/124/EC]

[deleted]

2.4.2 R

If the rules of another regulated market or overseas stock exchange require an issuer to disclose inside information at a time when a RIS is not open for business it should disclose the information in accordance with DTR 1.3.6R at the same time as it is released to the public in the other jurisdiction.

[deleted]

2.5 Delaying disclosure of inside information

Delaying disclosure

2.5.1 R

An issuer may, under its own responsibility, delay the public disclosure of inside information, such as not to prejudice its legitimate interests provided that:
such omission would not be likely to mislead the public;

any person receiving the information owes the issuer a duty of confidentiality, regardless of whether such duty is based on law, regulations, articles of association or contract; and the issuer is able to ensure the confidentiality of that information.

[Note: Article 6(2) and (3) Market Abuse Directive] [deleted]

2.5.1A EU [article 17(4), (5) and (8) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

Legitimate interests and when delay will not mislead the public...

2.5.3 R For the purposes of applying DTR 2.5.1R, article 17 of the Market Abuse Regulation, legitimate interests may, in particular, relate to the following non-exhaustive circumstances:

(2) decisions taken or contracts made by the management body of an issuer which need the approval of another body of the issuer in order to become effective, where the organisation of such an issuer requires the separation between these bodies, provided that a public disclosure of the information before such approval together with the simultaneous announcement that this approval is still pending would jeopardise the correct assessment of the information by the public. [Note: Article 3(1) 2003/124/EC]

2.5.4 G (1) DTR 2.5.3R(1) DTR 2.5.3G(1) does not allow envisage that an issuer to will:

(a) delay public disclosure of the fact that it is in financial difficulty or of its worsening financial condition and is limited to the fact or substance of the negotiations to deal with such a situation. An issuer cannot; or

(b) delay disclosure of inside information on the basis that its position in subsequent negotiations to deal with the situation will be jeopardised by the disclosure of its financial condition.

(2) The legitimate interest described in DTR 2.5.3R(2) DTR 2.5.3G(2) refers to an issuer with a dual board structure (e.g. a management board and supervisory board if and to the extent that decisions of the management board require ratification by the supervisory board). An issuer with a unitary board structure would be unable to take advantage of DTR 2.5.3R(2) DTR 2.5.3G(2) and, therefore, DTR 2.5.3R(2) DTR 2.5.3G(2) should only be available to a very limited number of issuers in the...
2.5.5 G An issuer should not be obliged to disclose impending developments that could be jeopardised by premature disclosure. Whether or not an issuer has a legitimate interest which would be prejudiced by the disclosure of certain inside information is an assessment which must be made by the issuer in the first instance. However, the FCA considers that, other than in relation to impending developments or matters described in DTR 2.5.3R, DTR 2.5.3G or DTR 2.5.5AR article 17(5) of the Market Abuse Regulation, there are unlikely to be other circumstances where delay would be justified.

2.5.5A R An issuer may have a legitimate interest to delay disclosing inside information concerning the provision of liquidity support by the Bank of England or by another central bank to it or to a member of the same group as the issuer. [deleted]

[Note: article 17(5) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

Selective disclosure

2.5.6 R Whenever an issuer or a person acting on his behalf or for his account discloses any inside information to any third party in the normal exercise of his employment, profession or duties, the issuer must make complete and effective public disclosure of that information via a RIS, simultaneously in the case of an intentional disclosure and as soon as possible in the case of a non-intentional disclosure, unless DTR 2.5.1R applies. [Note: Article 6(3) Market Abuse Directive] [deleted]

2.5.6A EU [article 17(8) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

2.5.7 G (1) When an issuer is permitted to delay public disclosure of inside information in accordance with DTR 2.5.1R it may selectively disclose that information to persons owing it a duty of confidentiality. [deleted]

(2) Such selective disclosure may be made to another person if it is in the normal course of the exercise of his employment, profession or duties. However, selective disclosure cannot be made to any person simply because they owe the issuer a duty of confidentiality. For example, an issuer contemplating a major transaction which requires shareholder support or which could significantly impact its lending arrangements or credit-rating may selectively disclose details of the proposed transaction to major shareholders, its lenders and/or credit-rating agency as long as the recipients are bound by a duty of confidentiality. An issuer may, depending on the circumstances, be justified in disclosing inside information to certain categories of recipient in addition to those employees of the issuer who require the information to perform their functions. The categories of recipient may include, but are not limited to, the following:
2.5.8 G Selective disclosure to any or all of the persons referred to in DTR 2.5.7G may not be justified in every circumstance where an issuer delays disclosure in accordance with DTR 2.5.1R article 17(4) and (5) of the Market Abuse Regulation.

2.5.9 G An issuer should bear in mind that the wider the group of recipients of inside information the greater the likelihood of a leak which will trigger full public disclosure of the information via a RIS under DTR 2.6.2R article 17(8) of the Market Abuse Regulation.

2.6 Control of inside information

Denying access to inside information

2.6.1 R An issuer must establish effective arrangements to deny access to inside information to persons other than those who require it for the exercise of their functions within the issuer. [Note: Article 3(2) 2003/124/EC]

Breach of confidentiality

2.6.2 R An issuer must have in place measures which enable public disclosure to be made via a RIS as soon as possible in case the issuer is not able to ensure the confidentiality of the relevant inside information. [Note: Article 3(2) 2003/124/EC] [deleted]

2.6.2A EU [article 17(7) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

2.6.3 G If an issuer is relying on DTR 2.5.1R article 17(4) or 17(5) of the Market Abuse Regulation to delay the disclosure of inside information it should prepare a holding announcement to be disclosed in the event of an actual or likely breach of confidence. Such a holding announcement should include the details set out in DTR 2.2.9G(2).

2.6.4 G We recognise that an issuer may not be responsible for breach of DTR 2.5.1R article 17(4) or 17(5) of the Market Abuse Regulation if a recipient of inside information under DTR 2.5.1R article 17 of the Market Abuse Regulation breaches his duty of confidentiality.

2.7 Dealing with rumours

2.7.1 G Where there is press speculation or market rumour regarding an issuer, the issuer should assess whether a disclosure obligation arises under DTR 2.2.1R article 17(1) of the Market Abuse Regulation. To do this an issuer will need to carefully assess whether the speculation or rumour has given rise to a situation where the issuer has inside information.

2.7.2 G (1) Where press speculation or a market rumour is largely accurate and the information underlying the rumour is inside information then it is likely that the issuer can no longer delay disclosure in accordance with DTR 2.5.1R as it is no longer able to ensure the confidentiality of the inside information.

(2) An issuer that finds itself in the circumstances described in paragraph (1) should disclose the inside information in accordance with DTR 2.6.2R as soon as possible. [deleted]

[Note: article 17(7) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

2.7.3 G The knowledge that press speculation or market rumour is false is not likely to amount to inside information. Even if it does amount to inside information, the FCA expects that in most of these cases where an issuer would be able to delay disclosure (often indefinitely) in accordance with DTR 2.5.1R article 17(4) or 17(5) of the Market Abuse Regulation.

2.8 Insider lists

Requirement to draw up insider lists

2.8.1 R An issuer must ensure that it and persons acting on its behalf or on its account draw up a list of those persons working for them, under a contract of employment or otherwise, who have access to inside information relating directly or indirectly to the issuer, whether on a regular or occasional basis. [Note: Article 6(3) Market Abuse Directive] [deleted]

2.8.1A EU [article 18(1) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

Providing insider lists to the FCA on request

2.8.2 R If so requested, an issuer must provide to the FCA as soon as possible an insider list that has been drawn up in accordance with DTR 2.8.1R. [Note: Article 6(3) Market Abuse Directive] [deleted]

2.8.2A EU [article 18(1)(c) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

Contents of insider lists

2.8.3 R Every insider list must contain the following information:

(1) the identity of each person having access to inside information;

(2) the reason why such person is on the insider list; and

(3) the date on which the insider list was created and updated. [Note:
2.8.3A EU [article 18(3) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

Maintenance of insider lists

2.8.4 R An insider list must be promptly updated:

(1) when there is a change in the reason why a person is already on the list;

(2) when any person who is not already on the list is provided with access to inside information; and

(3) to indicate the date on which a person already on the list no longer has access to inside information. [Note: Article 5(3) 2004/72/EC] [deleted]

2.8.4A EU [article 18(4) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

2.8.5 R An issuer must ensure that every insider list prepared by it or by persons acting on its account or on its behalf is kept for at least five years from the date on which it is drawn up or updated, whichever is the latest. [Note: Article 5(4) 2004/72/EC] [deleted]

2.8.5A EU [article 18(5) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

2.8.6 G An issuer and not its advisers or agents is ultimately responsible for the maintenance of insider lists. [deleted]

[Note: article 18(2) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

2.8.7 G For the purposes of DTR 2.8.1R an issuer should maintain a list of:

(1) its own employees that have access to inside information;

(2) its principal contacts at any other firm or company acting on its behalf or on its account with whom it has had direct contact and who also have access to inside information about it. [deleted]

[Note: article 18(1)(a) of the Market Abuse Regulation; article 18(2) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

2.8.8 G For the purposes of DTR 2.8.1R it is not necessary for an issuer to maintain a list of all the individuals working for another firm or company acting on its behalf or its account where it has:

(1) recorded the name of the principal contact(s) at that firm or company;

(2) made effective arrangements, which are likely to be based in contract, for that firm or company to maintain (as set out in DTR
2.8.1R, DTR 2.8.3R – DTR 2.8.5R and DTR 2.8.10R) its own list of persons both acting on behalf of the issuer and with access to inside information on the issuer; and

(3) made effective arrangements for that firm or company to provide a copy of its list to the issuer as soon as possible upon request.

Acknowledgement of legal and regulatory duties

2.8.9 R An issuer must take the necessary measures to ensure that its employees with access to inside information acknowledge the legal and regulatory duties entailed (including dealing restrictions in relation to the issuer’s financial instruments) and are aware of the sanctions attaching to the misuse or improper circulation of such information. [Note: Article 5(5) 2004/72/EC and Article 3(2) 2003/124/EC] [deleted]

2.8.9A EU [article 18(2) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

2.8.10 R An issuer must ensure that any person that:

(1) is acting on its behalf or on its account; and

(2) has drawn up an insider list in accordance with DTR 2.8.1R;

has taken the necessary measures to ensure that every person whose name is on the insider list acknowledges the legal and regulatory duties entailed and is aware of the sanctions attaching to the misuse or improper circulation of such information. [Note: Article 5(5) 2004/72/EC] [deleted]

3 Transactions by persons discharging managerial responsibilities and their connected persons

3.1 Purpose

3.1.1 G This chapter sets out contains guidance on certain of the notification obligations of issuers, persons discharging managerial responsibilities and their connected persons under article 19 of the Market Abuse Regulation, in respect of transactions conducted on their own account in shares or debt instruments of the issuer, or derivatives or any other financial instrument relating to those shares.

Notification of transactions by persons discharging managerial responsibilities

3.1.2 R Persons discharging managerial responsibilities and their connected persons, must notify the issuer in writing of the occurrence of all transactions conducted on their own account in the shares of the issuer, or derivatives or any other financial instruments relating to those shares within four business days of the day on which the transaction occurred. [Note: Article 6(4) Market Abuse Directive and Article 6(1) 2004/72/EC] [deleted]

3.1.2-A EU [article 19(1) of the Market Abuse Regulation]

3.1.2A G (1) The Act provides that an individual who is not a director can still be a person discharging managerial responsibilities in relation to an issuer if they are a "senior executive of such an issuer" and they meet the criteria set out in the Act. [deleted]

(2) An individual may be a "senior executive of such an issuer", as defined in article 3(1)(25)(b) of the Market Abuse Regulation, irrespective of the nature of any contractual arrangements between the individual and the issuer and notwithstanding the absence of a contractual arrangement between the individual and the issuer, provided the individual has regular access to inside information relating, directly or indirectly, to the issuer and has power to make managerial decisions affecting the future development and business prospects of the issuer.
